CO. WELFARE BOARD TELLS OF 1945 COSTS

Old-age Recipients Less in Numbers but They Get More Money

PAYMENTS IN COUNTY MORE THAN $100,000

1945 Ended with Substantial Balance, Secy. John X. Lynskey States

Adequate testimony to the liberalization of the old-age assistance laws by the 1945 legislature is found in the fact that while the number of recipents in Pennington county was less than in previous years, they receive more money, it was revealed today in a year-end summary by John X. Lynskey, executive secretary of the county welfare board.

About 350 Pennington county recipients last year received a little over $100,00.00, which compares to about 500 receiving about the same amount in pre-war years. Because much of the liberalization took place late in 1945, it is not yet reflected in these figures. The monthly OAA payroll is now close to $10,000.00, for 300 recipients for an average of over $32.00 each.

The other public assistance programs administered by the welfare board, including aid to dependent children, aid to the blind, and war veterans' relief, followed the same trend during the year of decreasing numbers with increasing expenditures. Total 1945 expenditures will be around $175,000.00.

About $5,000.00 was collected through the courts during 1945 by the welfare board for the support of children. Nineteen OAA lien recipients brought in an additional $10,000.00 during 1945.

At the start of the war, the welfare board reduced its tax levy and was still able to pay off during the war period its entire bonded indebtedness of $22,500.00, and also change an annual deficit into a substantial cash balance at the end of 1945, Mr. Lynskey pointed out.

The chairman has announced the following as his aides and chairmen of committees:

"Poliomyelitis", he pointed out, "is one of the most expensive diseases known to medicine. Hospitalization for a single patient costs more than $2,500 a year. Measuring 17x13 feet and weighing 61,000 pounds, the boiler was too big for the bridges and under passes on the 412-mile direct route by one railroad, so it went 713 miles by four different lines.

December was a pretty rough month hereabouts and if January and February run true to form this is not going to be another mild winter. We have had several mild ones however so we have little reason to complain. Let the winters be tough. It is the winters that determine how well we will live.

The Moscow conference of Big 3 representatives is advertised as having been a harmonious gathering and that augurs well for the bigger conference that is getting under way in London. As long as the three big powers can agree through this difficult period of adjustment there is hope for the world organization. It will not be an easy matter for this organization to establish itself as an authority and a power, and failure on the part of the leading nations to agree would be a difficult handicap to overcome.

This year Uncle Sam isn't going to take quite so big a slice out of our pay check, and maybe we should feel good about that. Tax reduction at this time however does not make us happy. It would have given us a feeling of greater security if taxes had been increased rather than decreased. We would then have had greater confidence in the government's ability to meet its obligations. A half a dozen authorities have assured us that the debt, though huge, can be paid. All the authorities qualify their opinion however by adding "if we have the political courage to tax ourselves." If the debt is to be paid with honest dollars we will have to submit to extremely heavy taxes. The present administration has decided that it will not pay the debt with honest dollars. It has approved a plan of "controlled" inflation, meaning higher wages and higher prices—which will add up to a higher national income. Our dollars, the dollars we saved, will have less value under this plan. It will mean that those who must live on their savings or some form of social security payments, will suffer a loss. Those who can afford it least will suffer most. It was a sorry day for our country when we decided to mortgage the future in order that we might enjoy prosperity. And it is unfortunate that we did not have the "political courage" to tax ourselves during the war years. If Uncle Sam does not soon mend his ways and start draining the green pieces of paper into the federal furnaces through taxation these pieces of paper will eventually be burned by the holders in their own furnaces. It has happened before. It can happen again.

A new administration will assume responsibility for the affairs of our city next Tuesday and to the members of this administration our best wishes for a happy two years. This new administration will find at its disposal several hundred thousand dollars. It will have authority to proceed with an extensive development program. It will also be called upon to provide for a backlog of needs that couldn't be filled because of the war. Few city administrations have been confronted with as many problems as aldermen who take office next week will face. They will earn the increased salaries that become effective this year. We are confident that they will measure up to the expectations of the voters.

It must have been a Scandinavian mail clerk, and a smart one, who figured out that a Christmas card addressed to a lady at "Tiverver", Minnesota was intended for Thief River Falls.

The modern young girl, says Les elson of Mahnomen, may like clothes, but she isn't all wrapped up in them.

1946 may well go down in history as the year when mink wraps for pet dogs were sold in New York at Christmas time.

And have you done your Christmas swapping yet?

Tire dealers find they have more friends than ever, now that rationing is ended.

Well, they were good resolutions while they lasted.

Newspaper publishers got a nice New Years gift in the form of a $6 a ton increase in the price of newsprint.

Speaking of names, if you want to go to the cleaners and get a raw deal, you might patronize Marshall Raw, proprietor of the Appleton, Minnesota, Cleaners.

Eye Accidents

Leading all causes of eye accidents in a recent survey was the commonplace job of chopping wood. A chip of wood flying into an eye caused 15 per cent of all eye injuries. Careless use of scissors, wire, nails, and hammers, and falls around the home were next. On the job accidents resulting in pieces of steel entering the eyeball accounted for 14.4 per cent. Eye injuries in industry, however, are decreasing every year with the use of modern safety devices such as goggles, safety glasses and helmets. Other causes included explosions of bottles and jars, and BB shot. Forty-six children lost the vision of an eye in Chicago alone in the past four years in playtime accidents, hurling sticks or stones.

Strengthen Seam

To strengthen a narrow or loosely stitched seam on an inexpensive garment—a house dress, for example—restitch seam about 1/16 inch deeper. Set machine at 14 to 16 stitches per inch. On a better garment, rip out and restitch any broken, knotty, drawn or crooked stitching. If material frays, run a row of machine stitching near the cut edges.

Rhubarb Pleasing

Rhubarb is at its best when pieces taken from the crowns of old plants. A half dozen pieces of crown are usually enough for a small garden. For best results, rhubarb is given more organic matter than is given most other vegetables.

Seedstalks are removed as soon as they form, because seed bearing greatly weakens the plant. No leaf stems should be harvested before the second year and but few until the third.

The harvest season must be largely confined to early spring, as the plants should be allowed to grow undisturbed during summer.

Yes, there, up there, we'll understand.

ROSEAU DEFEATS TRF HOCKEY TEAM 6-4 ON THURSDAY

Large Crowd Witnesses the Opening Senior Game in Arena

The large crowd that was in attendance at the Arena rink Thursday night saw a strong Roseau Cloverleaf sextet defeat the local senior hockey team, 6 to 4. The Cloverleafs augmented by several Warroad players, moved into the lead in the opening period and held their advantage throughout the bruising contest.

The first period of play was the most interesting and exciting, with both teams making numerous scoring sallies. Roseau, with "Bob Johnson" scoring four goals, two of which were unassisted, gained a 4 to 2 lead. The scoring for the locals was credited to Ray and Harry Oen, with Ray taking a pass from Bill Gray and then whipping the rubber past goalie Ken Austin. Midway in the period, Harry Oen received a pass from Tony Dorn at the Roseau blue-line, and Harry came in to beat Austin with a hard shot.

Lloyd "Pug" Lund, who with Tony Dorn turned in splendid games at defense opened the second period scoring when he picked up a pass from Ivr Wilson and lifted a long shot, from the blue-line, past Austin. Markstrom's counter, just as the period ended, boosted the Roseau lead to two goals, 6 to 2.

Numerous penalties marred the final period, and with Roseau's man-power advantage being in for the Cloverleafs were able to use three lines during the contest, while the locals were forced to rely on two lines. Gray, on a pass from Don Wang, punched in a goal early in the third period; but again boosted the visitor's lead. and defensive hockey maintained Roseau's "Johnson", on a long shot, that advantage for the Cloverleafs until the game's end.

For the Thieves, goalie Johnny Robarge, defensemen Tony Dorn and "Pug" Lund, center Bill Gray, and wings Ray and Harry Oen, played strong games. For the Cloverleaf's, "Bob Johnson" center, and defenseman Cal Marvin were outstanding.

Prowlers Clash Friday with Breckenridge Five

The Prowlers won runners-up honors in the holiday basketball tournament played at East Grand Forks on Thursday and Friday. On Thursday night, in a first round game, the locals defeated East Grand Forks, 26 to 19, while the Grand Forks Maroons were trouncing the Crookston Pirates, 45 to 15. In the championship finals on Friday night, the Prowlers lost to a big, fast-breaking Grand Forks team, 44 to 33.

Tomorrow night the locals meet a strong Breckenridge team on the high school floor, and Coach Don Nelson's "B" team will engage the Plummer team in a preliminary game.

Friday night's game with Glenn Hubbard's Grand Forks team found the locals breaking into an early lead, with Rog Tunberg and Ninak Carlson each getting a pair of field goals, and Ken Borsheim and Brad Hanna connecting for two-pointers, giving the Prowlers a 16 to 8 lead at the end of the first period:

In the second Grand Forks' Pete Simonson, a southpaw, broke through for five field goals, with several of the shots being rebounds. The Prowlers only scores were marked up by Borsheim, on a field goal, and a pair of free throws by Carlson. Grand Forks, through Simonson's individual efforts, gained a 32 to 20 lead at the half.

The third period decided the game, for the Prowlers were able to record only one point while the Maroons, with Bischke and McDermott, doing the bulk of their scoring, spurted to a 30 to 20 lead. And the Maroons added a point to their margin in the final quarter.

Carlson, with 5 points, on three field goals and three free throws, was the game's high point winner.

Thursday night's game against the Green Wave of East Grand Forks was close all the way until the final period when the Prowlers shut-out the East Siders while they were adding six points to the score to win by a 26 to 19 count.

East Grand Forks held a 6 to 5 lead at the end of the opening period of play, but Carlson pushed in five points, on two field goals and a free throw, to give the locals a 12 to 12 tie at the intermission. The Prowlers racked up four field goals in the third period, to gain a 20 to 19 lead as the final quarter began. Carlson accounted for the Prowler scoring—in the final period, getting three field goals.

Carlson, with six field goals and a free throw, was high point for the winner, with Tunberg having four field goals and 8 points.

SR. HOCKEY SIX TO MEET CROOKSTON IN ARENA SUNDAY

Williams Team Whips Locals 10 to Here on New Years Day

The Thieves, the city's senior hockey team, will attempt to break into the win column on Sunday afternoon when they meet the Crookston Pirates on the Arena ice. The face-off is scheduled for 2:30 P. M. After dropping a 5 to 2 game in a return engagement with the Roseau team on the Roseau rink on Sunday afternoon, the locals faced a strong Williams sextet on the Arena rink New Year's day, and the northerners, with Clarence Schmidt accounting for six goals, defeated the Thieves, 10 to 5.

Bill Gray, Connie Stanbridge, and Kenny Jaranson gave the locals an early 3 to 0 lead in the game Tuesday, but Williams, with Schmidt scoring on a solo rush and teaming with Ralph Turner for another goal, came back to tie the score on Turner's long shot from the blue line. Schmidt's rebound shot just at the end of the period gave Williams a 4 to 3 lead.

Bill Gray, with Williams shorthanded, came in close to score in the opening minutes of the second period, knotting the count; but Schmidt's two rapid-fire goals, moved the visitors into the lead. And another pair of goals later in the period, by Lee Turner, gave Williams an 8 to 4 advantage.

In the final stanza, Ralph Turner and Schmidt tallied goals for Williams, while Connie Stanbridge on a neat solo effort, scored the Thieves goal. The locals had numerous chances to add their scoring total, settling up their plays smartly and getting close in shots at the goal, but the puck would bounce off the sticks or the shots would be wide of the net.

H. S. SIX DEFEATS FOSSTON; ROSEAU COMING SATURDAY

Inexperienced Fosston Team Loses to Prowlers by 13 to 1 Score

The Prowlers opened their hockey schedule Saturday night by scoring a decisive 13to 1 win over a young and inexperienced Fosston sextet. On Saturday evening, Jan. 5th on the Arena rink, the locals will meet their strongest rivals for the eighth region's hockey honors, playing Oscar Almquist's Roseau team. Roseau defeated Fosston, 18 to 0, in a game played at Roseau last week, which is evidence that Almquist's squad boasts considerable scoring power.

Controlling the play from the opening face-off, Coach Connie Stanbridge's team piled in seven goals in the opening period of play against Fosston on Saturday night. Les Vigness opened the scoring by pounding in a rebound shot; and a minute later, Swede Lund received Bud Brossoit's rebound and scored from close in. Elroy Skjerping, a one of the graduates from the midget hockey ranks, tallied the third Prowler goal, lifting the rubber into the net with a shot from the red line. Two goals by Wes Hovie, one a long try, a goal by Lund, and a goal by Don Hage concluded the Prowler first period scoring.

The second period, with the Prowlers concentrating on passing plays, and with Fosston bunching their defense in front of the net, was a two-goal stanza, with Brossoit and Hovie getting the counters for the locals.

In the third period, after the Prowlers had increased their total to thirteen goals, Fosston with Howard LePier doing a solo, scored their lone tally. LePier circled the defense and skated in on goalie Ralph Engelstad and scored on a shot that caught the corner of the net.

The Prowler line of Brossoit, Lund, and Skjerping showed to advantage, as did the Vigness, Hovie, and Hage line, with each line accounting for six goals.

The summary:

F. H. S. (13)	vs.	Fosston (1)

The Regional Champs

The high school hockey fans that cram into the Arena Saturday night will see the 1946 eighth regional hockey champions in action when the Prowlers playing the Roseau team, it's a cinch that one or the other of the two sextets will represent this region in thestate tournament in February.

Oscar Almquist, the Roseau mentor, has an all-veteran squad available this year, with twelve boys with hockey experience on the roster, and he believes, with good reason, that this is the turn for Roseau to make the trip to St. Paul. In the two games that the northerners have played, and they were both wins, Roseau rolled up an 18 to 0 score on Fosstoy, and then edged out a strong Stany River team.

With such players in the lineup as Bob Harris, Lowell Elvin, Rube Bjorkman, Jim Oveson, Ray Baumgartner, Georg Peterson, Tom Buran, Vern Johnson, and others and most of the boys have been under Almquist's coaching since they were in the eighth grade, Roseau has a nifty and well-balanced club.

But Coach Connie Stanbridge's Prowlers aren't exactly in the push-over class either, for with Bud Brossoit, Les Vigness, Wes Hovie, Swede Lund, Dan Hage, and Roy Amundson up in the front lines, the locals are a goal getting outfit. Connie has been having some difficulty in balancing his lines and bringing some strength to the defense, Saturday night he had Wes Hovie putting some time back on defense with Al Thompson. And it was evident that the Brossoit, Lund, and Skjerping line was the most polished in its passing, and what was due to a large extent to Bud's fine play. Bud, with new skates, should be in for his best year.

They Have a Toughie, Too

And the basketball Prowlers are in for some strong opposition tomorrow night, with Coach Hanna's boys meeting the Breckenridge team on the high school floor. Since losing center Ronnie Hanson from the squad—the lanky Prowler was forced to give up basketball for awhile at least, because of low blood pressure—the Prowlers have been handicapped in their rebound work. If Hanson had been in the lineup, it's possible that the Prowlers would have beaten Erskine last week, for the winning points, scored by Skogerboe, were registered on under-the- basket rebound shots.

Coach Hanna, in an attempt to get more scoring punch in the front line, has been using Ninak Carlson at center, and the hot-shot Prowler guard may see considerable action up there. Kenny Borsheim and Johnny Powell, the forwards, are erratic in their basket shooting, for the two boys are able to get numerous shots at the goal, and in practice they drop in a good percentage of the shots, but they "tighten" up in a game.

They'll Win One

The Thieves are certainly having their difficulties in getting on the long end of the scores in their senior hockey games. But they'll win one soon, for they won't continue to run into teams having such hot-shots as Dick Roberts and Clarence Schmidt. Roberts, a Warroad boy playing with the Roseau club, was the factor that gave the Cloverleafs their two wins over the locals; and Schmidt, a former member of the Boston Olympics and once the property of the Boston Bruins, was the goal-getter that nudged the Thieves into the losing column on Tuesday.

Incidentally, Roberts told me that the local boys are going to like the new high school faculty member, Bernard Broderick, who will assist Connie Stanbridge in coaching the Prowler hockey team, was formerly at Warroad, and Roberts said he got his first hockey supervision from Broderick, and that it was largely through his efforts that hockey got started at Warroad.

Local Independent Cage Team Defeats Warroad Sextet 39 to 38 Friday

After trailing by a n.15 to 4 score at the end of the first period, a team of local independent basketball players rallied to edge out the Warroad 66's, 39 to 38, in a game played on the Warroad floor Friday night. Wally Tunberg, with three field goals and a pair of free throws was the high scorer for the locals, with Loren "Bones" Stadum and Don "Pete" Michalsky each having seven points for runner-up honors.

Making the trip and participating in the game were the following local boys: "Bones" Stadum, Jess DuChamp, Wes Purrell, Lenny Lorentson, "Blackie" Stephens, Homer Matheson, Don Michalsky, and Wally Tunberg.

Lumber Manufacturing

The lumber manufacturing industry is made up of 38,895 individual units. WHEN WILL ALL OF '45 HOLIDAY MAIL SHOW UP?

St. Paul—When Helen Blake thanked Ann Swain for her Christmas card, Ann said she hadn't sent any out yet. Helen produced the card just received, and Ann identified it as having been mailed in 1943. What with this year's traffic jam, some 1945 Holiday greetings may be showing up in 1955. Nearly 40,000 pieces of third-class mail, mostly Christmas cards, were destroyed in Minneapolis because of faulty addresses.

Among the resolutions discussed and adopted by the members were those in favor of the extension of the REA, the continuation of the exemption of cooperatives and mutuals from income tax, that farm labor cost be included in determining parity price for farm products, a more equitable distribution and sale of government surplus property, the continuation of the AAA soil conservation program with more local direction and control, the termination of consumer's subsidies with the difference in price to be paid at the market place, the continuation of the program to assist and advise returning veterans interested in farming, consolidation of farm agencies and a resolution to the effect that the price of butter be adjusted to conform with the price of butter fat in other milk products.

County Agent, Ernest Palmer reported on the county hospital service program and stated that several families have enrolled this year and that practically all of the old members were continuing in the program.

"I" PRESIDENT TO ADDRESS EDITORS AT STATE SESSION

Dr. J. L. Morrill Will Speak January 18 in Lowry Hotel, St. Paul

Organized in January 1867, Minnesota Editorial association will hold its 80th annual convention, and what promises to be the largest in its history, at the Lowry Hotel in St. Paul Friday and Saturday January 18-19.

An address by Dr. James Lewis Morrill, new president of the University of Minnesota, will feature the dinner meeting at 6:30 Friday evening in the grand ballroom of the Lowry. His challenging subject is "Pattern for Peace".

Highlight of the first day's sessions will be a complimentary lunch to the entire convention by Land O'Lakes Creameries Inc. in the famous Lowry Terrace Cafe. Principal speaker will be W. E. Dahlquist, first vice president of Minnesota Editorial association, who represented the association as a guest of the British government in England and went on the Continent last June and July when President Schoniau was unable to get away for the lengthy trip. Mr. Dahlquist will describe his first hand impressions of the war-ravaged European countries under the title "Seeing is Believing."

Either at the noon or the evening meeting John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries Inc., will have a brief message on current agricultural problems, depending upon his availability in a constantly busy schedule.

President G. L. Schoniau presides during the morning and at the noon meeting. Vice President Dahlquist takes over for the afternoon, which begins with a thorough discussion of fire hazards, losses, protection, and insurance. MEA members who have suffered fire losses in recent months, and a widely experienced Minneapolis insurance executive, Wheaton Williams of the Fred L. Gray Co., will guide this important session.

The 80th annual banquet of the Association begins at 6:30 in the grand ballroom of the Lowry, with President Schoniau as toastmaster. A representative of the St. Paul Association of Commerce will extend a welcome to the visiting journalists, responded to by First Vice President Dahlquist. It is hoped, though not certain, that Governor Thye will be able to attend and say a few words.

Following Dr. Morrill's address Paul, president John E. Casey, Andan Independent, will present the Past President's golden emblem to Mr. Schoniau, after which dancing to the music of Hal McIntyre and his orchestra will be enjoyed until 12:30.

The Saturday morning session will be devoted entirely to reports of MEA committees adoption of resolutions, and the election of association officers for 1946.

DR. J. L. MORRILL

President of the University of Minnesota, who will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Minnesota Editorial association in the Lowry hotel, St. Paul, Friday, January 18.

LOCAL OPA BOARD WILL NOT HANDLE SUGAR RATIONING

District Office at Fargo to Take over Rationing Functions

Local boards, now designated as price control boards are out of the picture *as far as rationing is con*cerned, according to Charles L. Hughes, district rationing executive at Fargo.

Ration books for sugar, the only item still rationed, can only be obtained from the district office, Hughes said. This applies to returning veterans, new-born infants or to individuals seeking to replace lost or mutilated books.

In addition, only the office issues rations to servicemen on leave or furlough, to persons requiring additional sugar because of illness and to special categories, such as beekeepers. Hughes explained that beekeepers are granted allotments because late in winter if sometimes is necessary to use sugar as bee food.

Application forms may be obtained from local boards or the district office in Fargo.

Hughes called attention to the fact that retailers and wholesalers may apply up to Feb. 10 for replenishment of their sugar inventories. Application may be by letter and must show hardship resulting from operating with depleted stocks.

On motion of Alderman Petersen, seconded by Alderman McLeod and carried the meeting was declared adjourned to December 28th, 1945 at eight o'clock P. M.

EMIL GRIESHABER,
President of the Council.
Attest: P. G. PEDERSON,
City Clerk.

Mayor Douville returned unsigned that certain resolution passed and adopted by the City Council on November 13, 1945, which provided for the leasing of a plane hangar and a certain tract of airport land for a period of ten years to the Thief River Falls Chapter of National Aeronautics Association, with his objections thereto, as follows:

December 19, 1945.

Mr. P. G. Pederson, City Clerk
Re: The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota.
Gentlemen:

I am returning to you herewith, the resolution by the City Council dated November 13, 1945, relating to the leasing of the Airport Hangar and the adjacent grounds to the Thief River Falls Chapter of National Aeronautics Association for a period of ten (10) years, without my approval and without my signature for the following reasons, viz:

1st. There is no great hurry about this matter and it can well and properly be left for the consideration of the incoming council if they should deem it desirable to enter into any lease.

2nd. The City at this time, as I understand, does not own the hangar itself, and we should not attempt to lease what we do not at this time own. The resolution is vague and indefinite in that it does not clearly show whether it is intended to lease the hangar and also the land, or only the real estate.

3rd. I do not believe it is good policy at this time to tie up any of our city property with a lease to a private concern for such a long period of time to ten years. Conditions are changing rapidly in these times and the City might want to own and operate its own municipal airport before the ten years are up. See my message and letter dated June 4th, 1945 upon the proposition of a lease for ten years.

Yours Very Truly,
A. J. DOUVILLE,
Mayor.

No further action was taken by the Council to re-pass the resolution over objections and the Mayor's veto was thereupon declared effectual and the resolution failed of adoption.

Application was presented for transfer as to ownership of license to sell 3.2% beer at 202 LaBree Avenue North, signed by Henry Plettert and Elmer Pooler, license to be transferred from the former to the latter. No action was taken in the matter due to the shortness of time in which the license committee could investigate such application and bring in a report and it was therefore ordered tabled.

Harlan G. Bailey, operating a bus service under a temporary permit was present and presented evidence of insurance in connection with the operation of his operating unit, property damage $5,000, public liability $10,000 per person, $20,000 per accident, on 1938 GMC bus, Motor No. ACS 304-6277, which policy was approved by the City Attorney. He also requested that he be allowed in the a 35 foot space East of the alley of Block 30, G. T. on Third Street for a bus stop and, in the absence of a regulatory ordinance, he asked that his temporary permit be extended pending the enactment of such ordinance. Alderman Petersen moved that such insurance coverage be accepted and the policy filed that the Police Department be directed to properly designate a bus stop at the location requested and that his temporary operating permit be continued. The motion was seconded by Alderman Rinkel and such motion was declared carried and adopted.

Public liability and property damage insurance coverage was presented by H. L. Lee, on $50,000/$100,000 covering cars operated in taxi service, 1-1947 sedan, serial 3C8F3C, Motor No. 7-7613 to Nov. 4, 1946 and 1-1941 Plymouth sedan, serial 9C8F3C, Motor 2280 to November 15, 1946 and the same was approved by the City Attorney. Alderman Rinkel moved that such coverage be accepted and that the policies be filed by the Clerk. The motion was seconded by Alderman Petersen and the same was thereupon declared passed and adopted.

Alderman Rinkel moved that the Clerk be directed to instruct the Manager of the Sports Arena to collect payment out of Arena Funds covering purchase of ice shaving and maintenance equipment, bills for the which were on file in the office of such manager.

There being no further business before the Board the meeting was declared adjourned.

EMIL GRIESHABER,
President of the Council.
City Clerk.

Russell Olson, secretary of the Civic & Commerce Association, is conducting a survey of the housing needs of the community and all people who are now confronted with a housing problem are requested to give him the information as to their needs. Mr. Olson's survey should make it possible to estimate quite accurately what the immediate needs are. It will also make it possible to determine roughly how many families can be housed in temporary dwellings if they can be provided. This is a problem that cannot be solved by waving a magic wand. The reason why more homes are not now under construction is the shortage of materials and these cannot be supplied suddenly. The survey is a step in the right direction however. Steps are being taken to speed construction of temporary shelters and if enough people will consent to this kind of housing for the time being the condition may be greatly relieved. It will be interesting to get the reactions of those who are in need of homes.

Butterfat is the center of a national controversy. Not enough butterfat is being converted into butter because the ceiling price of butter is less favorable than the ceiling price of several other dairy products. Naturally the fat goes into those products that bring the most profitable return. In order to increase butter production it is now proposed that the ceiling price be raised sufficiently to enable manufacturers to get as big a return for fat in this form as they get for it in other products. The present condition is just another example of the result of government tinkering with the law of supply and demand. Every time the brain trusters solve one problem they create a couple of new ones.

American soldiers are staging demonstrations in both Europe and Asia protesting against the recently announced slow-down in discharges. Their position is easy to understand. Many of them had been given assurance of an early return to their homes. Announcement that discharge schedules had been reconsidered and that it would be necessary to keep many of them in service longer than it was previously thought necessary must have been very discouraging news. President Truman says the delay is necessary and there is no reason to believe he would favor an order so unpopular unless he were satisfied as to the necessity. The order was pretty blunt however and the men who are anxious to get home have the sympathy of all who are anxious to have them home, and that includes just about all of us.

An advance in steel prices to offset an advance in wages may avert the steel strike scheduled for next week. If the strike is not averted and all of the steel mills in the country close down then industry in all forms can just as well take a holiday. The situation is not funny. Our guess is that the strike will be settled before any serious tie-up develops. The consequences of a nearly complete industrial shut-down would be so disastrous and so far reaching that the government eventually would have to intervene. It is not likely that the government will permit such a condition to develop. The net result probably will be that a government will give ground on its price front again and inflation will be a little farther advanced.

1916—THIRTY YEARS AGO

Negotiations are under way between the postoffice department and the electric line designed to improve the mail service to Goodridge from Thief River Falls.—Governor W. S. Hammond dropped dead in a hotel in Louisiana, where he had been spending a few days.—La grippe is prevalent in the city.—A. L. 1936—TEN YEARS AGO

Building permits aggregating almost $200,000 were issued in this city in 1935, the new postoffice structure being the largest single project.—W. W. Powell took over the mayor's office from F. A. PUBLIC OPINION

Dear Editor:

Allow me space in the public forum to make a few remarks concerning a very important dead line.

The Red Lake Electric Coop. is now preparing maps which will be forwarded to Washington for additional money to construct electric transmission lines through out this territory. The maps will be approved in accordance to the needed density of members per mile and unless you are sure your neighbor has signed up I would ask all my neighbors if they now are in line with their membership so as not to be left off just on account of a neglect in signing up in time.

For the convenience of any one desiring additional information in regards to the R. E. A. and for those who as yet haven't signed up, I will be available and present all day Saturday, Jan. 12th and Monday, Jan. 14th, at the County Agents office, in Thief River Falls. I'll be at Holt Cry. all day Tuesday, Jan. 15; at Middle River Cry. Wednesday, Jan. 16th.

Let's all lead our cooperation in this matter, so in as short a time as possible every farm in this county might be electrically energized.

Yours for more electric service throughout Rural America.—Paul Engelstad.

Chinese Farm Output

A survey of China's agricultural products shows that prior to the Sino-Japanese war in 1937, China was the world's leading producer of the following crops: rice with an annual production of 105,000,000,000 pounds or 2,250,000,000 bushels, soybeans 220,000,000 bushels, sorghum 300,000,000 bushels, millet 300,000,000 bushels and sweet potatoes 700,000,000 bushels. China was also the world's leading producer of vegetable oils and tung oil. China ranked second in the world's output of wheat with 900,000,000 bushels annually, and third in cotton, with 4,550,000 bales. China was an important producer of corn, tobacco, fruits and vegetables, and cane sugar.

Wood Waste

The quantity of wood fiber that is total waste under present conditions is enormous. In the Douglas fir region of the West coast more than 2,000,000 tons of such material annually goes into the big refuse burners at the mills. Nation-wide the waste is in excess of 50,000,000 tons each year. In Oregon alone, 50,000,000 gallons of alcohol could be produced annually from sawdust and other wood waste taken from only a dozen of the larger mills.

Locals Will Go to Crookston Friday for a Return Engagement

The Crookston Pirates, with Bill Medved and Gene Panzer directing the play, defeated the local senior sextet, 3 to 1, in a well-played game here Sunday afternoon. The Thieves are slated to play a return game with the Pirates at Crookston on Friday night.

The Pirates notched their first goal midway in the opening period when blond Bill Medved recovered a rebound in front of the local net and punched in the score with the Thieves' goalie, Maldment, not having a chance to make the save. The Pirates increased their lead in the second stanza when Sullivan back-handed a rebound shot past Maldment, and Noah, after recovering the puck behind the Thieves net, sent out a pass to Louis Schrader in front of the locals goal, and Schrader pounded the disc into the laces.

The locals averted a shutout when they marked up their lone goal in the final minutes of the third period. Lloyd "Pug" Lund, the Thieves burly defenseman, intercepted a Pirate "Clearing" pass near the penalty shot line and Pug's shot for the goal beat the Crookston goal-tender.

Tony Dorn, Pug Lund, and Connie Stanbridge played stellar games for the losers; while Crookston's Bill Medved was the Pirates' chief threat.

The summary:

T. R. Falls (3)—yrs.	Crookston (3)
Maldment	goal — G. Schraeder
Borg	defense — Panzer
Lund	defense — Noah

Prowlers Drop Lively Tilt to Breckenridge

Inability to convert on free throw attempts—the locals made good on five tries while missing sixteen chances—cost the Prowlers a highly-waged game with the green-shirted Breckenridge team Friday night, with Coach Hanna's five losing by a 35 to 33 score. In the preliminary game, Coach Don Nelson's 'B' team, with Al Williamson Marlow Davidson, Len Aas, and Palmer Ronholm doing the bulk of the scoring, defeated the Plummer team, 44 to 25. This week the Prowler 'A' and 'B' squads journey to East Grand Forks, meeting the district champion Green Wave five in a district contest.

Friday night's excitment was crammed into the second half, with the Prowlers, after trailing by a 19 to 15 score at the half-time intermission, rallying in the third period to force into the lead. Left-handed Bob Thompson, a sophomore forward, was instrumental in giving Coach Bert Lent's Breckenridge team their first half advantage, for the black-haired forward looped four-field goals into the west goal getting his first basket in the opening seconds of play.

Breckenridge opened the second half with Bob Schuter scoring on a set-up and after Johnny Powell and Kenny Ronhelm had counted two-pointers for the Prowlers, Hanson, Louis Johnson and Schuter popped in field goals to boost the Breckenridge lead to 27 to 19. Reg Tunberg tossed in a free throw, and then received a pass from Carlson and lifted a one-handed shot into the basket. Borsheim scored on a one-handed try, and then added two points on a sleeper play. Ninak Carlson drove in on a dribble to score, giving the Prowlers a 28 to 27 lead; and Carlson's long shot from mid-court, added two points to Prowler margin.

After Louis Johnson had opened the final period scoring with a Breckenridge free throw, Borsheim, on another "sleeper" play, tallied a Prowler field goal, giving the locals a 32 to 28 lead with four minutes to play. Schuler's one-hand shot from the lane pared the Prowler lead. Carlson carried up the final Prowler point on a free throw; but John Pezalla's tip-in shot carried Breckenridge to within a point of the locals. And Ron Jackson's free throw knotted the score at 32 to 32. Bob Thompson's field goal, from the circle, scored the winning points for the visitors with a minute to play. The final seconds of the game was filled with orratic play, with both teams striving for possession of the ball.

For the Prowlers, Kenny Borsheim, with six field goals and Ninak Carlson, with five field goals and a pair of free throws, led the scoring. Bob Thompson's ten points, on five field goals, was the high scorer for the visitors.

H. S. SIX DEFEATS ROSEAU; TO PLAY CATHEDRAL JAN. 12

Soft Ice Handicaps Contest With Roseau Saturday Evening

In a game that was handicapped by slow ice, which hampered the passing plays of both teams and caused much bodily contact, the Prowlers defeated a strong Roseau sextet, 5 to 3, on the arena rink Saturday night, January 12. The locals continue to engage top-flight competition this week, meeting the all-veteran Crookston Cathedral Blue Wave Saturday night, and on Tuesday the Prowlers travel to Roseau for a return encounter with Roseau.

Saturday night's game with Roseau was a tense affair, with both teams "up" and anxious to post a win. The first period, which was played cautiously, was scoreless until the final three minutes of play when Les Vigness, the Prowlers' blond center ice, carried the puck into the Roseau zone and then uncorked a kick shot from just inside the blue line and beat Roseau's goalie for the score.

Playing their best hockey, the Prowlers rammed in a pair of goals in the second period, with Wes Hovie being on the recording end of both tallies. Hovie's first tally, which occured following a scramble for a loose puck in front of the Roseau net, was a close in shot that Schille did not have a chance to stop, Hovie's second counter, and the Prowlers third score, came with two minutes of play remaining in the period, with Wes lifting a long shot from his own blue line and which Schille misjudged and permitted to slide into the net. With feeling between the two clubs running high, the period was marred by numerous penalties meted out by referee Bill Gray.

Roseau, with nine minutes to play in the third period racked up their lone goal when Jim Oveson, from the Prowlers penalty shot line, slapped a bounding puck at Goalie Ralph Engelstad, and the bounding rubber eluded the Prowler net-minder and glanced in for a score. In the final minutes of play, the Prowlers, with Vigness Brossoit, and Lund on the front line, and Hovie and Thompson on defense, controlled the play and threatened to add a goal or two for the locals total.

Hovie, Brossoit, and Vignessa turned in first-rater performances for the Prowlers; while Bob Harris Rube Bjorkman, and Ray Baumgartner were the most effective players for Coach Almquist's squad.

More of the Same

Those hockey fans who enjoyed the style of play that Roseau and the Prowlers exhibited last Saturday night are due for some more of the same kind of entertainment on Saturday night when the veteran Crookston Cathedral Blue Wave skates out on the Arena rink to exchange body-checks with the locals. The fact is Cathedral may provide the Prowlers with more competition that did Roseau, and if that's the case, it wouldn't be an upset if the Blue Wave won. Cathedral, with such players as Johnny Noah, Bud Schraeder, Spanky Sullivan, Bud Salem and others in the line-up, has a fast skating and rugged team, with only a lack of capable reserves as a "weakness".

Johnny Noah has been with the Blue Wave hockey squad for at least four years and in that time the big, good-natured center-ice and defenseman has developed into one of the state's best prep hockey players. And in goalie Bud Schraeder the Blue Wave has another four-year veteran, for Bud has been in the Cathedral nets as long as the memory holds and he, too is one of the region's best net minders.

P. S., and extra special Whether or not the Blue Wave vs. Prowler game will be as nip-and-tuck as expected depends on the solution of the eligibility problem that four of the Cathedral players have to solve. The latest reports indicate that those four boys, and they're the bulwarks of the Cathedral sextet, are due to be declared ineligible. If such happens to befall, the Prowlers shouldn't have much of a trouble on Saturday night. The boys who are in difficulty are Johnny Noah, Spanky Sullivan, Bud Schraeder, and Bud Salem; but it's hoped that some means can be found to permit the boys to play against the Prowlers without jeopardizing the eligibility status of the locals.

Still Holds

Saturday night's Roseau vs. Prowlers' game, which Stanbridge's team won by a 3 to 1 score, only furthered the contention that one of those two teams will represent this region in the state meet. It's unfortunate that some of the Roseau fans had a grievance after the game, maintaining that the contest, with the rivalry between the two clubs as keen as it is, should have had two officials on the ice. It was understood that Homer "Ace" Gilbertson, from Roseau, was to have assisted referee Bill Gray, but icy roads prevented Homer from arriving in the city.

The First Entry

Ole "Filtration Plant" Ness has made the year's first entry in the big fish contest, coming in with a 14 pound northern pike that he speared Saturday morning. Ole, who has a fish house below the dam, was using a home-made decoy, which had been fashioned out of a piece of galvanized pipe and carrying a red-and-white color scheme, when the big northern hove into sight. Ole had the fish up on exhibit at the Soo Cafe before it had quit wiggling.

Spare the Pins

And that's what the boys have been doing, for they have racking up strikes, and in clusters. On Friday night, and to prove that he behaved himself during the New Year's holidays, Ed Carlson of the Hartz Bakery put together games of 236,221, and 204 for a 671 total, and a new-three game record for the City League. And on Sunday afternoon, in an informal match, Johnny Jaranson rolled a single game score of 271, having a string of eight consecutive strikes.

It worth a mention, too, to record that on Monday afternoon Ed Karwand defeated Fred Lorentson in three games. That doesn't happen very often.

Miscellany

Lloyd "Sonny" Johnson, center ice player on last year's Prowler hockey team, and now a sailor on board the U. S. S. Kittyhawk, was in New York on leave this past week, and he witnessed the Rangers vs Detroit Red Wings hockey game, and which was won by the Wings, 3 to 2—And the other Lloyd Johnson, who was center ice in the Mouse and Johnny Erteland line, is home on furlough Lloyd is in the army, and he plans on reenlisting.—Morris "Mouse" Erteland, according to latest reports, is down with an attack of malaria and is hospitalized in California.

New York City's subway system is the largest passenger carrying railroad in the world, 5,710,000 fares being collected every day as 7,000 trains speed over 740 miles of subterranean track.

Trailers Important

Importance of trailers for use in helping to move the vast quantities of supplies required by the armed forces is emphasized by Fred Boynton in "Industrial Finishing." In order to render it more difficult for the enemy to detect them, as well as for protection against damage or destruction by rust, the military trailers are painted with a lusterless olive drab paint over a priming coat for the usual army use, but for some other branches of the service a slightly different color may be used.

Energy Foods

The housewife should not feel apologetic if she serves dried pea or bean dishes several times a week because these legumes rate nearest lean meat, eggs, milk and cheese as body builders, declare home demonstration agents. And the edible soybean, which can be purchased either in the form of flour, canned, or as a dried bean, rates highest nutritionally in the family of legumies. Dried peas and beans are inexpensive energy foods and contain important minerals.

A "Look at the Books"
OR
"A Finger in the Pie"?

Which is the UAW-CIO really after? Is it seeking facts—or new economic power? Does it want to know things—or run things?

These questions concern you as well as General Motors.

For years the facts about General Motors have been made public.

In spite of this, the UAW-CIO demands a chance to look at our books, with the hint that we could meet Union demands "if the truth were really known."

We have firmly declined to recognize this as a basis for bargaining:

1. The Full Facts are Published

How much General Motors takes in each year—how much it pays employes—how much it pays to stockholders—how much it pays in taxes—how much net profit we make—and many other facts are plainly stated in annual reports and quarterly reports.

These are broadcast to 425,000 stockholders from coast to coast—sent to newspapers and libraries. Additional copies are free for the asking.

2. All Figures are Thoroughly Checked

Every General Motors annual statement is audited by outside auditors. Similar figures are filed with the Securities & Exchange Commission.

Does the UAW-CIO honestly believe that General Motors would or could deceive these experts?

3. Basis of Collective Bargaining is Defined

The Wagner Act lays down the rules for collective bargaining. These cover such areas as rates of pay, hours of work, working conditions.

No mention is made of earnings, prices, sales volume, taxes and the like. These are recognized as the problems of management.

4. Something New has been Added

The obvious fact is that the UAW-CIO has gone beyond its rights under the law—and is reaching not for information but for new power—not for a look at past figures, but for the power to sit in on forecasting and planning the future.

A "look at the books" is a clever catch phrase intended as an opening wedge whereby Unions hope to pry their way into the whole field of management.

It leads surely to the day when Union bosses, under threat of strike, will demand the right to tell what we can make, when we can make it, where we can make it, and how much we must charge you—all with an eye on what labor can take out of the business, rather than on the value that goes into the product.

5. This Threatens All Business

If the Union can do this in the case of General Motors, it can do it to every business in this land of ours.

Is this just imagination? Union spokesmen have said, "The Union has stated time after time that this issue is bigger than just an ordinary wage argument, that it is bigger than the Corporation and bigger than the Union."

For Labor Unions to use the monopolistic power of their vast membership to extend the scope of wage negotiations to include more than wages, hours and working conditions is the first step toward handing the management of business over to the Union bosses.

We therefore reject the idea of a "look at the books" not because we have anything to hide but because the idea itself hides a threat to GM, to all business, and to you, the public.

GARDEN VALLEY PHONE COMPANY ADJUSTS WAGES

Salary Increases for This Year Will Aggregate About $4,000

The Garden Valley Telephone Company is dipping into its coffers the coming year for an additional $4,000 to be given to its employees in the form of wage increases. According to Carl M. Ostby, general manager, the increases range from $2.00 to $25.00 per month, says the Bagley Farmers Independent.

Increases were granted after a study had been made of the salary situation in 24 other companies in the state. The raises were designed to equalize somewhat the wages paid throughout the Garden Valley system and also to bring the local wages up to average for the state.

Telephone operators in Winger, Plummer, Oklee, Mentor, McIntosh, Leonard, Gully, Goodridge, Gonvick, Erskine, Clearbrook, Beltrami and St. Hilaire were given raises. Those in Fosston, Bagley, Red Lake Falls and Fertile were left approximately as they have been as the scale of pay in these towns compares favorably with the wages paid by other companies. However, all employees of the company including the operators in the above towns, were given a $10.00 bonus.

Increases in salary were also made retroactive to September 1 so that the lower bracket employees were somewhat compensated for inequalities which have existed for some time.

All line men were raised 5% per hour and this with the 48 hour week means an increase of $10.40 per month.

MORE PATIENTS IN HOSPITALS WHILE STAFFS DECREASE

More Old People Being Cared for, State Association Reveals

An end-of-the-year hospital survey conducted by the council on public education of the Minnesota Hospital association, shows a general increase in the number of patients Minnesota hospitals handled in 1945, and indicate a slight increase in the number of births. The survey also notes a marked upsurge in the number of older persons using hospitals while, at the same time, hospital staffs have diminished.

According to Dr. Will A. O'Brien chairman of the council, the increase in amount of illness this year, the prevalence of better economic conditions, and the expansion of such prepayment plans as the Minnesota Blue Cross plan have all contributed to the increase in the number of persons seeking hospital care in 1945. With the continued shortages in hospital staffs, the hospital situation will probably remain critical for some time to come.

"For the first 11 months of 1945" Dr. O'Brien said, "Minnesota hospitals report increases in patient loads varying from one to 37 per cent over the number of patients cared for in 1944. Birthrate increases range up to 50 per cent.

"While nearly all hospitals which participated in the survey reported a marked increase in the number of old people being admitted, the most noteworthy increase was experienced by the Winona General hospital in Winona, where according to the average dailycensus, old people constituted 20 per cent of the hospital's patients.

"On the other side of the picture," continued Dr. O'Brien, "hospital staffs have decreased as much as 50 per cent in some hospital, and all hospitals are suffering their greatest shortages in the nursing field. Furthermore, with nurses returning slowly from military services, with many of them continuing to serve in the Veterans' Administration, and others on terminal leave, the civilian situation is likely to continue critical for a good while yet."

MINNESOTA DEBT CUT 57 MILLION IN SEVEN YEARS

Present Debt Is $72,414,000, Says State Treasurer J. A. Schmahl

Aided by new policies of financial management, Minnesota's state officials cut $6,880,153 off the state debt during 1945, State Treasurer Julius Schmahl reported this week and up to $57, 373, 419 the reduction that has been made in the state debt during the past seven years.

Minnesota's debt amounted to $129,787,660 on December 31, 1938. The total had been cut to $72,414,241 on December 31, 1945, Schmahl's report showed.

Minnesota's officials and legislators have been able to effect this big reduction, Governor Edward J. Thye pointed out, not meerely because they have paid off the debts when they became due, but largely because they managed the state's funds carefully and gradually reduced new borrowing to finance state costs.

A new milestone was reached in 1945 when the legislature, approving a recommendation of the governor, for the first time arranged to pay relief costs out of current revenue instead of borrowing and even went so far as to arrange to pay for $7,150,000 in public buildings and improvements out of current receipts, appropriations always financed in the past through borrowing.

The new financial managements plan adopted in 1939 has been a big factor contributing to a reduction of the debt, Governor Thye said, providing, as it does, effective controls to prevent deficits and curb unecessary spending. Increased returns from many of the earnings likewise have helped.

High School Students Are Invited to Compete for College Scholarship

Minnesota high school boys and girls can vie for a $4000 scholarship in any institution of higher learning of their choice in the annual American Legion oratorical contest throughout February and March, Joseph Kise, Moorhead, state Americanism chairman of the Legion has revealed.

Other prizes are scholarships totaling $750, $500, and $250.

Contests in local communities will be sponsored by local American Legion posts and Auxiliary units, winners going to district contests and winners from these, in turn going to the state contest at Hamline University on March 22.

Organized to promote the study of American history and the American form of government, the contest this year will concentrate on subjects dealing with the Constitution. Judges have been instructed to give more consideration to contestants discussing such subjects than to those who speak on emotional topics based on current events.

Students desiring to enter the contest, Mr. Kise said, should contact their speech or English teacher who can procure the information from the school superintendent who has complete data on the contest.

WONDER IF TRANSLATOR CENSORS THE LETTERS?

Farmington—Emery Hall can't read his wife's letters. While with the army overseas he married an Italian girl. Regulations wouldn't permit her, to accompany him home. She writes to him in fluent Italian, which a St. Paul school official translates for Mr. Hall, who hopes to bring his wife to this country in the spring—and teach her English.

Oppose Sulfonamide Use To Treat Common Colds

"We are opposed to the routine use of sulfonamides in the treatment of the common cold but would favor their use in a few selected cases as a protection against severe secondary infection," Russell L. Cecil, M. D., New York; Maj. Norman Plummer, Medical Corps, Army of the United States, and Wilson G. Smillie, M. D., New York, declared in the Journal of the American Medical Association. Their statement is based on results obtained in a study made to determine the effects of small doses by mouth of sulfadiazine on the bacteria in the nose and upper throat of persons suffering from an acute cold, and to ascertain, if possible, the indications for the use of sulfonamide treatment in upper respiratory tract infection that frequently follows colds, estimating the benefits to be expected in such cases from this treatment.

Seventy-two colds in different persons were followed clinically and bacteriologically; 49 received sulfadiazine 3.0 grams daily by mouth for four days, while 24 served as controls.

Following sulfadiazine, the bacteria in the nose and upper throat as observed by serial cultures showed a uniform decrease in total number of organisms and a check in the growth of disease-causing organisms.

The clinical course of the treated colds showed no striking difference from that of the controls," the three investigators say; "however, there appeared to be some amelioration of symptoms due to control of secondary bacterial infection."

The Thief River Falls territory is in good condition, prospects are bright—our year-end statement shows that. Now it's up to all of us as individuals. For 1946, resolve to plan carefully, spend wisely, build good credit, help avoid inflation... and be sure to set something aside for tomorrow from your earnings of today.

Here are five BIG reasons for joining the March of Dimes, January 14-31. The Big Five—Gerald Delph, Fred Pommits, James McCormick, Thomas Kenny and Richard Kreese—were stricken with infantile paralysis in the New Jersey epidemic of last summer.

This hydrotherapy tank, important in the modern treatment of poliomyelitis, is used to give under-water exercise to affected muscles—taking one boy at a time! Just for fun, the boys pretend it's the old swimmin' hole.

Your contribution to the March of Dimes helps put boys like these back in the swim.

Blue Lights on Highway Mean Time to Slow Down, Says Highway Bulletin

If you see blue lights in the highway, slow down: This is the warning of the Minnesota highway department to drivers using trunk highways during the winter months. A blue light indicates that you are approaching a snow-plow or a sanding truck, probably moving slowly or standing still. Blue lights are mounted both front and rear on all equipment used in snow removal or sanding operations.

The blue lights are for the protection of motorists as well as highway crews, and are in addition to the standard headlights taillights and clearance lights. Blue was adopted, because it is a distinctive color, not used on other vehicles or equipment, and because of its visibility in snowy weather.

Serious accidents frequently occur when motor vehicles overtake snowplows or sanding trucks and fail to slow up for this heavy equipment. While some head-on collisions have occurred, in most cases fast moving vehicles hit the rear of the sanding trucks or snow plow units, usually with disastrous consequences.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Questions and Answers about Newspaper Advertising

Q. Do you know of any measure for the value of newspaper circulation to an advertiser such as the standards that a business man uses in buying merchandise?

A. Yes. In the well-known standards that have been approved and adopted by advertisers—namely A.B.C. standards.

Q. What is A B C?

A. A.B.C. stands for Audit Bureau of Circulations, a cooperative association of 2000 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada.

Q. What is the Bureau's work?

A. To audit the circulation of newspapers and periodicals so that advertisers can buy space on the basis of definite standards and verified facts and figures.

Q. How does A B C accomplish this?

A. The Bureau has a large staff of experienced auditors. These men visit the publisher members annually and make audits of their circulation records. This information is then published in A.B.C. reports for the use and protection of advertisers.

Q. What do these reports show?

A. A.B.C. reports tell how much circulation a newspaper has, where this circulation is, how it was obtained, how much people paid for it, and many other verified facts that advertisers should know when they buy advertising.

Q. Are all publications eligible for A. B. C. membership?

A. No. Only those with paid circulation. This is important to advertisers because it is the best proof of interest and purchasing power on the part of the readers.

Q. Is this newspaper a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations?

A. Yes. We are proud of our circulation and we want our advertisers to know just what they get for their money when they advertise in our columns. The audited information in our A.B.C. report gives them the complete facts.

First Freighters

The very first lake freight carriers were light canoes navigated by the Huron Indians. From the far west they moved cargoes of copper ingleginents and agate arrowheads that finally reached the seashores of the east, where they traded these for shells and other commodities. This trade, of course, was slow and leisurely, leaving no mark in history. The canoes never ventured far out on the lakes, but stayed timidly close to the trackless forests skirting the shores.

Services at Trinity Wednesday for Andrew Buringrud, Pioneer

Andrew O. Buringrud, resident of this city since 1898, died at the local sanatorium early Saturday morning at the age of 71 years. Rev. C. S. Thompson conducted rites for him in Trinity church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment was made in Greenwood cemetery. Mrs. C. E. home be acquired, that the Bratrud Clinic vacate their quarters in the present hospital, and that all doctors at present using the facilities of either hospital be admitted to the staff of the new institution.

Mr. Oen also read a reply from the Mercy hospital board to the proposal, expressing the conviction that the best interests of the community would be served thru the planning of one large new central hospital so designed that it could be built in sections, and that as needed be built at this same time as the community can afford.

The Mercy board proposed that it be permitted to solicit pledges toward the construction of a new hospital unit with an ultimate capacity of 150 beds, of which a fifty-bed section would be built as quickly as funds are available.

The letter also stipulated that the institution would be operated as a community hospital, with its facilities available to all resident doctors who are members of either hospital staff and to any other doctors who in the future may meet requirements.

The board also stated that it would continue its efforts to place future hospital facilities in this city under the direction of one board.

Chairman Oen reported that the joint committee had taken no action on the counter-proposal of the Mercy hospital board.

President L. B. Hartz of the Civic and Commerce Association introduced Russell E. Olsen, who has assumed the duties of full time secretary. Mr. Olsen urged that members attend meetings regularly, and pointed out that much planning must be done to provide for the community's future development.

Mr. Hartz declared that the most important immediate project is to provide jobs for war veterans and others returning to this community pointing out that surplus jobs no longer are available in the large cities.

Paul A. Lundgren, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan association, briefly discussed plans being made by the institution for relieving the acute housing shortage in this city.

A new low in tax delinquency for Pennington County is announced by county treasurer Johnsrud. Delinquency for the county as a whole is down to 4½%. In the city of Thief River Falls less than 2% of the property is tax delinquent. Quite an improvement this over the condition that existed a couple of decades ago when delinquency in the rural areas hovered around the 25% mark. County debt is now about half what it was then and our reduced debt, along with lower interest rates, can now be paid off in ten years for less than what our annual interest costs were at that time.

A report on the financial condition of the State of Minnesota at the end of the calendar year is encouraging too. Total debt is now down to 72 millions. This is offset by balances in various funds amounting to about 50 millions and permanent trust fund balances totaling 145 millions. Biggest item of debt is the 43 millions we owe on Rural Credit obligations of which 30 millions probably will have to be paid by the taxpayers. We still owe 18½ millions on highway bonds which must be paid off within the next five years but this is being paid off out of highway department revenues and is not a problem for the taxpayer. The discouraging thing about the state's financial future is the uncertainty of future revenue. Income and gross earnings taxes are now producing big returns and state spending has been geared to these inflated returns. A return to more normal conditions will bring with it a difficult problem to the state. For the time being however there is nothing to worry about.

A few individuals are clamoring for a special session of the state legislature to do something about the housing problem but so far we have seen no suggestion as to just what the state of Minnesota can and should do about housing. The main difficulty involved in any house building program is the shortage of materials and no one has suggested how the legislature can correct this condition. You can't create building materials merely by passing a law. The federal government, under emergency powers, can direct national production to some extent and can speed up the manufacture of those materials that are needed in housing, and this no doubt would be helpful. But the state is just as powerless to build homes without the necessary materials as is any individual. Those who want a special session should indicate what is is they think the legislature should do when it is convened.

We now have had four weeks of winter officially, not counting the somewhat cool fall weather of December. At any rate another two months will bring spring and that isn't long to wait. The thermometer may be dropping lower but the sun is going higher and that is more important.

Remember back a year ago when the newspapers carried headlines about the battles our men were fighting in Europe and in the Pacific. The battle of the bulge, was still worring us as we recall it. The newspapers are still carrying headlines about battles but now they are about the battles on the home front. We are becoming desperately tired of reading about war.

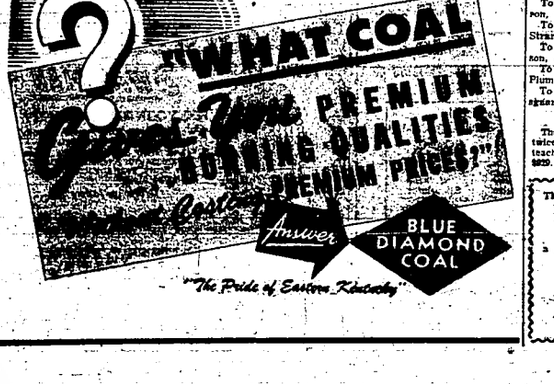
Freeman Hiassen Marries



Freeman Hiassen, son of Mrs. C. N. Hiassen, surprised many of his friends here when he returned on Saturday morning from a trip East with a bride. The marriage ceremony was performed in Trenton, N. J., on Wed. Jan. 2. It seems that while in training in an army camp at Trenton Freeman met the bride-to-be, Miss Mary Turek, a Trenton girl. While Freeman was overseas a romance grew through correspondence, and after his discharge he lost no time in going back to Trenton, marrying her and bringing her to his wife. After a short honeymoon in New York City they returned to where they will make their home on the Hiassen farm. We join Freeman's many friends in wishing the best of married life.

Field Advisor in Girl Scouting Meets with Pennington Co. Women

A county meeting of women interested in girl scouting was held in the Civic and Commerce room, January 14, at eight o'clock with Mrs. L. B. Harts, commissioner of the local council presiding. Miss Harriet Lloyd, field advisor, told about the plans that the national organization had presented for the future work of professional Girl Scout workers in designated areas.

The three phases discussed were as follows: First, the county organization which would bring a closer relationship between communities; second, the area council, which would be a representative group of women and men of the county who would work together with other county groups to secure the services of a professional Girl Scout worker; and third, permanent Girl Scout camps established in central places of an area.

Miss Lloyd told the group about a Girl Scout camp at Bemidji which at present operates under the jurisdiction of the local council, but which could become an area camp. However, the camp may be made available to our area. On February 2, a meeting will be held at Bemidji for the purpose of formulating plans for such a project. Representatives from Thief River Falls plan to attend.

A group of Goodridge women, who plan to organize Girl Scout troops in their community, were present at the meeting.

SENIOR HOCKEY SIX SPLITS TWO TILTS DURING PAST WEEK

Defeat Crookston Friday 5 to 2, and Lose to Fort Francis Team

The city's senior hockey team, the Thieves, played fifty-fifty hockey during the week, defeating the Crookston Pirates, 5 to 2, in a rough game at Crookston on Friday night, and then losing to Rube Julien's Fort Francis team, 3 to 2, in a fast and exciting game here on Sunday afternoon.

Friday night's tussle at Crookston, which found young Kermit Maidment, in thenets for the Thieves, and Fred Gustafson, former member of the local team, in the starring roles, Gustafson, a visitor in the city for a week, counted two goals and assisted in another, while Maidment was kicking out numerous Pirate scoring drives. Feeling between the two teams became tense in the final period, and a couple of flat-swinging skirmishes occured. Crookston's Gene Panzer was injured late in the game when he received a heavy body check from the locals' Tony Dorn.

Sunday afternoon's fast game found the Fort Francis sextet, with a number of junior players in their lineup, going into an early lead. Ed Kliner, in the first period, received a pass from Murray Howarth and beat Maidment with a sharply angled shot; and later in the period, Stanbridge, in attempting to "clear" a Fort Francis pass, shoved the puck into the nets, giving the northerners a 2 to 0 lead.

The Thieves broke into the scoring column midway in the second period when Lloyd Johnson, former Hornet hockey player, was giving a pass by Bob Protz and beat goalie Bill Daugherty with a close in shot. The Fort Francis team increased their lead early in the final period when Rompre and La France, on a breakaway, came in close for a score, with Rompre getting the tally. Connie Stanbridge, with Protz assisting, accounted for the game's final score, with Connie whipping a shot into the net after Protz had made a "carry" into the Fort Francis zone.

The Thieves were in for a number of scoring attempts, but their passing plays were just a bit wide of the mark, or the shot on the net was off the line. Several times, Stanbridge, Gustafson and Gray were able to elude the defense and appeared to be in for a goal-shot but the puck would bounce off the stick or their pass would be off the mark.

The Summary:

Fort Francis (3)		Thief River Falls (2)
Maidment	goal	Daugherty
Lund	defense	R. Riley
Protz	defense	Julin
Gray	wing	R. Riley
Gustafson	wing	Kliner
Stanbridge	center	Howarth

Second period scoring—Johnson (Protz). Penalty—Julien.

Prowlers Defeat East Grand Forks Quint 36-29

With Ninak Carlson and Kenny Borsheim each getting six field goals, the Prowlers, for the second time this year, defending champion East Grand Forks team, winning over the Green Wave by a 36 to 29 score in a game played at East grand Forks Friday night. In the preliminary game, Coach Don Nelson's 'B' squad took the measure the East Grand Forks 'B' team winning by an 18 to 12 score.

The Prowler 'A' and 'B' team continue to play on "foreign" courts this week playing at Crookston on Friday night, and with the 'A' team also having a game with the Red Lake Falls team at Red Lake Falls on Saturday night.

Last Friday evening's contest between the Prowlers and the Green Wave was nip-and-tuck until the final period, when the locals pulled away to mark up a 36 to 29 win over Coach Sullivan's team. Kenny Borsheim and Ninak Carlson, with a pair of goal apiece, gave the Prowlers a 10 to 6 lead in the first period; and the Prowlers held the lead at the half-time intermission, having a 13 to 11 advantage.

The game's scoring outburst occured in the third period, with twenty-five being recorded. East Grand Forks, midway in the period, and with Partlow and Rand doing the scoring, spurted into the lead on a 23 to 19 score. Roy Tunberg, with a pair of field goals and a free throw impetus to a Prowler rally that gave Coach Hanna's team a 26 to 23 lead as the final period opened.

In the fourth period East Grand Forks racked up one field goal, a long shot by Dick Gangness, and a free throw by Partlow; while the Prowlers, with Borsheim and Carlson netting field goals, moved ahead to post a seven-point win, 36 to 29.

For the Prowlers, Carlson and Borsheim, each with 12 points, were the high point scorers, and Carlson, in addition, turned in a strong defensive game. Dwayne Partlow and Dick Gangness, center and guard, respectively, were the most effective performers for coach Sullivan's team.

PROWLER SEXTET WHIPS CROOKSTON CATHEDRAL 13-0

Hallock Team Will Compete with Locals Tuesday Evening

The fast-skating Prowlers subdued an inelligibility-riddled Crookston Cathederal sextet here on Saturday night, defeating the Blue Wave by a 13 to 0 score. The Prowlers will play a well-rated Warroad team at Warroad on Saturday, and then meet the Hallock team in a game on the Arena rink on Tuesday night.

Losing four of their first-line players— Johnny Noah, Bud Schreader, Dennis Sullivan, and Bud Salem—because the boys participated in a senior hockey game here ten days ago as members of Crookston Pirates, the Cathedral sextet was unable to stem the goal rushing tactics of Coach Connie Stanbridge's team.

The Prowlers piled in five goals in the opening period, with Bud Brossoit tallying twice, and Les Vigness, Wes Hovie, and Jimmy Welch getting a goal each. And the locals continued their five-goals-a period pace in the second stanza, to boost their lead to 10 to 0. Brossoit, getting two assists from Swede Lund, netted two goals in the second period, while Vigness, Lund, and Rob Amundson accounted for the other three counters.

In the final period, Don Hagg, Lund, and Vigness shoved goals into the nets to bring the Prowlers total to 13, while the locals' goalie, Ralph Engelstad was recording a shutout.

The Prowlers were greatly improved in their passing plays, and several of the goals came as a result of nifty combination play. The game's second goal was a classic, with Wes Hovie and Les Vigness combining on a double pass, with Brossoit receiving a "feeder" pass from Lund to beat goalie Doc Noah for a score.

ROSEAU HIGH SIX SHUT OUT 5-0 BY LINCOLN SEXTET

Hallock Team Will Compete with Prowlers Here Next Tuesday

Flashing their finest brand of hockey, the Prowlers, playing at Roseau Tuesday night, scored a decisive 5 to 0 win over the green and-white clad Cloverleafs. On Saturday night Coach Connie Stanbridge will take his squad to Crookston for a return game with the Crookston Cathedral sextet; and on Tuesday night the Hallock team will come here to cross sticks with the Prowlers on the Arena ice.

Tuesday night's first goal, and it was classic, was marked up by Bud Brossoit midway in the opening period. Bud picked up the puck near his own blue line, skated up the right lane and stick-handled through three Roseau players to come in for an open shot at goalie Morris Schille from ten feet out, and Bud easily beat the Roseau net-minder to dent the laces of the south goal for a score. Roseau's first period scoring chances were limited to long shots from the blue line, and goalie Ralph Engelstad kicked out the few shots that were on the net.

The locals increased their margin in the second period with a pair of goals. Bob Amundson slammed in a rebound shot after Wes Hovie had dribbled through the Roseau defense and punched a shot at the Schille. And a short while later, Les Vigness intercepted a Roseau pass in the Roseau zone and lifted a sharply angled shot into the nets.

With Roseau's Ray Baumgartner in the penalty box in the final period, the Prowlers, with Swede Lund and Brossoit scoring, notched their final tallies. Swede recovered a loose puck near the Roseau penalty box line, and, eluding a defense man, came in for a close shot; and, Brossoit and Vigness, a minute later combined for the game's final score.

Bud Brossoit, Wes Hovie, and Les Vigness were the standouts in the Prowler lineup, for the three stick-handling Prowlers treated the frost-bitten crowd to neat exhibition. Several times Hovie carried the puck through the Roseau defense, and once he hit the goal post with a close in shot.

Keeping Score

...With DUCK OLSON

A Challenge

And it's issued to Bob Melby, Porky Larson, or any of the other high school boys who fancy themselves as being bowlers. Last week the Lincoln high school G. A. A. bowled at the Mint alleys and the scores were like this: Joyce Stadum, 155; Doris Jorde, 151; Mariys Storhaug, 120; and Florence Snelling, 125. So confident are the girls of their ability that they have issued a challenge to any ten high school boys for a three-game series on January 20th at 2 o'clock. It's probable though, that Bob and Porky, after reading those scores, will have an engagement out of town on Sunday.

A "Top" Performance

If the hockey Prowlers can hold the form they revealed at Roseau on Tuesday night, the eighth region won't have to worry about the representation that they'll have in the state tournament next month, for Coach Stanbridge's boys were really "on". When you can beat Oscar Almquist's team by a 5 to 0 score on the Roseau rink and the score could have been a bit wider for Hovie, Brossoit, and Vigness had several scoring chances that went awry, you are playing hockey.

The entire Prowler squad played impressive hockey, passing crisply and skating with fine speed and drive, and the lines were back-checking closely. If the game had a "star" it was perhaps the Prowlers co-captain Bud Brossoit, for Bud, with his nifty stick-handling and skating, nearly had the Roseau fans ready to hang their hats against the side-boards. Bud's first goal, in the opening period, was worth the admission price, for he carried the puck through a number of Roseau players like it was glued to his stick, and in attempting to body check the stocky Prowler center, the Roseau defensemen were caught off balance by Bud's shiftiness.

But came in for a straight-in shot that Schille didn't have a chance to stop. And Les Vigness and Wes Hovie weren't far behind Bud on individual play. Wes, who is probably the most deceptive stick-handler on the team and the hardest shot, was through the Roseau defense a number of times and twice he carried the puck to the goal-mouth but failed to score, hitting the goal post with one shot.

Roseau Off Form

Roseau didn't play as well on Tuesday night as they did when they appeared here a couple of weeks ago, but that may have been due to the fact that their coach, Oscar Almquist, had been away from town for a week attending the funeral of his mother at Eveleth. Oscar tells me that Cliff Thompson at Eveleth has another fine team coming up, although it won't have the speed or smartness of last year's championship outfit. When you realize that four of those Eveleth boys—Wally Grant, Neil Colley, and Clem Cossalter at Michigan, and Pat Finnegan at Minnesota are playing Big Ten hockey in their freshman year,—you know that Eveleth had a team last year.

Coming Right Along

It's kind of sudden-like, but it looks like the basketball Prowlers have earned themselves a spot as district favorites on their play the past two weeks. Defeating Warren at Warren, and scoring two wins over the defending champion East Grand Forks team at East Grand Forks, moves the locals to the head of the standings. This week-end, playing at Crookston and Red Lake Falls, the Prowlers will conclude their play under the coaching of Glenn Hanna, for-John Lindenmeyer is slated to take over his old position as basketball coach on Monday. Lindenmeyer has been attending the practice sessions, and he accompanied the team to East Grand Forks, so he is well acquainted with the squad.

TRAFFIC DEATHS IN STATE REACH FOUR-YEAR PEAK

Road Fatalities Total 443 in Minnesota During Past Year

Forty one deaths due to December accidents brought Minnesota's 1945 total motor vehicle traffic fatalities to 443, according to state highway department reports. This is four more than in 1942, highest wartime toll, but 183 less than in 1941, last pre-war year. There were 274 deaths in 1943 and 355 in 1944.

The December total of 41 was three more than in December, 1944, but 18 less than in November, 1945. Icy roads, snow and cold, which discouraged travel or made drivers cautious, probably kept the total from going higher.

Greater part of the 1945 increase was in urban areas. Many foresaw a rapid increase in rural fatalities following the ending of gas rationing and wartime speed limits, and less increase in urban areas, where the 30-mile maximum speed was not affected by the 35-mile wartime maximum. Instead, deaths due to accidents within city and village limits increased from 192 to 218.

Ten of the December victims were killed in collisions of trains and motor vehicles at grade crossings. Thirteen were pedestrians, eleven adults from 41 to 80 years old, and two boys of ten or under. Eleven were occupants of motor vehicles that ran off the road and overturned or struck fixed objects, six were victims of motor vehicle collisions, and one fell out of a moving truck.

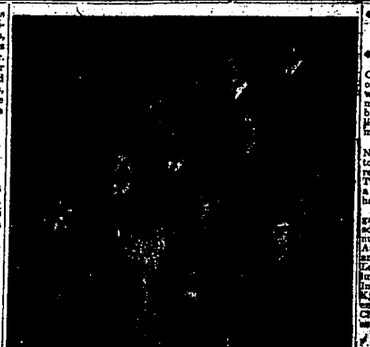
Minnesota Agency Will Continue to Promote Sale of Savings Bonds



Carrying out the Treasury department plan to continue the sales of savings bonds to the public, a Minnesota offic of the U. S. savings bonds division is being set up this week in Minneapolis, with Milton H. Prince as state director.

The state office was established at 510 Northwestern Bank building. A state advisory committee will be named to aid in carrying on the program. Special emphasis will be on the maintenance of payroll savings plans, and continuation of thrift education and stamp and bond sales in the schools.

The state office will act as a service agency to assist in the promotion of savings bonds. These bonds, formerly known as war bonds, have been sold to 90,000,000 people in America. Since May, 1941 $40,000,000,000 in these savings bonds have been sold, and nearly 80 per cent of them are still held by the original purchasers.

ROAD BUILDING IN MINNESOTA HITS LOW MARK IN 1945

Costs Now 25 to 30 Per Cent Higher Than in Pre-war Period

Trunk highway construction in 1945 hit a low mark second only to the 1943 record, according to figures released by M. J. Hoffman, commissioner of highways. Work completed included 38.9 miles of grading, 12.4 miles of stabilized base, 9.7 miles of untreated base repair, 25.3 miles of bituminous surface repair, 0.23 mile of concrete resurfacing, four bridges completed and five in progress.

Contract cost of construction work completed in 1945 was $1,568,000, not including right-of-way and engineering costs. Total in 1943 was $1,456,000. The 1944 total was $3,330,000, much of the work being reconstruction of gravel and bituminous roads damaged by the severe spring break-up. The 1942 total was $5,905,000, work consisting largely of completion of projects let before the war, and access roads to defense plants. Total for the four war years was $12,199,000 while the total in 1941, last pre-war year was $11,197,000.

During the 1945 construction season the department took bids on 22 projects. On four projects no bids received. On four others bids were rejected as too high. Fourteen projects were placed under contract, in most cases on account of the emergency nature of the work, although in some cases only one bid was received. Prices were 25 to 30 per cent higher than in 1941. An estimated $478,000 of work under contract was carried over to 1946.

Balanced Meals

You get thiamine in small amounts from a large variety of foods, if you eat well-balanced meals, and these small amounts ordinarily will add up to the amount of thiamine you need in a day. The best cereals store large amounts of B1 or thiamine, so you need to get a constant supply to make sure of having enough. Nursing and expectant mothers need more thiamine than other people.

HIGHWAY TRAFFIC MISHAP DAMAGES REACH BIG TOTAL

2958 Accidents Cause Damage Estimated at More Than $500 Each

Personal and property damages running into millions, due to motor vehicle accidents, are indicated in figures released by the Minnesota highway department covering the first six months operation of the new safety responsibility act.

The new act took effect July 1. From that date to December 31, the department reviewed reports of 20,669 drivers and owners of vehicles involved in accidents resulting in death, bodily injury, or property damage in excess of $50. Evaluations were made in 2,958 cases. Total evaluation in these cases was $1,973,000, an average of $530. If the same average applied in all other cases, the total would run into eight figures.

Of the 20,669 reports filed, 11,205 filed certificates of insurance, 306 filed releases, 3,342 were found upon evaluation to come under the $50 limit, 1,534 cases were not covered by the act, and 233 deposited cash or security.

There were 2,565 licenses suspended where drivers or owners failed to deposit security to satisfy claims arising out of accidents. Of the 2,565 drivers licenses suspended, 1,267 were later reinstated after filing of certificates of insurance, releases, deposit for security, or other evidence of settlement or ability to settle claims.

POLICE CAN MAKE 'EM TALK, BUT HOW STOP 'EM

Winona—Diamond studded belt for the all-time knock-out in unusual police calls was awarded here early Sunday morning. The captain sent a couple of hand-picked mediators in response to a "family trouble" report. All the tired and probably bored wife wanted was someone somehow to stop her husband from talking in his sleep.

News of R. R. Valley Home for the Aged

We had a very joyful but quiet Christmas season as so many of our aged folk and also workers were down with the flu but the many gifts and greeting cards brought joy and many enjoyed our little gathering around the Christmas tree on Christmas eve.

We had two girl scout troops, No. 7811, with their leaders, here to sing Christmas carols and to read the Christmas story for us. Troop No. 7 also presented us with a very nice quilt which the girls had made themselves.

The Salvation army leaders also gave a special program and treated each one to a bag of candy and nuts. The American Legion and Auxiliary, sent us a box of apples and grapefruit, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Larson of the Nu-Way lunch, a case of lovely oranges. The Independent store and Mrs. Alpha Klorvestad gave us fruit cake enough for two servings and Mrs. Chris Myrold and Mrs. Helen Domas treated cookies.

The Penates Group with Mrs. W. E. Tunberg as chairman, brought gaily wrapped packages for the ten oldest members of our family and also many things for our table.

So we were indeed mindful of the good will of Christmas and it warmed our hearts in gratitude to God who gave his best, that we may always serve one another in this way.

Just before Christmas, Andrew Solvig who came to us from Alvarado last March and had been failing much the last few weeks, became unable to leave his room and after just three days of illness passed away quietly on Dec. 22nd at the age of 83 years. He was taken to Warren in charge of the Quanrud Funeral Home. Funeral services were held at the Big Woods Lutheran Church near where the family had resided for many years. He leaves to mourn him his sister-in-law, Mrs. H. Solvig and daughters of Warren and Grand Forks, and a brother and sister in Norway.

T. J. Carr, who became ill with the flu before Christmas, has not been able to leave his bed yet and is very weak, although he suffers no pain. He is the next to the oldest member of our family, being past 91 years. We hope he soon gains so he can be with us again.

The Baptist Sunday school in charge of Mrs. Lasaka gave their program here Saturday afternoon before Christmas, which was enjoyed by all who were able to be down and the children also passed treats to everyone.

We have greatly enjoyed the Sunday afternoon services Rev. Rabine, here at 2:30. Every one is welcome to come so read the next service.

Mrs. Helen Domas who has worked here since the home started, left for her home in Lengby last Friday to rest and recuperate from a recent illness. We will miss her and her faithful service here very much and wish for her speedy recovery. Loraine Moe is taking over her duties here for the present.

Mrs. Conrad Johnson of Kennedy and Mrs. A. V. Brodin of this city called on Mrs. Moe Saturday afternoon.

Our old people have been busy packing a box of clothing for the needy folks of Norway, to be sent through the Zion Lutheran church of this city. How thankful we should be for clothes, food and shelter.

We are indeed glad to have our plumbing done, so we can occupy our new rooms. We have recently admitted Soren G. Moe of town of North and Ole Stromme of Oklee.

Mrs. Anna Moe of McIntosh who came here on Oct 1st, returned to her home there Jan. 1st. She intended to go on to Crookston for medical care.

We are very thankful to the following friends and societies who have sent us gifts in money for our Christmas: the First Lutheran, The Trinity Lutheran and the Mission Covenant Ladies Aids of this city. The willing workers club of Karlstad, Fred Kuno of Grygla, Joseph Erickson of Grand Forks, C. S. McReynolds of Clearbrook, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gilbertson of Mahnomen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Isaacson of Sisters Bay, Wis., Mrs. Clara Langeleet and children, Mr. and Mrs. Freedolph Johnson, and the Connelly Bratland Agency of this city. We thank you one and all.

Oscar Hoveskas has taken over the duties as janitor here as Gilbert Moe left for his former home in Bemidji the first of the year.

Mrs. Ed Erickson has been moved to second floor, as she seems to be more dizzy and weak of late. She has enjoyed Christmas and the visits from her sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hagen have both been ailing with the flu of late but are much better at this writing. So also is Miss Flamme and Carl Edman.

Mrs. Gust Bradley and son Stanley, who is just home from overseas drove up from Erskine on Saturday to visit with her father, Peter Gulbranson.

Carrie Hoverstad has had as her guests lately, Mrs. Ole Hedalen, Mrs. Gilbertson and Mrs. Omundson.

Mrs. G. O. Vigness called on the John Paulsons recently and had a real house warming for them as they have just moved into their new room near the kitchen.

Joseph Benoit spent both Christmas and New Year's day with his relatives at Red Lake Falls and

"RIVERSIDES didn't come on my car; I CHOSE THEM!"

"..... AND I'M CONVINCED I COULDN'T HAVE CHOSEN MORE WISELY"

"When the tires that came on my car wore out, I switched to Riversides. That was four years ago! And those Riversides you are looking at, have really performed. Not once did they give me any trouble. It's worth a lot to know you're riding on safe tires."

This business executive is typical of car-owners who have switched to Riverside Tires because Riversides mean more mileage for less money . . . more safety! It's more true today than ever before. Riversides are now actually 12% stronger than Wards pre-war tires.

MORE ... MILES OF SAFETY ON RIVERSIDES

SALT AND PEPPER SHAKERS OF MANY H

Hemingford — There's only one like it, that, answering to the name of Hermad. But he has many salt and pepper shakers, probably of many different hues. Ten states and Mexico are represented in a collection of 123 of all sizes and shapes, though the source of this information didn't disclose how the odd one got in.

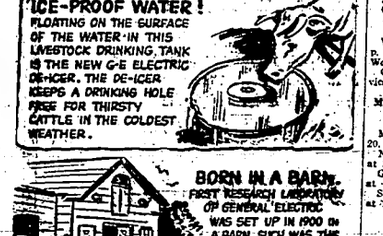
How many new telephones for Elm street?

On councils where assess live families who have waited months, even years, for telephone service that the urgency of war denied them. Now, with peace, our responsibility is to see that there is service for these people . . . as soon as possible.

The job of catching up with this country's telephone needs is a huge one. It means placing millions of miles of new telephone wire in cities and towns and on the farms throughout the nation. It means engineering and manufacturing and installing vast quantities of new equipment for central office. It means many new jobs. And it will call for huge amounts of new capital—money that must come from investors with faith in the credit and earning ability of the business.



The problems of planning and building are not new ones for your telephone company. But never before in peacetime has the work ahead been so vast in scale. To you as a telephone user these plans also have a meaning . . . because every telephone added, every improvement made in service, increases the usefulness and value of overall telephone service.

A RESOLUTION

State of Minnesota,
County of Pennington—ss.

IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED, that all lands, which pursuant to Chapter 286, Laws of 1943, as amended, have been forfeited to the State of Minnesota for non-payment of taxes, under the existing law declaring the forfeiture of lands to the State for non-payment of taxes, shall be offered for sale to the highest bidders at the Office of the County Auditor in the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls in said County and State, commencing at 10:00 o'clock A. Dated this 8th day of January 1946.
The County Board of Pennington County, Minn.
PAUL ROY, Chairman.

(Seal)
Attest: A. M. Sundsta,
County Auditor
Pennington County, Minnesota.
NOTE: Terms Of Sale: Cash at the time of purchase.

... but NOT the same taxes!

Doesn't seem fair does it? Nevertheless, in many Minnesota towns, there are certain businesses, like others in most ways, but with one important difference. They pay no Federal Income Taxes on their earnings! Why can they retain what we have to pay?

Federal Income Taxes support the government. They pay for services which every business shares equally. Shouldn't every business then, contribute equally in the form of taxes?

Of course they should! Every fair-minded American will agree. Yet those favored businesses are now eagerly taking advantage of their special privilege to grow in number and size at an alarming rate ... in many cases crowding out tax-paying firms.

What are these businesses? Well, there are those owned by the government, cooperatives, mutual organizations and others. During these last years when most businesses have been turning over a large share of their profits to the government, these organizations have gone merrily on their way, using sizeable profits for their own purposes, to expand in every direction.

Of course, all the plants purchased and operated by such firms become tax exempt. And the taxes they used to pay are shifted to the shoulders of the rest of us ... Farmers, merchants and manufacturers.

The situation is so threatening and so obviously unfair, that we have formed the Minnesota Small Business Association in an effort to put all business on the same tax-paying basis.

If you want to know how this problem of tax inequality affects you, and what we intend to do about it, send a post card with your name and address to Wm. C. Nathen, Chairman, 230 South Front Street, Mankato, Minnesota.

Tax Favoritism Takes Money Out of Your Pocket. Let's End It!

COAL ESSENTIAL IN WAR NOW VITAL TO PEACE

Don't waste it!

No. 3 of the seven simple suggestions for making your coal supply do a full heating job for you. Number four will appear next week ::: watch for it!

A Tight Heating Plant Will Save Fuel!

Inspect your heating plant for leaks. A warped ash pit door or ash pit damper, or any crack in the heating plant below the fire line causes air leaks which forces your fire, and wastes fuel through overheating the home or driving too much valuable heat up the chimney.

To inspect your plant, and smoke pipes, hold a lighted candle anywhere that a leak is suspected. If the flame is drawn in, a leak exists and should be sealed with furnace cement.

Famous thrills!

1913, West Point, N. Y.: A straggling squad of 18 football players came out of the Midwest to battle the mighty Cadets . . . to give them a "breather." The New York newspapers sent cub reporters to watch the workout. And they saw plenty! They saw forward passing the like of which had never before been seen on an eastern gridiron. They saw the tough young men from the prairies take a 14-13 lead at the half, and go on to win, 35-13, in a game that established Notre Dame as a football power. And three of the touchdown passes were caught by Notre Dame's captain, a tow-headed end—named—KNUTE ROCKNE.

1946, anywhere in the Midwest, another great thrill! Split-second starting with Standard Red Crown or Standard White Crown Gasoline, now stepped-up with aviation fuel ingredients. Yes, there's a thrill you'll appreciate these cold days. Quick starts . . . flashing pick-up . . . full, smooth power . . . thrifty mileage. Find out, today, how well your car can perform. For quick starting, say to your Standard Oil Dealer—

"Thrill 'er up!"

There are times in life when a man's greatest want is a moment alone.

Maybe there is something you've been meaning to read, or a radio program that fits your mood. Perhaps you'd prefer just a goodly share of quiet, unbroken except by idle thoughts.

Beer belongs, in moments like these. It does not intrude. For beer is a soft-spoken beverage.

Naturally, it should be a beer that a man's taste tells him is best—a beer that he really enjoys.

There are many for whom Glueck's is exactly such a beer. A good way to see if you are one of them is to cool and try a few bottles of Glueck's tonight.

See if your friends, too, don't thank you for saying . . . "Have yourself a glass of Glueck's"

Make Blouse-Slip

Make a blouse-slip by using a half worn slip. Cut off the worn top of a slip and discard it. Sew the skirt part to a blouse and you have a blouse-slip in which the shirttail stays put. It may be necessary to fit the blouse to the skirt by stitching in small pleats around the hips and extending the blouse opening with a placket in the side. Slacks and shirts are popular these days, and the skirt-blouse twosome is comfortable, practical and saves on laundry.

The whole milk plant at the Farmer's Cooperative Creamery opened for business on Monday. The plan is to sell the butterfat in cream to Land O'Lakes, Inc. Selling the butterfat on this basis will bring three or four cents more per pound to the producer according to statement by Mr. Larson local manager.

In the future only enough butter will be churned for local consumption. The balance of the cream will be sold as 40 per cent butterfat. This cream however must come to the creamery in whole milk and be seperated at the creamery in order to be in a uniform state, pasteurized and cooled before it can be shipped. This cream will be sold to Land O'Lakes. It will be transported to Thief River Falls from where it will be shipped to Minneapolis in carload lots. The reason for this method of marketing butterfat is that there is no calling price on cream as there is on butter. The higher price for butterfat to the producers in whole as compared with that separated at home should be encouraging.

The skimed milk will be sold to the large new milk drying plant at Roseau.

The milk days at the creamery will be Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. Cream days will be the same.

In the future there will be no cream days on Tuesday and Thursday.

In connection with the Brotherhood meeting at the Nazareth Lutheran Church on Tuesday evening the local Boy Scout troop was given its charter and the committee and scoutmasters took over their duties. The meeting was opened with the newly elected president of the brotherhood, Walter Larson, in charge. The visiting Boy Scouts from Troops 59 and 60 of Thief River Falls and the local troop marched in with the American flag. Mr. Larson gave a few words of welcome. Mr. Fricker reported in behalf of theScout Committee and presented the members of the committee namely; L. M. Larson, Sam Lorentson, John Ness, Harry Engen, Alf Movick, and Rev. Urness.

The two cars stolen from local people at Thief River Falls the past month have not yet been found. The stolen cars were a 1935 Plymouth belonging to Hans Ness and 1939 Dodge Sedan belonging to Clifford Steinhauer.

Rev. Urness led the invocation and Dr. Kaisler, Russell E. Olson and Ed Haug of Thief River Falls took charge of the investiture including the induction of the committee and scoutmaster. Hartley Peterson. Mr. Peterson led the candle light ceremony in which each local scout lit a candle and each recited one of the scout laws. The charter was presented by Mr. Fricker Scout committee chairman. In closing Rev. Urness made a few appropriate remarks and a closing prayer.

Marvin Sandberg and Fredrick Voth served lunch.

Mrs. Raymond Peterson arrived on Saturday to spend a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Peterson and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Ray Sagstuen was guest of honor at a birthday party on January 3rd. A large number of gifts were presented after which lunch was served.

Cpl. Morgan Kolden is spending his furlough visiting his mother, Mrs. S. S. Kolden and sister, Mrs. Birger Borg and family.

Sgt. Laurence Ring who has been with the U. S. Army for about four years. The past two years in the Pacific war area returned on Friday having received his honorable discharge.

Cpl. Howard Lorentsen and Sgt. Donald Horien are expected to arrive here soon. Cpl. TO EASE EUROPE'S CLOTHING PLIGHT

Lutheran Churches Now Collecting Garments

Clothing for the distressed Lutherans of Europe is being gathered thruout the nation under the auspices of the National Lutheran Council. Information gathered by Dr. J. A. Aasgaard of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, and other American church leaders on their recent trip to Europe has pointed up the desperate need of millions of Europeans at this time.

Because the need is immediate and pressing, the local effort to secure used clothing and shoes for this drive has already begun. At Trinity Lutheran Church, Mrs. N. C. Lindberg is chairman of the ladies aid committee which has assumed responsibility for the sorting of the clothing, while the men of the church will be called upon to assist in its packing and shipment. It was emphasized by the local committee that all such clothing brought to the churches for this relief of suffering in Europe should be usable, clean, and mended.

It was also pointed out that with clothing difficult to obtain in the United States, the problem in Europe is many times as bad. Reverend Thompson stated that every Lutheran home in the city should be ransacked from attic to basement immediately and shoes and clothing brought to the church for shipment without delay. February 15th has been set as the last date for shipping by Trinity church. The pastor also invited others who wish to participate in the drive to bring their contributions to the church for handling with the parish collection.

Members of the undefeated 1945 Lincoln high school team received a well-earned tribute Wednesday evening when they were guests of honor at a dinner in the Palm Garden Cafe sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and attended by 150 persons.

The guest speaker was Bernie Bierman, head coach of the University of Minnesota football team, who was introduced by Roy J. Oen, captain of the 1934 Gopher team coached by Biermad.

Preceding a talk by Bierman, the high school boys' octet sang a group of selections, following which Coach Glenn Hanna presented members of the 1945 Prowler team headed by Captain Wes Hovis and Captain-elect Les Vigness.

After commenting briefly on the losing record of the Gophers last fall, Coach Bierman said he is looking toward the future and sees a marked improvement in material coming up, due in part to the young men now being released from service.

Pointing out the benefits resulting from all forms of athletic competition, he said the university is planning for an expanded sports program, and urged the united backing of Minnesota citizens and their support in encouraging young people to attend the institution.

Following the dinner, the meeting adjourned to the high school auditorium, where Bierman presented motion pictures of last fall's Gopher football games.

COSTLY FIRE AT ST. HILAIRE SATURDAY

Math Barzen Company Elevator Destroyed

In a disastrous blaze at St. Hilaire late Saturday night, the Math Barzen company elevator was destroyed, together with the greater part of several carloads of flax and other grains, the loss being estimated at upwards of $25,000, with only partial insurance coverage.

The coal sheds were saved from the flames, and representatives of the insurance companies were at the scene early this week attempting to salvage part of the grain. W. A. Corbett has served as manager of the elevator during the past year.

While not definitely determined, it is thought likely that the fire originated in electric wiring in the office portion of the structure. The Barzen company had purchased the elevator from the C. Roe Gram company in the early 1930s, and had since added a considerable amount of new equipment.

The Thief River Falls fire department went to the scene with the small pumper but by the time it arrived the fire was too far advanced to save the elevator.

12 COTTAGES TO EASE HOUSING SHORTAGE HERE

Contractor S. Ranum Building Cottages on East Side of River

The acute housing shortage in Thief River Falls is being relieved to some extent by the construction of twelve cottages on the east side of the river. All will be sold, with veterans being given the preference.

Two of the cottages, now virtually completed, have been sold and will be occupied shortly. Of the others four are being started this week, with construction of the remainder scheduled within the next ten days. A crew of eight men is engaged on the project under the supervision of Contractor Stanley Ranum, the work being financed by the First Federal Savings and Loan association of this city.

The cottages are all being built south of First st. on Conley, Maple, Crocker and Merriam aves. Each is being built on a fifty-foot lot. With sewer and water facilities not available at present, the dwellings are being built without basements and are not modern except for electric lights. Each contains four rooms.

It was pointed out, however, that connections with sewer and water can be made later. The cottages are well insulated, and have built-in kitchen cabinets. They are estimated to cost approximately $1,900.

Mexican Navy

The Mexican navy was born during the struggle for independence from Spain which began in 1810, when sea-going patriots employed tiny sailboats to run arms and supplies to their fighting comrades on land. But it first emerged as a fighting force when Gen. Jose Maria Morelos took Fort San Diego, in the Pacific seaport of Acapulco, and carried off as prizes the Spanish schooner Guadalupe and 13 armed rowboats. Shortly after, the little navy had its baptism of fire in the waters off Costacoalcos. In a brief, but sharp, encounter, the Mexican ship La Patriota vanquished the Spanish man-o-war La Numantina and sailed it triumphantly into port.

200-Inch 'Eye' to Be Ready in 1947

Resume Work on World's Biggest Telescope in California Soon.

PASADENA, CALIF.—The California Institute of Technology's huge 200-inch telescope is expected to begin seeking out the unknown depths of space some time in 1947.

The gigantic project, conceived in 1928 but halted by the war, is to be resumed. Dr. J. A. Anderson, executive secretary of the faculty council in charge of the $6,000,000 Rockefeller-grant undertaking, hopes to have the world's largest telescope functioning by a year from next January.

The observatory building atop Mt. Palomar, in San Diego county, is completed, as an 18-mile road to the summit of the 5,868-foot mountain.

Shaping Is Big Job.

The main job is that of shaping the huge glass disk into a paraboloid, which will make it slope a few thousandths of an inch deeper at the center than the curve of a perfect sphere, and the final precision grinding with a rotating tool in Caltech's special controlled dustless, temperature-controlled astro-physics laboratory. Manufacture of mechanical apparatus for the telescope is about 90 per cent completed.

Contrary to the general impression, the magnifying power of the 200-inch telescope will be moderate. It will went no nearer to earth from such relatively close objects as the moon and the planets. The advantage of the instrument is its great light concentrating power, enabling observers to detect remote celestial objects.

The increased brightness of star images and nebulae already known will permit their spectra to be photographed with spectographs of higher dispersion.

What, then, does science stand to gain in the use of the big mirror?

Here's the Answer.

Dr. Max Mason, another member of Caltech's council, answers that question.

"We seek nothing less than clews to the great mystery of existence. We want knowledge to gain conscious control of man's evolution. We grope dimly through our ignorance, driven by an insatiable curiosity inherited from our simian ancestors. With such telescopes we will learn the makeup of the cosmos, the evolution of the stars as they are born, the life history of the whole universes of suns, and even the laws of behavior of the very matter which makes the bodies that our minds and spirits inhabit."

Specifically, science hopes to discover by this telescope whether the universe is expanding. The expanding universe theory presents the problem of whether millions of stellar systems hurtle outward after an explosive phenomenon occurring while they were bunched together in a relatively small space, or whether the results observed can be interpreted in some other way, possibly associated with the enormous distances which light must travel through space.

News of R. R. Valley Home for the Aged

Since our last writing we have laid to rest one of the oldest members of our family, T. J. Carr, who passed away early Friday morning Jan. 11th. He did not rally again after an attack of the flue before Chrigmas, but did not suffer any real pain until the last few hours. He was taken to Mercy hospital, when he became worse.

Funeral services were conducted at the Gulbranson Funeral Home with Rev. D. T. Beadle in charge.

Mr. Carr had no immediate relatives in this country but has a half brother residing in England. He was an old pioneer of these parts and was well known in the early years as a traveling missionary, holding services in many a schoolhouse and farm home and was interested in the best of the community in the many years of residence here. In spite of his birth age of past ninety years he had a good memory and loved to tell tales of the past.

Mrs. Ed Erickson has been confined to her room for the past ten days, but is gaining in strength, and soon expects to be down stairs again.

We have recently welcomed in our midst Mrs. Katie Sjoberg of St. Paul, who has had her application in for a room for some time. Her daughter and children, Mrs. Barry McMahon has called on her several times.

Gilbert Moe came from Bemidji on Friday to visit his family here. He left for Cass Lake on Sunday, where he is to be employed in a logging camp.

The Baptist Young people held their regular, weekly meeting here on Monday evening. Mrs Jacobson was in charge of a good program and Rev. Rabine gave a very timely talk to the young folks on "A God Planned Life". The young people also rendered a farewell to their president Geo. Asp who is leaving next week to attend Northwestern Bible School in Minneapolis. After presenting Mr. Asp with a gift the lunch committee served a nice lunch and the rest of the evening was spent in conversation. Betty Melvie will be the new president for this growing young peoples group.

We have heard from D. G. Brownlie who went to the southern part of the state to spend Christmas that he expects soon to be back with us again.

Mrs. Geo. Stotford and son Larry of Garfield, Minn. has spent the past ten days visiting with her father, J. H. Roller and also many friends in this community. They left for their home on Wednesday.

Rev Lorchl of Okiee called on his cousin Carrie Haverstad and other friends at this home last week.

Peter Belanji is recovering from a fall he took last week and is already able to sit up again. His son Joe called on him Saturday.

Goren Moe has had many callers the past two weeks as his sons and daughters have been here often. He is getting along fine in his new home here and has his roommate Joe Rostwould, who recently returned from a trip to Hendrum, Minnesota.

We just recently read in a Melrose paper of the death of Mrs. Anna Mee, who left here on Jan. 1st to return to her home there. She passed away at the hospital at Crookston.

We were indeed glad to have the Sjoberg Appliance Co. of this city install a new Majestic gas-range for us recently which will take care of all our cooking needs.

We had quite a cause for alarm on Tuesday morning when it was learned there was a fire in Mrs. Wilfred Langness home which she occupied alone with her two small sons as her husband is in the service. The pastors were here for their regular Tues. morning prayer meeting and Rev. Rabine and Rev. Lindholm left immediately to bring the children here. Mrs. Langness returned after the fire department left to be sure all was safe and expresses a deep thankfulness to all who came to her help. She will be here until the damage has been repaired, which was slight and was caused by a defective draft as the wind was so strong that morning.

We were glad to have Dr. McCoy at the home again recently after his recent serious illness. Drs. Melby and Starekow have also been here on professional calls and all patients are well on the road to recovery.

Piano Tuner Pitches Sour Note at His Class

CINCINNATI. — Tuning a piano is a long way from being child's play and it can't be learned in a hurry, says veteran Tuner Edwin Shearer who is at odds with the Cincinnati Music conservatory about it.

Shearer has been tuning pianos for more than half a century and he thinks that all piano tuners have to be musically inclined and that the art—he contends it is an art—cannot be learned in a class-room.

What brought it up was the conservatory's offering of a piano-tuning course for returned war veterans.

Alfred T. Reeves, who will instruct in the school, denied that any considerable knowledge of music was necessary to the prospective tuner.

Shearer sniffed, said that the only way to learn it right is to serve an apprenticeship in a piano factory for at least three years.

The 23,408 sealskins and 316 fox skins taken from the Pribilof Islands brought the government $1,583,553. The sale, held in St. Louis, attracted 155 buyers.

Two pioneer churches in the Gatzke community have voted to unite to form a new congregation. Dr. R. M. Fjelstad, district president of the N. L. C. A., will be in attendance at the merger meeting to be held Friday evening, February 1, at Stoney River church. At the merger meeting, a new name will be selected, a new constitution will be adopted and officers for the organization will be elected. It is hoped that neighboring pastors may attend. A lunch and social hour will be had after the meeting. Pastor J. Kronlokken has served the congregations since March, 1945.

List of Permanent Foliage Plants Drawn

A list of foliage plants other than cacti and succulents include: vines, English ivy, Wandering Jew, Silver ivy-anum, Devil's ivy, Grape ivy, ferns, Holly fern, Birdsnest fern, Dwarf Boston fern.

Succulents have thick, fleshy leaves and stems and require an abundance of sunshine. They can withstand dry conditions. Outstanding succulents include Agave, Aloe, Crassula, Echeveria, Euphorbia, Haworthia, Kalanchoe, Mesembryanthumum, Stonecrop sedum, Sempervivum and Stapelia.

For those interested in cacti as house plants there are Old Man cactus, Organ Pipe cactus, Rabbit's Ear cactus, Rat-tail cactus, Fishhook cactus, Living Rock cactus, and Golden Ball cactus. Peppers Vitamin Rich

Peppers are rich in both vitamin A and C when they are at the mature green stage, but they show a remarkable increase as they redden. Ten varieties of peppers grown at the Rhode Island Station increased an average of 3,175 per cent in carotene and 49 per cent in ascorbic acid as they became red. Pimiento peppers grown at the Georgia Station and harvested late in the season after frost were 50 per cent richer in ascorbic acid than those harvested early in the season. Even the small amounts of sweet peppers ordinarily used stuffed or in salad, or to add color and flavor to main dishes may do a considerable bit toward adding food value to family meals, especially if they are allowed to become red-ripe. Stuffed red peppers are attractive, and delicious, and sliced red peppers add appetizing color and flavor to salads as do green, say nutrition specialists.

Cattle Experiment

With establishment at Clewiston, Fla., of four registered, pure-bred breeding herds (Shorthorn, Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus and Brahman) by the United States Sugar corporation, cattlemen for the first time will be able to make scientific comparisons in one place. The whole cattle project covers approximately 5,000 acres of improved pasture. There it will be possible to demonstrate to Florida cattlemen what can be done with any of the four beef breeds under improved local conditions, to find out which of the four breeds is best adapted to Florida conditions, and to aid in developing the Florida cattle industry by making available registered bred stock of the four beef breeds; to speed the upgrading of Florida's cattle so that better feeder steers will be available for the feeding program and, lastly, to demonstrate that Florida can economically produce choice beef.

Wiped Out Piracy

During the 19th century, combined British and American sea power swept piracy from the high seas and guaranteed innocent passage to all on lawful missions.

Request Payment for Christmas Seals Sent Out Before Holidays

January checks for Christmas seals mailed in December are wanted from local people who have overlooked sending in their money to help finance the 1946 fight against tuberculosis.

In announcing that the Christmas Seal organization needs more funds to keep the 1946 wheels turning in the campaign to track down disease-killer Number 1, Dr. E. A. Meyerding, executive secretary of the Minnesota Public Health association, says:

"In the period of waiting to get delayed returns, we are sharpening our educational tools to give tuberculosis a worse beating than any it has had to date."

Miss Stella Rosa left Friday for Spokane, Wash., where she will be employed.

HEBREW MISSION DIRECTOR COMING

Rev. Peterson Speaks Sunday in This City

Rev. V. L. Peterson, St. Paul, general director of the Midwest Hebrew Mission Home, comes to Thief River Falls, where recently he was pastor of the First Baptist Church, at the end of this week. He is great preacher in union services next Sunday afternoon, 3 o'clock, and evening, 7:45 o'clock, respectively in the First Baptist and evangelical Free churches, under the auspices of the Union Gospel Tent Mission, said L. W. Lindholm, committee chairman in his announcement.

Mr. Peterson initiated the founding of the local home for the aged and served as its first superintendent, succeeded by Rev. E. F. Rabne, incumbent. Through services of Peterson, a valuable center for bringing the gospel to Israel has been secured in St. Paul. Rev. Peterson also is scheduled to speak during Morning Meditations, KILO 1440 k, Grand Forks, with program originating here, 8:15 Sunday morning and at the forenoon service, 10:30 o'clock in the Mission Covenant church, St. Hilaire.

Movie Theatres Share in the March of Dimes

Collections for the annual March of Dimes in about 400 Minnesota motion pictures theaters will begin today and will continue through January 30, it is announced today.

In the 1945 campaign to raise funds to combat infantile paralysis collections made in the state's theaters amounted to $78,627.54, about one-third of the more than $200,00 raised in Minnesota.

Half of the money raised remains in the community which contributes it and half is sent to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

97,182 Veterans Visit Employment Offices in Month of December '45

Under the impact of an additional 23,000 service men and women discharged during December, bringing the state's total to 155,000, offices of the United States Employment Service currently are devoting half of their time to counseling GI's and assisting them to find new jobs, according to Dreng Bjornaraa, state USES director.

During the last month of 1945 the 33 USES offices in the state had 104,070 calls from people interested in employment service and related problems. Of that number, 97,182 were visits by GI's.

Traffic at USES offices during December exceeded that of even the busiest months during the war years.

NEW WEAPON LINES UP WITH THE DREAD ATOM

Souk Centre—The frozen food era is said to be just beginning, which may be ushering in a weapon as domestically dangerous as the atom is internationally. The power of frozen missiles was demonstrated here early one morning when a car struck a frozen potato in the street, hurling it like a cannon ball through a plate glass garage window.

ST. OLAF MAN AT TRINITY CHURCH

Dr. Cole Will Tell of Chapel Appeal Sunday

Dr. Martin L. Cole will be the peaker at the morning service at Trinity church on Sunday. Dr. Cole is dean of the college at St. Olaf college, Northfield, is widely known as a speaker of unusual forcefulness. He was winner of the International Speech Contest for Toastmasters in 1943 and has had wide experience in both speaking and as a speech instructor, in his collegiate days he was named honor athlete of St. Olaf college in 1924.

Dr. Cole will speak Sunday on his current appeal in the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America for funds to erect the Ice Memorial Chapel on the campus of St. Olaf. Funds already gathered in other districts of the synod have brought contributions totaling more than $300,000 for this appropriate memorial to the late president of the college, Dr. L. W. Boe, under whose leadership St. Olaf became the largest and best-equipped Lutheran college in the United States.

The former chapel on the campus Hoyme Memorial Chapel, was built in memory of a former president of the United Lutheran Church and a grand father of Reverend Thompson, pastor of Trinity church. This edifice was destroyed by fire in 1928, which has necessitated the use of the college gymnasium for religious activities ever since. With a peak enrollment of 1500 students expected within the next couple of years the need for an adequate chapel for the many religious activities on the campus is no longer postponable.

Rev. G. S. Thompson, pastor of the local church, was appointed director of the Ice Memorial Chapel appeal for the Northern Minnesota District last year and under his direction the churches of this area are completing their drive for funds in February. With a goal of $1200 for Trinity Church, a processional offering for this fund will be received on Sunday as the culmination of the local effort.

Final Services Are This Afternoon for Josef Hruby, Age 86

Josef Hruby, route 2, Goodridge, resident of Cloverleaf township since 1904, will be laid to rest following final services this afternoon Jan 24 at one o'clock in the Gulbranson funeral chapel. Mr. Hruby passed away Sunday evening at a local hospital, having attained the age of 86 years. Rev. G. S. Thompson will officiate at the services and interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

The deceased, who was born in Czechoslavakia Sept. 8, 1859, came to the United States in 1880, making his home in Chicago, Ill., where he worked for a sash and door factory. On March 29, 1883, he was married to Francis Macek, and a year later they moved to Jackson county to begin farming. In 1904 they took up a homestead in Cloverleaf township. Mr. Hruby for a number of years served as road supervisor for Cloverleaf township and was also a member of the school board of district 46.

His wife, Mrs. Francis Hruby, survives him as well as three daughters and five sons, Mrs. Ernest Schmidth of Ada, Mrs. Albert Ptacek of this city, Mrs. Alice Habedank of Goodridge, Ben, James, Jerry and Ludvick of Goodridge and Frank of Strathcona; 44 grandchildren and 23 great grandchildren. Jap Militarism Grew Within Half Century

Only in the last 50 years have the Japanese been accustomed to success in foreign wars, and only in the last 40 years could they get a foothold on the continent of Asia. Nor were forces from the continent ever able to invade and subdue the Jap home islands. It was the modernization of Japan which upset in very recent times a stalemate which had lasted since the beginning of time.

In the early centuries A. D., the Japanese, barbarians in comparison with Koreans and Chinese, tried several times to invade Korea and were driven out. After the defeat of a Jap army and navy in 663 A. D. they gave up for over 900 years the attempt to expand on the mainland. In the late 1500s a strong emperor, Hideyoshi, twice launched strong expeditions at Korea, was driven back to his islands with heavy losses. In large part this was due to an able Korean admiral who used iron-clad "tortoise-boats" to ram Jap ships and cut the Nipponese supply line.

Neither could Japan be successfully invaded. The mighty Mongol emperor, Kublai Khan, twice tried in the late 1200s, saw the "divine wind" wreck whatever of his boats escaped the fighter Jap craft in an action not unlike the defeat of the Spanish Armada.

Discovery of Mississippi

Hernando de Soto, an early Spanish explorer, discovered the lower course of the Mississippi river in 1541. The Spaniards did not follow up his discovery and there is no further record of white men on the river for 122 years.

Tinting and Dyeing

The only difference between tinting and dyeing is in method. In tinting, you simply rinse the article in a lukewarm solution for a short period of time. The resulting color will survive a number of launderings, but it will not be a fast color in the commonly accepted meaning of the term. It is dyeing that produces fastness in color. This is done by use of hot water (not boiling) and/or in the dye-bath. Complete or nearly complete saturation is thus achieved. And, whereas a single vessel is employed in tinting, two vessels are recommended for the dyeing process. One vessel is used to prepare the dye solution—the dye being stirred in a quart of warm water until dissolved. The second vessel is for the dye-bath itself. It contains the article to be dyed.

Rev. V. Schroeder Named on Advisory Committee

Rev. V. E. Schroeder, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, has been appointed to the advisory committee for planning a statewide "Dr. Martin Luther Memorial Service" to be held in the Twin Cities on Sunday, February 17, it was announced this week by Martin H. Imm, president of the Lutheran Business and Professional Group of the Twin Cities, sponsors of the service.

"The service will be held in commemoration of the quadricentennial of the death of the great Reformer", Imm stated. "The effects of that reformation are still felt today in church, education, and state. Lutheranism has been one of the guiding and sustaining influences in this nation since its beginning and our modern educational systems owe much of their foundation to the principles and methods set forth by Luther".

Seventh Day Adventist Tithe Yields Large Sum

Rev. David K. Olson announced today that the financial report of the Seventh Day Adventist church submitted at a recent business meeting, revealed that during 1945 the average contribution per member to home and foreign mission work amounted to $187.99, and that the tithe alone segregated $1,895.60. He added that Beulah Carlson, Eunice Mae Olson and Darlene Nelson, who graduated last year from the church school, are now attending academies.

Wartime Role of Grocers Given High Praise at Pittsburgh Conference

Kenneth L. Estee, branch sales manager for H. J. Heinz Company, returned this week from Pittsburgh food conference with the declaration that "the American groceryman stands as an inspiration to all who have the economic welfare of the nation at heart."

Mr. Estee, who participated in a three-day discussion at which leading food scientists, processors and merchandisers surveyed the national food situation, said that "it will profit us to learn well the lesson that the grocer teaches that ingenuity, improvisation, courage, patience and enterprise are factors that point the way to a return of healthy competition and expanded and profitable business."

We should bear in mind," he added, "that the grocer, in spite of the harassing problems of ration points, war-time transportation, the constant shortages of consumer goods and a serious lack of help, was primarily responsible for the maintenance and efficient operation of our vast food distribution system during the war."

MAJ. H. C. JOHNSON WINS DECORATION

Former Local Doctor Given Legion of Merit

Major Harold C. Johnson, former local physician, a patient in Moore General Hospital Hospital since last October, was decorated with the Legion of Merit at the hospital Saturday morning, Jan. 19. A member of the medical corps, Major Johnson was cited for exceptional meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services in Luzon, Philippine Islands from January to May 1945 as commanding officer of the 56th portable surgical hospital.

According to the citation, Major Johnson rendered exceptional services to the wounded of the 32nd Infantry division during severe fighting along Villa Verde Trail. Establishing his unit close to the front lines, he reduced to a minum the interval between treatment.

"The extreme forward enemy positions subjected personal and installations to harassing artillery and mortar fire and several raids by the enemy subjected these positions to punishment by demolition charges, machine guns, and rifles. Despite these hazards Major Johnson's energy and determination to render the greatest possible medical and surgical skill overcame all difficulties to establish an enviable record for prompt and efficient treatment of casualties."

In service since January 1941, Major Johnson landed on Luzon with the 43d Division and at the end of the Japanese war was with the 6th Division near Gen. Yamashita's headquarters.

Chipped Enamel Ware

There is danger in using chipped enamelware. Now about copper. Acid foods shouldn't be cooked in copper vessels, Miss Lawrence says. And milk and foods containing saccharine shouldn't be kept in copper containers, since acids they contain may dissolve the copper. Furthermore, never fry foods in copper pans. Cooking foods in brass may not be harmful, but off-flavors may make the food impossible to eat. And incidentally, hard made in an iron pot will be fancied more quickly than lard made in steel or aluminum kettles.

Retina of Eye

The retina of the eye is not fastened to the inside of the eye, except at the edges of the cornea. The retina is held in place by the pressure of the jelly-like fluid in the interior of the eye.

MEADOWLARKS MOVE TO BARN FOR WINTER

University President To Be Inaugurated in Minneapolis Apr. 23-5

April 23, 24 and 25 have been set by the University of Minnesota as dates for the formal inaugural ceremonies for Dr. James Lewis Morrill, new president, which will be attended by distinguished educators from the country, Canada and other nations.

Preliminary announcement of plans was made by Dean Henry Schmitz, College of Agriculture, Forestry and Home Economics, who is serving as chairman of the inaugural committee in the absence of Dean Theodore C. Blegen, who is lecturing in California.

The last full-form inauguration of a University of Minnesota president took place May 13 and 14, 1921, when the late President Lotus Delta Coffman, fifth president, was inducted. Dr. Morrill is the eighth president of Minnesota.

FARM, HOME WEEK AT MINNESOTA 'U' CANCELED FOR '46

Crowded Housing Conditions in Twin Cities Given as Reason

Farm and Home Week, traditional winter short course given in January by the University of Minnesota for farmers and homemakers of the state, has been cancelled this year because of crowded housing conditions both on and off campus, it was announced today by J. O. Christianson, director of agricultural short course for the University department of agriculture.

Decision to postpone the course from January to some time in the future was made after a careful canvass of the housing situation. Normal attendance at the course before the war was around 3,000 persons who came to the Twin Cities for several days and severely taxed hotel and rooming facilities.

"We regret very much having to postpone Farm and Home Week because thousands of Minnesota rural people have come to look on it as a winter vacation and a refresher course," Mr. Christianson said, "but we think it would be unwise to invite all those people to come to University Farm when both housing and food service are inadequate and distress would be sure to result."

'A Time to Fight'

The congregation of the Lutheran church in Woodstock, Va., knew that Pastor John Peter Muhlenberg was preaching his last sermon on a Sunday in January, 1776, but did not know why. Toward the end he uttered the words "There is a time for preaching and praying, but also a time for battle, and such a time has now arrived." After giving his benediction he threw aside his clerical gown, stood before his congregation in the uniform of a colonel of the Continental army, read his commission, then told the drummers in the yard to "strike up!" Before nightfall 300 recruits had joined Muhlenberg in the Eighth Virginia regiment.

The annual 4-H Club Congress in Chicago was attended by nearly 1200 delegates from 47 states and Canada.

A Letter to the President of the United States

Hon. Harry S. Truman
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

Your proposal to me in Washington last evening that the wage demand of the United Steelworkers of America-CIO be settled on the basis of a wage increase of 18½ cents an hour, retroactive to January 1, 1946, cannot, I regret to say, be accepted by the United States Steel Corporation for the reasons set forth below.

As you must be aware, your proposal is almost equivalent to granting in full the Union's revised demand of a wage increase of 19½ cents an hour, which was advanced by Philip Murray, the President of the Union, at our collective bargaining conference with the Union in New York a week ago today. In our opinion, there is no just basis from any point of view for a wage increase to our steel workers of the large size you have proposed, which, if put into effect, is certain to result in great financial harm not only to this Corporation but also to users of steel in general.

As I have tried to make clear to you and other Government officials during our conferences in Washington over the past few days, there is a limit in the extent to which the Union wage demands can be met by us. We reached that limit when we raised our offer to the Union last Friday from a wage increase of 12½ cents an hour to one of 15 cents an hour. This would constitute the highest single wage increase ever made by our steel-making subsidiaries. Our offer of 15 cents was equivalent to meeting 60% of the Union's original excessive demand of a $2 a day general wage increase. Our offer met 75% of the Union's final proposal of a wage increase of 19½ cents an hour. A wage increase of 15 cents an hour, such as we offered, would increase the direct labor costs of our manufacturing subsidiaries by approximately $60,000,000 a year. That is a most substantial sum, and does not take into account the higher costs we shall have to pay for purchased goods and services, when large wage increases generally become effective throughout American industry, as is inevitable after a substantial increase in steel wages.

As you know, collective bargaining negotiations with the Union broke down at the White House yesterday afternoon, because Mr. Murray then refused to budge from his position that a country-wide steel strike must take place, unless steel workers are granted a general wage increase of 19½ cents an hour. Our offer of a wage increase of 15 cents an hour was again rejected by the Union.

The Union threatened to go ahead with its program for a national steel strike at midnight next Sunday, although such a strike will be a clear violation of the no-strike provision contained in our labor contracts with the Union, which continue by their terms until October 15, 1946.

From the outset, we have recognized how injurious a steel strike will be to reconversion and to the economy of this whole country. Most industries are dependent upon a supply of steel for their continued operations. We have done everything reasonably within our power to avert such a strike. If a strike occurs, the responsibility rests with the Union.

When the Government at the eleventh hour informed us about a week ago of its willingness to sanction an increase in steel ceiling prices, we at once resumed collective bargaining negotiations with the Union. Such price action by the Government was a recognition by it of the right of the steel industry to receive price relief because of past heavy increases in costs, something which the steel industry for many months has unsuccessfully sought to establish with OPA.

I should like again to point out some pertinent facts relative to the wages of our steel workers.

Since January, 1941, the average straight-time hourly pay, without overtime, of our steel workers has increased more than the 33% increase in the cost of living during that period, recently computed by Government authorities. Steel workers' wages have kept pace with increased living costs. Such average straight-time pay in our steel-producing subsidiaries was $1.14 an hour in each of the months of September, October and November 1945, excluding any overtime premium and any amount for correction of possible wage inequities. An increase of 15 cents, in accordance with our offer, would raise such average straight-time pay to $1.29 an hour, placing such pay among the highest today in all of American industry.

Under our offer of a 15 cent increase, the average weekly take-home pay of our steel workers for a forty-hour week would amount to $51.60, assuming that no overtime is involved. This figure is only $4.54 less than the actual average weekly earnings of these employees, including overtime, in the last full war year of 1944, when the average work week was 46.1 hours. The difference is really less, because we will undoubtedly continue to have overtime in the future, just as we have at the present time. In November, 1945, overtime premiums to our steel workers aggregated more than $1,800,000. Such reduction of $4.54 in weekly take-home pay is the natural consequence of a shorter work week of forty hours, and therefore one of lower production.

Much as we desire to avoid a steel strike, we cannot overlook the effect both on this Corporation and on our customers and American business in general, of the 18½ cent an hour wage increase, which you have proposed. Such a wage increase must result in higher prices for steel than have previously been proposed to us by the Government. Great financial harm would soon follow for all users of steel who would be obliged to pay higher prices for their steel, higher wages to their employees, and still have the prices for their own products subject to OPA control. Such a high and unjustified wage scale might well spell financial disaster for many of the smaller steel companies and for a large number of steel fabricators and processors. The nation needs the output of these companies. Increased wages and increased prices which force companies out of business can only result in irreparable damage to the American people.

In our judgment, it is distinctly in the public interest to take into account the injurious effect upon American industry of an unjustified wage increase in the steel industry.

After a full and careful consideration of your proposal, we have reached the conclusion above stated.

Respectfully yours,

Benjamin F. Fairless,
President, United States Steel Corp.

THE STATE OF THE NATION.

President Truman made a lengthy report to Congress this week on the state of the nation and outlined a program that he recommended for the consideration of the lawmakers. There was little new in this program, most of his recommendations having been advanced by him previously. Some of these have little chance of being enacted into law, judging by the previous reaction to them in Congress.

His message on the budget was encouraging in that he gave official recognition to the fact that deficit spending cannot go on indefinitely. A balanced budget cannot be achieved of course by drawing on reserves to make up a deficit, but to hear direct from the head of our government that we must start using a little common sense in our national finances is cheering indeed for the holders of Uncle Sam's IOU's.

As a solution for our economic ills Mr. Truman proposes higher wages, made possible by higher production, without increasing prices. That thought is in line with the record of the past hundred years. More efficient methods of production have gradually raised the standard of living of the American people and it is reasonable to assume that with continued improvement in production methods and efficiency, the cost of goods can be lowered or wages increased, which amounts to the same thing. It is not likely however that this can be accomplished by government directives. A few industries probably can raise wages without increasing their per unit production costs but for most industries such a process must extend over a period of time, and any arbitrary general wage increase must necessarily result in higher costs to the consumer. It is more in the interests of the country as a whole to pass along the benefits of improved production methods in the form of lower consumer costs. That means wage increases and higher living standards for all of us.

Mr. Truman's program of higher wages is definitely inflationary. If it is desirable to raise wages and prices in order to increase the volume of national income in order to increase the government's revenue from income taxes, then it might be said that the program has merit. The government could accomplish the same purpose by declaring that henceforth the fifty cent piece would be called a dollar and serve the purpose of a dollar in the payment of debts. Or, to make it less complicated, the government could declare that it would settle its debts at 50% of their face value with honest dollars.

The proposed continuation of food subsidies is also inflationary and not in the best interests of sound government fiscal policy. Leading farm organizations are opposed to a continuation of subsidies probably for the reason that they generally are looked upon as farm subsidies when in reality they are consumer subsidies. Uncle Sam insists on paying a part of our grocery bills and that doesn't make sense. If we can't pay our food bills now then what are we going to do when the going gets tough again and Uncle Sam's credit is exhausted?

General Short and Admiral Kimmel have now expressed themeselves on the Pearl Harbor episode. After reading the testimony of witnesses who have come and gone over a period of many weeks it would be difficult for us to find any one or two individuals alone responsible for this disaster and we can see no justification for placing all of the blame on Kimmel and Short. They probably were negligent but the testimony does not indicate that they alone were negligent. And we cannot overcome a suspicion that some of the higher-ups who pointed the finger of shame at Kimmel and Short were equally responsible with them for our unpreparedness when the shooting began. Our leaders didn't make many blunders in the conduct of this war. The record, by and large, is excellent. Our sympathy goes to the two men who might have distinguished themselves but who got a bad break.

Everything seems to be in a state of confusion but, after all, was there ever a more interesting period of time in which to be alive?

In Memoriam

A little while and then we'll understand,
Just why it was that grim
deaths icy hand,
Clasped in its cold embrace the boy we loved,
Took him from our midst the one whom we had proved,
Turned joy to sorrow, wrung our hearts with pain./
And caused the tears of bitterness to fall like rain,
Oh well: Life's hour-glass shows
the fleeting sand,
A little while and then we'll understand.
In memory of our dear nephew and cousin, Glenn E. Ranum, who was killed on Luzon one year ago Jan. 27, 1945.—Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ranum Betty Lou and Pat. 4p

Pirates Edge Out Local Quint; EGF Here Friday

The Prowlers, after holding a scoring advantage throughout the first thirty minutes of play, faltered in the final two minutes of the game to lose a 27 to 26 decision to the Crookston Pirates in an exciting but erratic district contest played at Crookston Friday night.

Inability to convert points from the free throw line was the direct cause for the Prowler loss, for the locals were able to make good on but eight tries in 23 attempts. And in a hectic overtime game, the Prowler 'B' team, by a 22 to 20 score, defeated the Crookston 'B' team, in a preliminary to the varsity contest.

On Friday night, on the local floor, the Prowlers will meet the East Grand Forks 'A' and 'B' squads, with the locals favored to win.

The first period of Friday night's game found the Prowlers, on a pair of field goals by Ninsk Carlson and a field goal by Brad Hanna, holding a 6 to 3 lead. Both teams were guarding closely, with the Prowlers employing a zone defense, while the Pirates were utilizing a man-to-man defense.

Hanna increased the Prowlers margin in the second period with a rebound shot, and after Madson had counted a Pirate free throw, Hanna drove in for a set-up shot. Rog Tunberg broke up a Pirate play in mid-court, and, in the last second of play, Andy Carey looped in a field goal from the side-line to slice the Prowler lead from 12 to 9 at the half.

Hanna opened the second half scoring with a field goal on a dribble in play, when fouled on the shot, Brad added a point on a free throw. Carey and Don Wheelhouse marked up Pirate points on free throws. Ken Borshein popped in a free throw, but Madson, with a one-handed shot, added a pair of Pirate points. Hanna scored on a free throw, only to have Wheelhouse connect with a field goal and pair the Prowler lead to two points 17 to 15. Tunberg, from the corner, swished in a looping shot, and Hanna's free throw, gave the locals a 20 to 15 lead into the final period.

Hanna's free throw made the score 21 to 15. Madson and Tunberg exchanged field goals, but Carey pumped in a long shot for the Pirates, and Wheelhouse' try from the side of the court brought the Crookston total to 21 points. Hedemark made good on a free throw try, so that with four minutes to play the Prowlers led, 24 to 21. Carey made a one-handed over-the-head shot, and Hafterson, recovering a rebound following a free throw, tipped in a field goal, moving the Pirates into the lead, 26 to 24. Carlson, fouled by Youngquist tied the score, and when a technical foul was called on Peterson for failing to report to the scorer, Carlson added another point to give the Prowlers a 1 point lead with two minutes to play. Wheelhouse, from the left side of the court, dropped in the field goal that gave the Pirates the win. In the final minute of play, the Pirates were able to control the ball the greater part of the time and were able to force several held ball plays.

Brad Hanna, with four field goals and four free throws, was the high scorer for the game, having 12 points to his credit. Brad was effective in driving in for shots, scoring three times on dribble in plays. Manley Madson, with 8 points, was the high scorer for the Pirates.

PROWLER SEXTET STILL UNBEATEN

Whip Crookston, Hallock; Roseau Here Saturday

The Prowler hockey squad continued on its undefeated pace by winning two hockey games during the week. On Saturday night, playing Crookston, the locals defeated Cathedral, 7 to 0; and on Tuesday night, on the Arena ice, the Prowlers scored a 6 to 1 win over Hallock. Coach Connie Stanbridge's team will engage in an important game on Saturday night when they meet Oscar Almquist's Roseau sextet on the local ice.

Saturday night's game at Crookston, except for the alert and agile net-minding of goalie Ralph England, who racked up his third straight shut-out, was an erratic exhibition of hockey, with the Prowlers apparently experiencing a "let down" from their performance against Roseau earlier in the week. Goals by Bud Brossoit and Wes Hovie gave the Prowlers a 2 to 0 first period lead; and Swede Lund's goal, with assists by Brossoit and Ammundson, increased the lead early in the second period. Brossoit notched the period's second goal, giving the Prowlers a 4 to 0 lead.

Wes Hovie's two goals and Brossoit's score, brought the Prowlers game score to 7 to 0 in the third period. Hovie and Brossoit were the game's high scorers, getting three goals apiece.

Tuesday night's game with Hallock was featured by the spectacular goal-tending of Hallock's Bob Blair, and except for his work in the nets, Hallock would have been stamped. Hallock drew a lead in first period lead when, midway in the period, Bob Krumholz recovered Earl Glidden's rebound and backhanded a shot past Larry Hylden and into the nets.

The Prowlers knotted the count early in the second period when red haired Don Hoge fired a shot from just off the red line and beat Blair; and a minute later Wes Hovie, picking up the puck at his own blue line, stick-handled through the defense and came in close to drive a hard shot past the Hallock goalie. Les Vigness accounted for the third goal when he slammed Hoge's rebound into the nets, giving the Prowlers a 3 to 1 lead.

Hovie and Brossoit, the Prowler co-captains, accounted for the game's final tallies in the third period. Hovie getting the first counter after taking a pass from Brossoit and skating in on goalie Blair and beating him with a short shot from just outside the crease. Brossoit's goal, on a pass from Hovie, found Bud hitting the corner of the net with a shot from the red line.

QUINT WINS FINAL TILT UNDER HANNA

Whip Red Lake Falls 47-20 Last Saturday

Coach Glenn Hanna made his last bow as director of Prowler athletics Saturday night by leading the Prowler basketball team to an easy 47 to 20 win over the Red Lake Falls team in a game played at Red Lake Falls. And in a preliminary game Coach Don Nelson's squad, with Allan Williamson collecting 12 field goals, swamped the Red Lake Falls 'B' team, 66 to 20.

The Prowlers, with Rog Tunberg, Ninsk Carlson, and Brad Hanna each getting three field goals, picked up a commanding lead in the first half of Friday night's game, having a 26 to 9 advantage at the intermission. The locals led, 17 to 4, at the end of the first period.

With the reserves playing in the third period, Red Lake Falls made the strongest scoring gesture, counting 9 points while the Prowlers were notching 11 points. In the final period, the Prowlers, holding Red Lake Falls to 3 points, scored 10 points to bring their game-point total to 47.

Carlson, with 12 points, and Tunberg, with 10 points, were the high scorers for the Prowlers: while 9 points, was the high point man for Coach Martin Husby's Eagles.

THIEVES DEFEAT ROSEAU TEAM 7-5

To Play Grafton Six at Arena Next Sunday

Two nifty third period goals, by Connie Stanbridge and Fred Gustafson, broke a 5-all deadlock and gave the Thieves a well-earned 7 to 5 win over the Roseau Cloverleafs in a senior hockey game here Sunday afternoon. This evening the locals will travel to Grafton for a game with the Millionaires; and on Sunday the Millionaires will play a return game with the Thieves on the Arena ice.

After Roseau, on Peterson's goal had taken an early lead in Sunday's encounter, Lloyd Johnson, on a rebound shot, tied the score midway in the first period. "Pug" Lund, with a hard shot from just inside the blue line, beat goalie Bennett, to send the Thieves into the lead; and a short while later Gustafson, making the first of his four goals, flipped a back-hand shot into the nets. Roseau added a tally on Markstrom's backhand shot from close in; but Gustafson, on a neat combination play with Stanbridge, boosted the Thieves lead to 4 to 2 at the end of the period.

Playing their best hockey, the Cloverleafs, in the second period, piled up three goals to tie the score. Gustafson, on a solo rush, counted the Thieves goal in the period.

In the final period, Bill Gray and Stanbridge, with Bray sending a pass out to Stanbridge in front of the Roseau net, combined for the game-winning score; and a moment later Gustafson and Stanbridge, with Gustafson getting a pass from Stanbridge and coming in close to feint goalie Bennett out of the net and slide the puck into the laces, added to the locals margin.

Freddy Gustafson turned in the game's outstanding performance, scoring four goals and being a threat every time he carried the puck. Habstritt for the Cloverleafs, was the most effective player for the northerners.

Keeping Score
.... WITH HUCK OLSON

No Idle Boast

Apparently that challenge, issued by the high school girls, was founded on substance, for on Sunday afternoon the female of the species proved more deadly than the male, for the girls, by a 3852 to 3785 score, or a 67-pin margin, defeated the high school boys in a three-game total-pins match. For the girls, Gevling, with games of 139-120-150, Snelling, with games of 107-167-126, and Stadum, with scores of 116-132-122, were the high scorers. Bud Brossoit's 183-187-159 was the high total for the boys.

The boys, a bit ugly and mumbling to themselves since Sunday, have issued a challenge for a return match on Sunday.

Some Revisions

Judged on the week's practice sessions, it appears that Coach John Lindenmeyer, who has taken over the direction of the Prowler basketball squad, will shake up the locals style of play. Coach Lindenmeyer in the offensive drills has been working with a lineup that has Ninsk Carlson and Kenny Borshein at the guards, Rog Tunberg, Johnny Powell or Glen Magnuson at the forwards, and Brad Hanna at center. And defensively it appears that the Prowlers will utilize a man to man defense instead of the zone defense.

It's quite a handicap for a squad to change coaches and style of play in mid-season, so the Prowlers may have difficulty in defending Snook's Sullivan's East Grand Forks team here on Friday night. The Green Wave, too, is having its troubles, for Sullivan was forced to cut a couple of squad members off the roster, one a regular, because of breaking training rules.

There has been an addition to the Prowler varsity squad, for Linnebom has "drafted" Marlow Davidson from Don Nelson's 'B' squad. And that was a deserved move for southpaw Marlow for the redheaded center has been a standout in all of the 'B' squad games.

He's Quite a Help

The Thieves, the senior hockey team, has been able to put a couple of entries in the game-winning size of the ledger, and those entries have been due largely to the play of Freddy Gustafson. Fred, a member of the last States-Dominion hockey team we had here, and which won the league championship, has proved that he's lost none of ability he flashed back in those days. Two of four goals he scored on Sunday were extra-special, for in the second and third periods Gus carried the puck to the goal-mouth, pulled goalie Bennett out of the net with a nifty feint and slipped the puck into the goal.

And it's good news to report that Freddy may move down here, from Winnipeg, and be available for all the games that the Thieves have on the schedule.

Ever Victorious

Owen Korsmo's Kelly Greens, an independent basketball team composed of high school seniors, are looking for more worlds to conquer. The boys, this week, defeated Goodridge high school team, and that was the tenth straight win for the Greens, and numbered among their victims are Newfolden Plummer, the Fisher 'B' team, and the Erskine 'B' team, and the Prowler 'B' team. Of course, this victory string is due to the inspirational coaching and playing leadership of Owen Korsmo, who is the team's schedule maker, the team's trainer, the team's coach, and the team's publicity agent.

Don't Miss

The high school hockey game coming up on Saturday night, with the Prowlers playing, for the third time, the Roseau team. Last week the Prowlers defeated Roseau, 5 to 0, at Roseau, and if you know Roseau's Oscar Almquist, you know that he's not going to let that defeat go by without some revenge. Roseau, in spite of being erratic in that game, is still the team to fear in this region.

VITAL STATISTICS REGISTRY RULES CHANGED JAN. 1ST.

Clerk of Court to Play Important Role in Revised Procedure

Beginning January 1 Minnesota's system of registering births and deaths was changed to conform with the new vital registration law passed at the 1945 session of the state legislature.

The chief difference between the new law and the old is in the routing of the original births and death records which formerly were sent directly to the state department of Health by the local registrars who receive them from physicians, undertakers or others responsible for reporting them.

Under the new law, original births and deaths certificates will be filed as usual with the local registrars. These registrars will copy them at once into their registers and forward the originals to the clerks of court within three days. The clerk of court will therefore have records of all births or deaths in his county within a few days after the event.

At this point, a second difference between the new law and the old enters: Upon receipt of the original birth certificates, the clerk of court will copy the entire certificates, then enter certain particulars on printed inquiry forms and send them to the mothers of the babies concerned. The mothers will certify as to the correctness of the particulars, or will indicate desired changes and return the forms to the clerks. The clerks will amend their copies of the certificates as authorized by the mothers. On the tenth of each month the clerks will forward to the state department of health all original births and deaths certificates and corrections he has received during the previous month.

A third difference between the new and old laws is the fee allowed the local registrar. At present he receives twenty-five cents for each certificate filed or each card filed on time reporting that no births or deaths have occurred in a given month; under the law he will receive fifty cents for each certificate or card.

The basic system of birth and death registration in Minnesota will not be changed by the new law because the state board of health will continue to have jurisdiction over all who are responsible for filing certificates.

NEWSPAPERS AID IN HOLDING DOWN TRAFFIC DEATHS

Reports Indicate Deaths for 1945 Will about Equal 1942 Total

Minnesota have been a big factor in safety activities which have kept the state's traffic deaths, in spite of recent increases at less than average rate, A. V. Rohweder of Duluth, president of the Minnesota Safety Council, said to day in a statement reviewing the 1945 accident record.

"Final reports will probably show the 1945 traffic deaths about equal to the 1942 total of 439 killed," said Mr. Rohweder. "This is considerably higher than the 274 deaths in 1943 and 355 in 1944, but far below the 1941 total of 626.

"Latest reports show a rate of 7.2 deaths per 100,000,000 vehicle miles of travel in Minnesota in 1945, compared to a national average rate of 10.4. Our rate was 7.4 in 1944, 6.1 in 1943, 7.1 in 1942 and 9.2 in 1941 compared to national averages ranging from 10.2 to 12.6 in these years.

"If the Minnesota rate had been as high as the national average, we would have had 180 more deaths in 1945 and 1,050 more in the last five years than we actually had.

"The newspapers of Minnesota, under the leadership of the editor's traffic safety committee organized in 1940, are entitled to a large share of the credit for this good showing. Day after day and week after week they have devoted valuable space to a consistent effort to make drivers and pedestrians safety minded and aware of the hazards in modern motor vehicle traffic.

"Radio stations, schools, local safety councils, state and local traffic law enforcement agencies, and innumerable civic groups and individuals have done invaluable work. Their activities have been made doubly effective by the splendid team work which characterizes the whole safety movement in Minnesota."

ENROLLMENT AT UNIVERSITY NEAR PRE-WAR RECORD

Attendance at Winter Quarter up More than 5,000 over 1945

Rapid demobilization of veterans and the fact that more of them are seeking a college education than had been anticipated were reasons given last week for the fact that the University of Minnesota leaped in a single bound from a war-time level of registration to practically the pre-war peak.

As winter quarter registration neared its end Dr. William S. Carlson, University of Minnesota director of admissions, estimated that final reports would show approximately 14,630 will be civilian students and 900 students being taught on contract for the army and navy.

The 14,820 now reported are made up, he said, of 13,920 regularly enrolled, an increase of 63 per cent over the number in college last year at this time, and the 900 contract military students. At the corresponding date last winter enrollment was 8299 civilians and perhaps 2,000 contract students.

Biggest gains over a year ago are 237 percent in the Institute of Technology, 229 percent in the law school, 219 percent in the school of business administration, 128 percent in Pharmacy, 80 percent in the General college, 73 percent in the college of science, Literature and the arts and 58 percent in agriculture, forestry and home economics.

In the terms of actual students the college of Science, literature and the arts is up 2193, institute of technology, 1639, general college, 401, and in the entire university a gain of 5621 students above the winter quarter of 1945. Gain over the fall quarter just past is 37 percent, Dr. Carlson said.

Mayan Money

Cocoa beans were the most commonly used monetary unit of the ancient Central American Mayas. Their value fluctuated according to their supply and demand. At one period a slave cost 100 cocoa beans.

Small disks of stone were also used as coin, properly incised to represent feathers. The owner of many great plumes was a man of wealth.

Gold was not used as money but was it esteemed as precious as jade. Green was a sacred color as the good earth favors green, the growing crops, the forests, the plumage of birds, reeds on the river banks and medicinal herbs and leaves. So green was the Mayan symbol of value.

Short for 'Kaput'

"Nazi" came into general use with the rise of national Socialism in the 1920s as an abbreviation, pertaining to the South German or Austrian origin, of the German "Nationalsozialist" which reproduced the first two syllables in phonetic spelling.

Two Rivers Most of Brazil

Two river basins, those of the Amazon and La Plata, comprise about three-fifths of Brazil's area.

How Well Has General Electric Met These Objectives?

HIGHER WAGES

Here's how General Electric's increased production and efficiency have affected G-E workers. Average hourly earnings for men, plus including overtime pay, have gone up as follows:

1938	$ .73
1937	.81
1938	.87
1939	.86
1940	.85
1941	.89
1942	.96
1943	1.05
1944	1.09
1945 (Sept.)	1.09

Overtime pay gave G-E workers more on top of this; G.E. has made jobs for nearly three times as many, 61,781 worked for G.E. nine years ago.

In 1945 an average of 145,000 had jobs at G.E. and at much higher pay.

LOWER PRICES

G.E. has an obligation to a second group of people—the public. The public wants the improved products at fair prices.

"More goods for more people at less cost"—G.E.'s goal—is not a part-time sentiment. It is a job for management and workers alike. It's up to keep growing, keep making wages, keep making more jobs for more workers, too.

A few figures show typical price decreases since 1938:

Refrigerator
1938	$189.00
Lamp
1935	.15
1948	.10
1944	OPA TAG
Transformer
1935	76.32
Motor
1935	12.60
1941	8.80
Radio
1935	47.50

FAIR PROFITS

G.E. during the war earned 4.7¢ on each dollar of sales. Of this, 4.3¢ was paid to its 36,000 stockholders and the remaining six-tenths of a cent on each dollar was retained in the business to assist in carrying on and expanding its operations.

All through the years since this 4.3¢ was turned back to the U.S. Government. G-E cost-saving methods had made even more dollars into money than the Government expected.

These dividends have been declared per share of common stock since 1936:

1936	$1.50
1937	2.20
1938	.90
1939	1.40
1940	1.84
1941	1.75
1942	1.40
1943	1.40
1944	1.40
1945	1.60

GENERAL ELECTRIC'S OBJECTIVE has been to keep prices moving downward, keep wages going up, and to earn a fair profit. This calls for volume production, more efficient work and methods. With the help of every single employee, General Electric believes it can show our country, as it did in wartime, an example of American enterprise at its best.

IS THIS A "SCRAP OF PAPER"?

The CIO---United Steel Workers Union said that its strike does not violate its contracts with steel companies. Here is the "no strike" clause taken from a typical contract. LET THE WORDS SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES!

"During the term of this Agreement, neither the Union nor any Employee, individually or collectively, shall cause or take part in any strike, or other interruption or any impeding of production at any plant of the Company covered by this Agreement. Any Employee or Employees who violate the provisions of this Section may be discharged from the employ of the Company in accordance with the procedure of Section 8 of this Agreement."

This provision, or one similar to it, is contained in each contract between the Union and the various steel companies. These contracts continue by their terms until the autumn of this year.

Too Many Toys

It is the day after Christmas. Judy, aged seven, has received five dolls, eight books, one tea set, two painting sets, for Misses' lotto, carom board, Checker board, five parchesi-type games, modelling clay, two 550-piece jigsaw puzzles, and a ready to sew doll kit containing cut out material to be made into dresses. In addition, she has a large collection of usable toys left over from previous birthdays and Christmases. She has looked at all the new toys briefly and now she wonders what to play with next. Her attention flits from one to another. She doesn't concentrate on any more than a few minutes.

What is to be done about this surplus of toys? Some of them are too advanced for her present level of interest as well as of her ability, for example, the jigsaw puzzles, the sewing kit, and several of the games and books. Since Judy already has a number of dolls, battered and old but dearly beloved, she is not especially interested in the new ones. The games require someone else to play with her, so she cannot enjoy them alone. How can Judy really appreciate all these?

One excellent way of taking care of this situation is to put away most of the toys for a rainy day. The ones which are too complicated for Judy now may be just right in a few months or a year. The others may be much more intriguing if they are brought out one at a time after the novelty has worn off the Christmas toys with which Judy has been playing. The games may be saved for times when Judy's friends come to visit.

Perhaps sometime during the year Judy will be sick and have to stay in bed for a few days. Anyone who has tried to keep a convalescent youngster quiet in bed knows that this is difficult. The child is apt to be irritable and bored with familiar toys. In many places it is difficult to buy toys at any other time of the year. A few reserve toys will be useful at such a time.

Children have a limited attention span and cannot really appreciate a large number of toys at one time. At Christmas there is often more excitement than usual, with the family opening gifts, friends coming in and a general atmosphere of gaiety and festivity. Under such circumstances the child is even more likely to be overstimulated by an abundance of toys. The wise parent can remove some of the surplus Christmas toys to serve as a reserve, and bring out new toys as the need arises. It may be worthwhile to put away some of the older familiar toys also. When they are presented again to the child, it will be like finding a long lost friend. Thus the "rainy day" box can serve a number of useful purposes.

FOXES DON'T SEEM SO FOXY AFTER ALL

Wheaton—When two hunters shoot lost the trail of a fox near Wheaton two friends enjoying a spin in a tiny airplane followed him, watched him down a hole, pointed it out to the hunters, and they got the fox. Near Lancaster Kenneth Ostgard, returning from Camp McCoy with his discharged soldier brother, saw a fox merrily chasing his tail. He stopped and used the car crank with such good effect that a grey pelt more than paid the expense of the trip. Only unsolved mystery is why the fox made like a merry-go-round.

DOG CATNAPS KITTEN AND RAISES COMPANION

Buhl—Many years ago an unidentified dog belonging to a trojer dweller here, catnapped a tiny kitten and mothered it affectionately to a healthy maturity. Now the dog is 15 and the cat full grown and the two are inseparable companions night and day.

MARCH OF DIMES NOW UNDER WAY THRUOUT STATE

State Chairman Anticipates Record Contributions to Polio Drive

The annual March of Dimes, fund raising activity of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is now underway and according to Arthur D. Reynolds of St. Paul, state chairman, indications are that Minnesota will make a new record for contributions.

The fund was established to fight infantile paralysis through treatment and research. Half of the money collected remains in the county that cotributed it; half goes to the National Foundation.

The foundation goes to the assistance of any community stricken with the crippling disease the minute the citizens indicate that help is needed. The foundation also sets up large grants to medical schools and Universities for research into the causes and the treatment of infantile paralysis.

Every county has a local chairman and the work of collecting the dimes is all volunteered. There is almost no expense connected with the raising of the fund which may one day wipe out the disease which hits both adult and children alike. The campaign will continue through the month of January and is in the nature of memorial to the late President Roosevelt.

One went on, and Kneeland was home in St. Peter the next morning.

FLAX PRICE TO BE SUPPORTED AGAIN FOR 1946 SEASON

Indications Favor Base of $3.60 Per Bushel in Minneapolis

The department of agriculture has set the stage to make flaxseed one of the most profitable cash crops in the Northwest this season, offering a support price of $3.60 per bushel, Minneapolis basis for flax during the 1946 season.

Details of the support price plan were still lacking, but according to the best information available, the payment to the producer will be either on an acreage basis or on an acreage-production basis.

How the $3.60 per bushel is arrived at is of little import and the principal item of interest to the flax producer is the fact that he will receive a price equal to $3.60 per bushel for his seed when he markets it.

The government enthusiasm for the flax payment apparently stems from the poor outlook for imports of flaxseed from Argentina and Canada in the next two years. Canada is raising only enough flax seed to care for its own needs at the present time while Argentina has strong commitments in Europe for any surplus which might be produced in the Southern Hemisphere.

This combination of circumstances, in view of the almost unlimited demand for linseed oil for painting purposes during the impending building boom, creates a very favorable situation for the flax producer.

Offsets Benefits

Mineral oil dressing can offset the vitamin A benefits from a green salad. The vitamin A value of butter or cream is lost when mineral oil is taken.

Notice to Knitters: Mrs. A. B. McLaughlin, Red Cross Knitting Chairman sends out an S. O. S. for knitters as well as to call for yarn to be knitted into sleeveless sweaters for soldiers occupied countries. At least half of the yarn is still in h possession and will make up into about twenty or more sweaters. It is hoped that more knitters will volunteer for this service.

There is still a large amount of cotton flannel to be cut out for layettes in the sewing room over the Northern State Bank. If you can't sew, we would appreciate your coming out some Friday afternoon between 2 and 5 P. M. to help with the cutting.

If you can sew, it only takes a minute or two run up to the room on a Friday afternoon and take home pieces to sew in your leisure moments. The war isn't over in the respect that clothing is now needed to clothe infants of war torn countries. There are thousands more still needing the help we can give them, and your "little bit" will go a long way to relieve the suffering that still exists. Different women's organizations about town are calling for material to be handed out to members to sew as part of the work during the year. If your group has not all ready done so, will you be a committee of one to bring the matter before your group at your next meeting?

Dry in Shade

You can keep your best cotton clothes looking new longer if you will hang them in the shade to dry after they are washed. Bright sunlight fades the color and deteriorates the fiber of cotton goods.

In the discussion Monday evening, the committee brought out that the employment service is deeply interested in seeing that veterans returning to their homes in the Thief River Falls area be given productive jobs. START OF HIGHWAY PROGRAM DELAYED

Call for Bids to Await More Settled Conditions

Unsettled industrial conditions have delayed starting Minnesota's postwar highway construction program, according to M. J. Hoffman, commissioner of highways. Taking bids on two lists of projects originally set for February 5 and 16 and later changed to February 18 and March 1, has been indefinitely postponed. Only bids to be taken in near future will be for necessary work and materials.

"New dates for bids on construction projects will not be set until conditions affecting labor, material and equipment are more settled," Mr. Hoffman said. "When new dates are set, three weeks will be required for advertising before bids are taken, and after contracts are let some time is required on the part of contractors to make arrangements for actual starting of the work.

"It had been hoped that by taking bids in February, preliminaries could be cleared away so that work could start as soon as weather permits in the spring. Now, unfortunately it will be considerably later before any work can start.

"Besides the lettings scheduled for February 5 and 15, other lettings were planned at intervals during the spring and summer, and these will be correspondingly delayed. The carefully programmed construction would have permitted in 1946, even if conditions become settled so that it is possible to let contracts for this amount of work before the end of the year, with the late start few projects can be completed before winter. There was but a relatively small carry-over into 1946 from contracts let in 1945. The amount of work that can be actually completed in 1946 will, therefore be far less than what the amount of money available could finance."

FARM BUREAU TO OPPOSE HEAVIER TAXES ON CO-OPS

Resolutions Adopted at Annual Meeting of State Organization

The placing of new, additional taxes on farm co-operative organizations will be strenously opposed by the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, which at its 27th annual meeting Jan. 14-16, declared that "We believe that co-operatives are performing a service for their members and that any so-called profit may be paid in the form of so-called dividends is only final payment on the product sold or an overcharge for the services rendered. As such it is not a profit to the organization and as such should should not be taxable."

Thus the Farm Bureau is committed to continue the fight in opposition to the anti-cooperative tax bill before congress, says J. S. Jones, executive secretary.

Frank W. Whitt, of Marshall, and Ole Flaat, of Fisher, were re-elected by unanimous vote to the offices of president and first vice president, respectively, Lewis Larson, Albert Lea, president of the Freeborn County Farm Bureau, was elected second vice president, succeeding H. M. Sword, Deer River. Herbert F. Johnson, of Hedley, president of the Murray County Farm Bureau, and E. B. Herseth, member of the board of directors of the Kittson County Farm Bureau, succeed L. O. Jacob, of Anoka, and Harry Burau, of Fergus Falls, on the executive board. Mr. Herseth's address is Drayton, N. D.

The Farm Bureau, composed of 61,171 Minnesota farm families, expressed its opposition to attempts of labor unions to impress farmers into membership in unions and demand that "labor organizations and their members both be liable for all injury to persons or property resulting from strikes or picketing action."

Better educational opportunities for rural children were urged by the federation and by the home and community department. Among the 23 resolutions adopted were statements urging maintenance of parity prices, a stepping up of the REA program and establishment of sound farmer-controlled farm credit services, consolidated under a single, non-partisan board.

Compulsory military training was opposed. More funds for the development of the College of Agriculture, University Farm, were prayed.

Handle With Care

In the use of fumigants, such as calcium or sodium cyanide, keep the fumigants in tight containers, labeled plainly, and stored in a dry, safe place. Use only if familiar with their poisonous nature and with methods of application. Carbon disulphide, the common grain fumigant, is highly inflammable; great care must be used in storing and using it. For applying fumigants to buildings, the No. 1 rule is to employ only experienced operators and supply the labor with approved gas masks and with special clothes to protect the skin at all times, during work.

Mrs. Hilda Sand, 47, Passes Away Friday; Rites This Afternoon

After a two year confinement at the Oakland Park sanatorium, Mrs. Hilda Sand passed away Friday, Jan. 25, at the age of 47. Mrs. Sand had resided in this city for the past 16 years.

WARD'S... First Quality

RIVERSIDES

Here are FIVE big reasons why the Riverside tires you get today are even stronger than Ward's first quality prewar tires! (1) each individual cord is stronger to begin with; then (2) chemically-strengthened to stay stronger; next (3) the cords are liquid-dipped "welded" together; and (4) cushioned in rubber. Finally (5) the plies are cemented together before vulcanizing as an extra precaution against separation—to provide greater blow-out protection.

If we are temporarily out of your size, remember, new tires are arriving at Wards every week. (And selling fast!)

Wold; saxophone solo by June Barstad; songs by Dolores and Edna Omundson and Mrs. Benhard Wold; and poem read by Pearl Peterson.

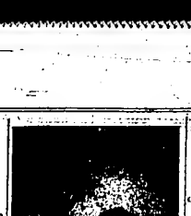
Shirred Eggs

Shirred or baked eggs are easy to prepare for breakfast. Just break the egg into a buttered baking cup or individual casserole, sprinkle with salt and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) until set, or for about 20 minutes. For an added touch, cover the egg with one tablespoon of cream or rich milk before baking.

If you want to serve baked eggs for luncheon, line the individual baking dish or ramekin with buttered crumbs, cover with one tablespoon of minced cooked ham, liver, chicken or sausage and slip the egg into the dish. Pour in one tablespoon of cream or rich milk; sprinkle with salt and pepper and buttered bread crumbs if you want a brown crust. Bake in a moderate oven for about 20 minutes. To vary this you might use tomato sauce for the liquid in place of the cream or milk.

Repels Sharks



Sharks will not eat dead shark meat. So now, for use in shark-infested waters, scientists have devised a repellent of decomposed shark meat about the size of a small bar of soap, which is pinned to the life jacket.

"MUST REPAIR" TAGS INCREASE

Highway Patrol Reports on Faulty Equipment

Progressive deterioration of motor vehicles is reflected in the 1945 report of the Minnesota highway patrol, which showed tags issued in 434 in 1944.

The 1945 tags included 1,620 cases of faulty brakes, compared to 1,232 in 1944. Headlights, taillights, clearance lamps, windshield wipers, warning devices mufflers, rear vision mirrors, steering gear, lights and flares, are some of the other items of equipment which "must repair" tags when they do not comply with legal requirements.

Arrests for speed violations dropped from 4304 in 1944 to 2,422 in 1945, due to the mid-year ending of wartime speed restrictions. Arrests for driving while under influence of intoxicants increased from 472 in 1944 to 550 in 1945. Arrests for all causes in 1945 totaled 10,407, compared to 11,747 in 1944. Fines imposed totaled $152,662 in 1945 and $153,654 in 1944.

The patrol gave 21,124 oral warnings to motorists for minor infractions of the traffic act and issued 5,531 warning tickets. The latter are entered on the drivers license records and repeated violations may bring arrest or suspension of drivers license.

Pressing Woolens

When pressing spring woolens, it's best to use two press cloths—one of wool material and one of firm cotton or linen. Put the wool press cloth on the wrong side of the material to be pressed, then the dampcloth. The two press cloths may be stitched together, and the cotton cloth dampened with a sponge or wet cloth. Do not use so much moisture on the press cloth that the water penetrates to the garment. Using two cloths flattens the seams without making them hard and shiny.

After putting the press cloths over the woolen garment, press, do not iron. Use the patting motion rather than the back and forth ironing motion. Patting instead of ironing prevents the nap from being flattened and the garment from becoming shiny. Do not press wool material entirely dry.

H. S. SIX DEFEATS HALLOCK TUESDAY

Prowlers Victorious by Score of 3 to 1

Playing at Hallock on Tuesday evening, the Prowlers recorded their second win of the season over the Hallock sextet, defeating the northerners by a 3 to 1 score. Bob Blair, the Hallock goalie, who performed ably in the game played here ten days ago, had another 'on' night and it was largely to his stand-out performance that the score in Tuesday night's contest was low.

Bud Brossoit's first-period goal, on a solo, gave Coach Stanbridge's team an early lead; and in the second period Wess Howie, after a solo rush, back-handed a shot past Blair for the second counter.

Bob Krumholz, Hallock's center-ice player, notched the only goal for the border team scoring in the third period and paring the Prowler lead to a goal. With seconds remaining to play, Les Vigness, on an assist by Brossoit, scored the Prowler's third tally.

In the second and third period, especially, the Prowlers were outskating and out-passing the Hallock sextet, with the Brossoit-Lund-Skjerping line doing effective work. Don Hage, wing on the Vigness-Amundson line, was not able to make the trip as he was nursing an injured neck.

The summary:

T. R. F.		Hallock
R. S. (c)	rover	H. S. (c)
Strand	point	Blair
Howie (c)	defense	Gilbertson
Ferguson	defense	Rabe
Lund	wing	Schutte
Skjerping	wing	Celebuski
Brossoit (c)	center	Krombolz

Spares: Thief River Falls—Vigness, Amundson, Welch, Baker, Ridley; Hallock—Bowman, Johnson, Pearson, Anderson, Klegstad.

First period scoring—Brossoit (unassisted). Penalty—Thompson.
Third period scoring—Krumholz (unassisted); Vigness (Brossoit). Penalties—Federhain, Lund.

3d and Deciding Match Between High School Bowlers Set for Sunday

The challenge bowling series between the high school girls and the high school boys was forced into a third and deciding match, which will be rolled on Sunday afternoon, when the boys, by a 3886 to 3853 score, defeated the girls in the second match Sunday. Bud Brossoit's 406 total, on games of 152-167-177, was high for the boys, while Doris Jorde's 412 total, with games of 150-136-126, was nigh score for the G. A. A. club.

Interest in Sunday's "crucial" match was heightened considerably by the fact that a number of the merchants of the city have provided merchandise prizes for the winners and the high score and high average bowlers on each team.

MANY VETS SEEK GI LAW BENEFITS

More Than 10,000 Men Seek Education Aid

More than 10,000 applications for educational and on the job training benefits under the Servicemen's readjustment act of 1944 (G. I. Bill of Rights) had been received by the Veterans Administration regional office up to December 31, 1945, Will Deming, V. A. contact representative, Bemidji announced today.

The exact number, 10,669, shows an increase of 9,847 over the 822 who had applied up to December 31, 1944. Of the grand total, 3,318 applied in December 1945, most of them planning to start their schooling at the beginning of the winter quarter or semester, Deming said.

A total of 4,104 veterans were taking on-the-job or institutional training in Minnesota at the close of the year. Of this number, 2,665 were being trained under the servicemen's readjustment act—2,252 at institutions and 313 on the job. Fourteen per cent, or 463 of these being trained under the G. I. Bill received vocational guidance, which includes both mental and mechanical aptitude tests.

PACKARD CLIPPER
IS HERE

NEW IMPROVEMENTS
that pay off in greater beauty, comfort and performance

In the brilliant 1946 Packard Clipper you will find 68 brand-new improvements added to the scores of exciting features which made the prewar Packard Clipper unique among all fine cars.

Some of these improvements will add to your enjoyment of Packard ownership primarily because they delight the eye, adding a deft and final touch of fine-car craftsmanship and beauty.

Others will contribute to your comfort in ways which will agreeably surprise you, even if your ownership of prewar Packards has made the Packard name synonymous in your mind with riding comfort.

Still others are mechanical improvements, or new materials which, born of our wartime experience in precision manufacture, exceed even Packard's rigid engineering specifications of past years.

As a result, except (because you'll get) thrilling new ease of handling . . . sparkling performance . . . low maintenance and upkeep costs . . . year-after-year Packard dependability . . . and even greater economy of operation than this car's illustrious forerunner could boast.

In short, the new Packard Clipper for '46 is a car in which the world's formost motor car craftsmen have reached dazzling new heights in achieving luxurious, economical, personal transportation.

To own this car is to know the satisfaction of being one of the thousands to whom we refer when we say, "Ask the man who owns one!"

Business Week devotes several columns of its current issue warning against swindlers. Money is plentiful and the con man is on the loose again. Many of the schemes now being used effectively in various parts of the country are designed especially to appeal to returning veterans or their relatives, although they are by no means the only victims. We went through a swindle period following the last war and apparently we are due for another cycle. Sure there are laws against this sort of thing but a law isn't of much help to a victim after the slicker has gotten his money and disappeared. There isn't much the county attorney can do about it then. Beware of extravagant offers that "guarantee" big returns on an investment or high salaried positions at the end of a course of study. "Before you invest, investigate", is still good advice.

Army authorities are taking steps to speed up the replacement of vets serving in foreign countries by shortening the training period in this country of recruits. They also are making it possible for the families of veterans serving overseas to make their homes in the area in which he serves. Providing for the men in foreign service to have their families with them will probably do much to solve the difficulty the army is having in maintaining such police forces. It is an offer that will appeal to many young couples and, considering the government's present cost of maintaining families, it probably will not add greatly to the expense. It sounds like a sensible arrangement.

Uncle Sam took over the meat packing industry this week and growers once more have a market for their livestock and house-wives will soon have an ample supply of steak. That is good. The big question of wages and prices remains to be solved how-ever. Wage increases have been assured by the government. How big these increases will be and what effect they will have on meat prices is what we do not yet know. Communities such as ours are more interested in what the grower gets for his product than in what the consumer pays. There is a possibility that if wages are increased and consumer prices remain the same, the cost of these wage increases will be paid by the producers. They sell at an auction and receive only what the packer is willing to pay. The real question on this deal is who is going to take the licking, the packer, the consumer or the farmer. It probably will not be the packer and the consumer has most votes.

Three million shirts and upwards of 400 thousand men's suits are being held by manufacturers who are waiting for higher ceiling prices before they release them to the trade, according to a report from Washington. In the meantime dealers' shirt shelves and suit racks are empty and a lot of fellows, especially returning servicemen, are suffering a shirt and suit famine. This, too is a strike, probably just as legitimate as most of the others that are holding up reconversion. As long as this strike, like most others, is involved in the question of costs and selling prices, maybe the government should intervene here too, put the idle shirts and suits to work and fact-find for present production costs and fair prices. A lot of pressure is building up behind the government's price control dam, which isn't in the best state of repair right now.

The one thing we don't like about the idea of secrecy on the atom bomb is the fact that, after all, somebody must know the secret. Secrets never impressed us much anyway and those who talk about keeping bomb information from the rest of the world underestimate the capacity of other nations for scientific research. But assuming that we could keep the information to ourselves, solely in the possession of our government, there still is the possibility of a Hitler gaining control of our government and with this control the conquest of the world would be an easy matter. What right have we to assume that we are so much more virtuous than our neighbors? Perhaps the best defense against the danger of atomic bombs is free and widespread publicity rather than secrecy. Poison gas wasn't used in the last war, not because of moral or humanitarian considerations but because of the fear of retaliation.

Big Business

Four sugar refining companies produce 70 per cent of the sugar; 4 glass companies produce 89 per cent of the glass, 4 farm machinery manufacturers produce 83 per cent of our farm machinery; 64 per cent of the nation's iron and steel is produced by 8 companies; all of our linoleum comes from the plants of 4 companies; more than 90 per cent of our aluminum is produced by 1 company. But 30,340 sawmills produce 30 per cent of the lumber.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

What are we waiting for? Move over!

Haven't you heard? They are having those young service men and women of ours and they have brought with them their wives, husbands and children.

Just how can you and I plan our family life to enable us to use less space and share with these fine young people?

Perhaps there is a bed room large enough to be made into a small apartment by installing a few receptacles. It may be your attic could be even a better idea.

Oh I know, your family uses every room in your house. Does the veteran's child have a room by itself? I'll answer that one. Many don't even have a room in the same house with their father or in the same town.

Why did they pick our city? Because many of them are our own home boys; because they know this is one of the best places in the world to live.

They are sober, ambitious fine young people. The kind our city needs.

Funny thing, they are so tolerant underneath all this anxiety and strain of getting back into civilian life. There are hundreds here and more on the way.

There are even barns, garages and other buildings which could be made into comfortable homes.

If you have space that can be made available at once do so. Give the information to those handling Veteran's Affairs. This is urgent.

The Veteran's Friend.

The rules for safe storage of coal are simple: Keep coal away from steam pipes, hot water pipes, smoke pipes, gas water heater flues, or other external sources of heat. The sensational success of the stage play "Oklahoma" in Minneapolis and elsewhere proves again that a show doesn't need to be dirty to be a box-office hit.

We don't blame discharged servicemen, for re-enlisting. Army life gives them a refuge from the chaotic conditions on the home front.

If the national administration decides to take over the operation of all strike-bound plants in the country, we will have a totalitarian nation in a hurry.

Busy Bees

In an orchard, bees pollinate the blossoms, thus providing a good set of fruit. Every clover field requires plenty of bees to give a high production of seeds. For more than 50 crops, the honeybee helps farmers meet production goals. Gardeners, too, get more abundant crops of cucumbers, pumpkins, melons and other garden vegetables and fruits when bees are plentiful. City dwellers would have no white clover in their front lawns without the honeybees and other pollination insects which are necessary for the perpetuation of such plants.

Sliced Oranges

Sliced oranges give more vitamin C than orange juice, and unstrained juice more than strained juice. Strained orange juice contains only from a half to three-fourths the amount of vitamin C contained in the segments, so is the most extravagant way to use oranges.

Relation of Intelligence to Season of Birth Probed

Although it has been claimed that children conceived in the winter months are somewhat more intelligent than those conceived during the other half of the year, the Journal of the American Medical association observes.

It has been shown conclusively, according to C. A. Fraser Roberts (in an article in a recent issue of the British Medical Journal) that children whose time of conception is centered in the winter months are on the average somewhat more intelligent than those conceived during the other half of the year. Two explanations of the difference are suggested: first, that the season of conception influences intelligence or, second, that intelligence influences conception.

According to Roberts, the observed association between the time of conception and intelligence is to be ascribed not to seasonal influences on the mother or the developing child but to a tendency for the children of more intelligent parents to be conceived slightly more often in winter, those of less intelligent parents slightly more often in summer. Fascinating as this statistical acrobatics may be, it is not necessary for people to suffer needless alarm if their birth dates happen to classify them as summer children!

ROSEAU SIX TIES PROWLERS 4 TO 4; WARROAD COMING

Games Here Saturday and at Warroad Tuesday End Pre-tournament Play

Coach Connie Stanbridge's Prowlers and Oscar Almquist's Roseau team played through three periods of exciting hockey here Saturday night, with the game ending in a 4 to 4 deadlock. The coming week will find the locals winding up their pre-tournament schedule, meeting the strong Warroad team here on Saturday night, and then traveling to Warroad for a return game with Warriors on Tuesday night. This evening the Prowler reserves are slated to play at Fosston.

Lowell Ulvin, the big Roseau defenseman, gave the green-clad northerners an early lead Saturday night when, midway in the opening period, he banged the rebound of Bob Harris' shot past goalie Engelstad and into the north goal. A short while later, on a solo rush Ulvin carried the puck to the Prowler red line and drove a shot into the Prowler goal, giving Roseau a 2 to 0 lead.

Les Vigness set up the locals first tally when he circled the Roseau net and flipped a pass out in front of the goal to Don Hoge, and the Prowler red-head backhanded the shot past Morris Schille. Hud Brossoit tied the score with a minute to play when he rushed the puck from his blue line and, just as he reached the Roseau defense, fired a hard shot that found the corner of the net.

Roseau moved into the lead again in the second period when Chunky Ray Baumgartner, with an angled shot from the right sideboards, beat the Prowler goalie. Brossoit accounted for the Prowlers third goal when, with the locals short-handed, Hud lifted a back-handed shot from ten feet out that beat goalie Schille.

Brossoit, making his third goal, gave the Prowlers the lead in the third period when, after a rush down center-ice, he drove a hard knee-high shot from the Roseau red line that hit the net. With four minutes to play, and Roseau having a man in the penalty box, Babe Bjorkmen made a rush down the left side-board, moved in toward the Prowler goal and from the flat zone, sent a shot at the goalie, the puck glanced off the net-minder's pads and into the goal for the tying score.

The final minutes of the hectic game found both teams striving to break the deadlock, with the Prowlers having several scoring opportunities when Roseau's Vern Johnson was given a penalty.

The summary:

SCHOOL ATHLETIC GROUP ORGANIZED

New Conference Formed at G. Forks Saturday

Principal William G. Claffy and Coach John Lindenmeyer, with representatives from Grand Forks, Grafton, and Devils Lake in North Dakota, and East Grand Forks, Thief River Falls and Crookston in Minnesota, were in attendance at a meeting at Grand Forks on Saturday called for the purpose of organizing the North Valley High School athletic conference.

Present at the meeting, in addition to Claffy and Lindenmeyer, were F. H. Gilfilland and Don Hall of Devils Lakes, Ed Bohnhoff, Glenn Hubbard, and Elroy Schroeder of Grand Forks, H. B. Ensrud and George Heen of Grafton, and K. P. H. Reishus of East Grand Forks. Schroeder was elected president, Ensrud vice-president, and Reishus secretary-treasurer.

May 11th was the tentative date for the conference track and field meet, which will be held at the University of North Dakota's Memorial Stadium.

Schedules will be drawn for two years in football and basketball, with championship competition starting in football next fall. Each team will meet the other five in football, and a home and home series will be scheduled in basketball. Championships are to be decided on season records.

Prowlers Defeat EGF; Warren Coming Friday

Trailing by a 10 to 8 score after the first two periods of play, the Prowlers, Friday night, held the East Grand Forks basketball team to two points in the second half, a free throw in the third period and another gift toss in the fourth period, while marking up 19 points to win a 27 to 12 decision over the Green Wave in a district contest played here. In the preliminary game, Don Nelson's 'B' team, with Carl Williamson scoring 9 points and Len Hurst collecting 8 points, defeated the East Grand Forks 'B' team, 26 to 16.

On Friday night the Warren Pontes, the 'A' and 'B' squads will play the Prowlers on the local floor; and on Tuesday night, Feb. 5th, the fast-breaking Grand Forks Maroons, victors over the Prowlers in the finals of the Christmas tournament at East Grand Forks, will meet the locals on the high school court.

The starting lineup for Coach Lindenmeyer's Prowlers Friday night had Brad Hanna and Rog Tunberg at the forwards, Jerry Hedemark at center, and Kenny Borsheim and Don Engelstad at the guards. Frank Goodrich closed in shot gave the Green Wave an early lead, but Rog Tunberg, with a shot from the line, tied the score and Hanna's free throw moved the locals into the lead. Goodrich, recovering a rebound on a free throw attempt, scored a field goal for the visitors. Side. Tunberg's left-handed shot into the west goal gave the locals a 5 to 4 lead as the period ended.

Marlow Davidson, Glen Magnuson, Tom Torreson, Johnny Powell, and Ninak Carlson came into the game at the start of the second period. Magnuson popped in a left-handed shot to boost the Prowler margin, but the Green Wave, playing their best offensive basketball, tallied three field goals, with Parlow scoring twice and Keller getting the other, to give Coach Sullivan's team a 10 to 8 lead at the intermission.

Opening the third period a revamped Prowler lineup took the floor, having Hanna at center, Magnuson and Tunberg at the forwards, and Carlson and Borsheim at the guards. The Prowlers, on some neat combination plays, with Brad Hanna hitting the basket with one-handed tosses from close in, pulled away to 21 to 11 lead. East Grand Forks scored their lone point when Goodrich converted on Tunberg's foul.

Play became slow in the final period, with East Grand Forks making futile attempts to draw the Prowlers out of their defensive formation. Only seven points were scored by the two teams in the period, with the Prowlers notching six points, on a field goal by Hanna, and free throws by Davidson, Carlson, Hanna; while Partlow chalked up the Green Wave point on a free throw.

Brad Hanna, with four field goals and three free throws, was the high scorer for the Prowlers with 11 points, while Jerry Lundeen with three field goals, was the runner-up. Dwayne Partlow and Frank Goodrich, each with five points, were the high scorers for the Green Wave.

FOSSTON DEFEATS LINCOLN 'A' QUINT TUESDAY EVENING

Final Score Is 31 to 27; Prowler 'B' Team Whips Plummer Quint 19 to 18

The Prowler basketball squads scored a win and a loss in the two out-of-town games played Tuesday night, with the 'A' team losing to the Fosston Greyhounds, 31 to 27, and the 'B' team edging out Plummer, 19 to 18.

Trailing by an 18 to 13 at the half-time intermission in their game with the Fosston Greyhounds at Fosston, the Prowlers, with Rog Tunberg doing the bulk of the scoring from the floor, marked up 10 points to move into a 23 to 21 lead. Fosston's points in the third period were a field goal by LaVoi and a free throw by Glen Hagen.

Fosston, with a 10-point fourth period, overcame the Prowlers margin and then held off the locals in the final minutes of play. The Greyhounds employed a zone defense and were successful in smothering the Prowlers scoring directed at the free throw lane. Alton Bjornerud, the Fosston captain, scored 10 points for the winners. Rog Tunberg with five field goals and a pair of free throws, and Ninak Carlson, with two field goals and six free throws, were the Prowler high scorers.

In a bang-up game at Plummer on Tuesday night, Don Nelson's 'B' squad, on the short end of 14 to 9 score at the intermission, pumped in 10 points in the three and fourth quarters to win a one-point decision, 19 to 18 over Plummer. Palmer Rohholm with 8 points, and Al Williamson, with 6 points, were the high scorers for the 'B' squad. Jack LeMieux' five points was the high total for the Plummer team.

THIEVES TAKE 2 TILTS PAST WEEK FROM GRAFTON SIX

Score Decisive 11 to 3 and 8 to 2 Victories in Last Two Games

The senior hockey Thieves added a pair of wins to their record the past week, defeating the Grafton Millionaires in a home-and-home series. Playing before a small crowd at Grafton on Tuesday night the locals scored an easy 11 to 3 win over the Millionaires; and in a return game here on Sunday afternoon, Thieves won by an 8 to 2 score.

Bill Gray, the Guadulcanal veteran, paced the locals in their win over Grafton Thursday, with the stocky left wing accounting for four goals. And "Pug" Lund, with two goals and turning in a strong defensive game, gave Gray able assistance. One of the highlights of the game was the solo goal scored by Grafton's 14-year old center-ice player, Walt Gjerswold, in the second period.

Playing here on Sunday afternoon the Thieves continued their supremacy over the Millionaires, marking up an easy 8 to 2 win. Gray and Lund, with first period goals, sent the locals into the lead and a three-goal cluster in the second period put the game on "ice" for the Thieves. After Gray and Wilson had boosted the locals' margin to 7 to 0 in the final period, Ben Nelson, on a assist from Gjerswold, tallied Grafton's first goal. Norm Colson, after Lloyd Johnson had recorded the Thieves eighth goal, scored the millionaires second counter when he poked in a rebound shot.

BIG WHITE OWL MAY WONDER WHO-O-O DONE IT

LeCenter—Young Eidon Whipps saw a big white bird alight in a tree near his farm home. One shot from his .22, and he had a white owl watching 10 pounds with a wing spread of 4½ feet. Light brown spots across the back and wings were the only marking.

Keeping Score

.... With HUCK OLSON

As result of that 4 to 4 deadlock with Roseau sextet on Saturday night and which by all reasoning, was a "moral victory" for Oscar Almquist's team—Coaches Connie Stanbridge and Ernie Broderick have been "riding herd" on their Prowler hockey squad this week. Saturday night's game was probably the lesson that taught the rocky Prowlers that they aren't going to win the regional championship, and a trip to St. Paul, by just saying "boo" and swapscoring around on the ice with a puffed chest and a swollen head.

The game, which was top-notch as far as high school hockey is concerned, wasn't poorly played by the Prowlers, but, according to Coach Stanbridge, it was just that the boys weren't clicking like they should and can. The back-checkers would come to a stop at center ice; the solo rushes would peter out at the Roseau defense; the play-makers would fail to center the puck for men coming into the scoring zone; and the defense was lax in clearing loose pucks in front of the local net.

Wanted Extra Period

Many fans were disappointed by the fact that the game was ended with the score at 4-all; and considerable discussion and argument ensued, with some red-hot words being exchanged with the Roseau coach. The rules, and the boys are playing under collegiate hockey regulations, are explicit in stating that secondary schools, and that means high schools are limited to three periods of actual play with no provisions made for over-time. Of course, in tournament play, a decision must be reached and then a five-minute over-time is permitted, but Saturday night's game was merely a scheduled game.

And this week, as a schedule wind-up the Prowlers face-off against some strong competition, meeting the veteran Warroad Warriors in a pair of games, the first of which will be played here on Saturday night. Warroad, with practically the same team that upset Crookston Cathedral in the 40 & 8 tournament last spring, has designs on the regional championship, too. With Gordy Christian and Max Oshie as their main scoring threats, Warroad may prove to be the "dark horse" of the regional tournament. Last week Warroad, playing at Roseau, defeated Roseau, 6 to 2, and on Monday night Roseau barely edged out Warroad, 7 to 5, in a return game, so you see the Warriors are capable to putting up plenty of opposition.

More Hard Work

And basketball coach John Lindenmeyer is following the pattern of hockey mentors Stanbridge and Broderick, for he has been running the basketball squads through hard workouts during the week. The game last Friday night, between East Grand Forks and the Prowlers, two of the district's Class A teams, and the two teams that lead in the standings, was one of the poorest exhibitions that the local court has witnessed in a long time. Much of the game's sluggishness, though, was due to the inability of the Green Wave to organize their offense, with the result the ball was held in mid-court much of the time, in a semi-stall fashion. East Grand Forks scored but two free throws in the second half, and that's futile offensive push for a team that is defending the district title.

Happy Ending

Ole Ekeren, and the boys that rode with him, won't soon forget the experience they had last Thursday night. Ole, having several hockey players with him, left Grafton following the Thieves game there that night, and four miles west of Oslo about ten-thirty at night, the car stalled, due to the blizzard conditions prevailing. The party, increased to eight by the addition of several persons from other ditched and stalled cars, remained in Ole's car all night. The motor of the car, and heater, was kept in operation until three o'clock in the morning when the carburetor clogged, so the remaining hours until daylight were chilly ones. Early Friday morning the assistance of farmers was secured and the group was taken to Oslo, and there the boys hitch-hiked home arriving here Friday evening.

The locals are expected to strengthen their lineup considerably for this game, with Fred Gustafson being a certainty to start at a wing position. Team coach Jill Gray stated that several other players are being added to the roster for the game, and he expects the locals to give the "Flying Frenchmen" plenty of competition.

The face-off is scheduled for 2:30 P. M.

STATE INCOME TAX DIVISION GIVES DATA ON RETURNS

Explains Provisions of Law as Revised by 1945 Legislature

The 1945 state income tax law provides that a parent need not include in his return the income of any minor children. However, the minor must file a return with respect to his own taxable income provided it exceeds the requirements.

Provided the parent furnishes more than 50 per cent of the support of any minor he may claim a credit of $10.00 for each dependent. This credit of $10.00, however, must be reduced by $1.00 for each $100.00 of service income received by the minor.

Federal income tax refunds must be reported as gross income in the year in which received.

The 1945 state law provides that capital gains and losses shall be reported on the following basis:

(a) where the asset has been held for less than six months prior to the sale, it shall be reported in the tax return at 100 per cent of the gain or loss.

(a) Where the asset has been held for more than six months prior to its sale, it shall be reported in the tax return at 50 per cent of the gain or loss.

(c) The excess of capital losses over capital gains claimed as deduction from gross income cannot exceed $2,000 in any taxable year.

The sale of a dwelling used by the taxpayer solely as his personal residence is taxable transaction which must be reported for state income tax purposes. A transaction of this nature is considered a capital gain or loss subject to the provisions set forth above.

A profit or loss on the sale of a personal residence shall be computed as follows:

If the dwelling was acquired after January 1, 1933, and was occupied by the tax payer as his personal residence up to the date of sale, the gain is the difference between the sales and the cost of the dwelling plus the improvements. If the house was rented for part of the time the cost must be reduced by depreciation sustained during the the period it was rented. If the dwelling was used as a personal residence from the date of acquisition to the date of sale and acquired prior to January 1, 1933, depreciation must be computed from the date of acquisition to January 1, 1933.

GERMINATION OF SEEDS IMPORTANT PROBLEM IN 1946

Corn Especially Will Bear Watching, States County Agent Palmer

Early germination reports on farm seeds grown in 1945 make it clear that no farmer can afford to take chances on seed for 1946 planting until he has a reliable germination test, according to County Agent Ernest Palmer. Corn especially will bear watching this year, and there are signs that the performance of small grains cannot always be relied on.

R. F. Crim, extension agronomist at University Farm, reports that a great deal of the hybrid corn seed is germinating between 80 and 90 per cent and many samples are dropping below 75 per cent. Because much seed corn was caught by frost while the moisture content was high, artificial drying has left kernels small and shriveled.

Buyers this year cannot be choosey about appearance of seed. Crim says, but the appearance is not so important if the germination test is reliable. The farmer must have a reliable test so that he will know how much to increase the rate of planting to make up for sub-standard seed.

Crim says seed corn testing as low as 75 per cent can be used successfully if the rate of planting is increased proportionately. Since very weak kernels can not be depended on to come through to insure a good stand, it is important that the tests be made to state seed laboratory standards.

A rush on the seed laboratory is very likely this year, and samples should be submitted to the State Seed Laboratory, University Farm, St. Paul, as soon as possible. Envelopes for sending in samples for testing are available free of charge at the County Agent's Office.

While most small grains came through in good shape, there are some indications that germination was hurt by disease and by heating after high moisture threshing. Wheat especially is causing some worry. It is always wise to have a germination test on agricultural seeds, says Crim.

Don't Be Fooled!

Co-ops DO Pay Taxes

the SAME taxes, under the SAME laws, at the SAME rates as other businesses

. . . then why all the hullabaloo?

It is because a certain minority group of businessmen, in an effort to increase their own profits, are seeking to cripple cooperatives with a campaign of slanderous statments, distorted facts and vicious innuendo.

It is because these businessmen are promoting legislation to tax as income to cooperatives the patronage refunds made by cooperatives to their customers.

Yet these patronage refunds do not belong to the co-ops, they belong to their customers, their members and patrons. It's like this: You send John Smith to buy a sack of feed for you and give him $2. John Smith combines your order with other orders and is able to give you back 50 cents change. Should the 50 cents be taxed as income to Smith? Of course not.

That's exactly what a cooperative does on a large scale. It makes savings for its members and patrons, returns those savings as 'change' or refunds.

But get this: It is not because a business is a cooperative that funds belonging to its customers are not taxable income, it is because those funds belong to its customers.

Any business could make refunds on the same basis. And when cooperative corporations and profit corporations act alike, they are taxed alike. There is no discrimination, no unfairness. Both are playing by the same rules.

But don't take our word for all this. Here's what a Chamber of Commerce leader, A. J. Roth, Pittsburgh, Pa., says of the attack on cooperatives:

"Why there should be a sudden and bitter attack upon cooperatives is a mystery to me, except that the inroads into the sacred precincts of retail distribution must be their unpardonable offense. . . The cooperative type of business is merely an effort on the part of certain people to do things for themselves rather than to employ established commercial enterprises to serve them. . . It seems to me to be just as logical as for a man to drive his own automobile rather than hire a taxicab."

And this is what Victor Emanuel, a national industrial leader, has to say:

"I firmly believe that if this attack (on co-ops) is not soon stopped that it will take years and years to overcome the damage it has done. . . Urban business cannot afford to engage in a life and death struggle with the farm people of America."

Finally, the editors of Fortune, magazine of business, are of this opinion:

"It is not to be expected that a company should be taxed for reducing its prices. A cooperative, in effect, reduces its prices by making refunds to customers. So far as refunds are concerned, cooperatives do not enjoy anything other than tax equality."

Easy does it . . .

Replacing the telephone gently when you find the party line in use sort of says this for you . . . "Sorry . . . I'll try my call a bit later." It still acts as a gentle reminder to those talking that you are waiting for the line . . . does it in a courteous way that people appreciate and are likely to remember when you're "on the phone."

A little thing? Sure. But it's this kind of thoughtfulness, along with keeping calls brief and allowing time between them, that makes helpful and pleasant-to-use party line service.

SCORES DELAY IN VACATING STATE FAIR BUILDINGS

Board President Says Livestock Show at '46 Fair Is Threatened

Fear that delayed return to the Minnesota state fair of buildings and land used as war plant the past three years may severely handicap the state fair in the staging of its big victory exposition, August 24 to September 2, was voiced by President W. S. Moscrip this week.

"The dilatory tactics of the army engineers in negotiation of fair settlement of the lease are reprehensible and they alone are to blame for this situation," said Moscrip, "since the fair board has made every concession it feels it can make under terms of the contact.

"Early in the war, the Minnesota state fair board leased to the United States Army, through the army engineers corps at Omaha, all of its livestock buildings for use as an airplane propeller plant, and this plant operated continuously until September 3, 1945, when it was shut down.

"In the lease made, the government agreed to completely rehabilitate the property when returned, or pay the state fair a negotiated cost sum for its reconversion for livestock by the fair.

"Aside from removal of a few pieces of war plant machinery, nothing has been done to date by the army engineers to settle the lease, despite constant urging by the fair board and efforts made to co-operate fully in every way.

"And unless a prompt and fair settlement of the lease can be reached, and the war plant machinery removed at once so rehabilitation construction can begin immediately, the use of the buildings for exhibition of livestock at the coming victory fair will be impossible."

LARGE LIVESTOCK SALE SCHEDULED AT WINTER SHOW

Event at Crookston Thursday and Friday, February 7 and 8

One of the largest livestock sales ever held in connection with the Winter Shows at Crookston, February 4 to 8, will feature the last two days of the show. In the sales which will be held Thursday, February 7 and Friday, February 8, a larger number of breeders have made consignments than at any previous sale.

The annual livestock sale has become an established feature of the show. Livestock breeders have for many years delayed their annual purchases of foundation breeding stock until the Winter Shows sales. Each year livestock breeders of the Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota hold for this sale the best representation of their herds and flocks. Purchasers know that a sufficient number of animals from various breeds are consigned to enable making a choice.

Livestock purchasers of the Red River Valley in need of breeding stock should come in plenty of time to look over consignments before sale commences. This sale offers the opportunity to purchase breeding animals without compelling the purchaser to incur expenses that are always necessary when traveling from farm to farm to locate desirable livestock.

'46 FARM GOALS SET AT PARLEY LAST WEEKEND

Local AAA Officials Attend Conference in St. Paul Hotel

Carl R. Anderson, Pennington county AAA chairman, together with P. W. Culkins and Hans Solberg, committee members, returned last week-end from a statewide AAA meeting in the St. Paul hotel, Friday and Saturday, where they heard a discussion of 1946 objectives of the federal program for agriculture.

Chairman Anderson stated that fieldman will meet shortly with community committeemen in this district to present details of the program for the coming year.

At the St. Paul conference the importance of combating soil erosion was emphasized by Paul Burson of the soils division of University Farm and Guy Smith of the field service branch in Washington. Plans for a continuance of crop insurance were outlined by Harold E. Hill, regional director of the Federal Crop Insurance corp.

Minnesota farmers will be asked to decrease 1946 acreage of corn, oats and soybeans but increase production goals for all other principal crops Charles W. Stickney, state production and marketing administration chairman said.

Increased goals will be sought for barley, farms hay, rye, flaxseed sugar beets and potatoes.

Livestock and poultry goals are down, for all classes except milk cows and milk production, which are up over 1945.

Oats goal will be 4,500,000 acres, down 900,000 acres from 1945. Reduction was recommended because new varities, developed resulted in increased yields and a lower goal would be considered more in line as a production requirement basis.

Barley acreage will be up 1,000,000 compared to 469,000 acres last year. Acreage for 1945 was usually low, cobtributed to...increased plantings. Barley also is considered a good cash crop because of present demand for malting quality, on which premiums will be placed.

Wheat goal was set at 17,190,000 acres, compared to 1,117,000 in 1945, an increased need being seen for both domestic and foreign consumption. Rye also was up 65,000 acres, for a goal of 175,000 acres.

Flaxseed goals were set at 1,420,000 acres, an increase of 328,000 acres. Need for linseed oil and the available supply in relation to the demand were influential pointed out that much effort will be necessary to achieve this goal as it was felt that this represented the maximum acreage that could be hoped for in 1946. Government support at $3.50 a bushel is expected to influence production.

Rail Quiz

What is a locomotive run?

A locomotive run might be termed a "day's work" for a locomotive. In other words, it is operation of a locomotive from starting terminal, station or yard to its terminating terminal, station or yard. It is usually between two important terminals, but many locomotives double back, making a round trip from a terminal or station to the end of the line or some intermediate point and back. In other instances a run may cover movement back and forth several times over a few miles of track.

State Gives $2,156,000 to National War Fund

Minnesota raised its share of the 1945 National War Fund, contributing a grand total of $2,156,022 throughout the state, J. Cameron Thomson, Minneapolis, state chairman of the Minnesota War Service Fund, announced today.

For the third successive year, Minnesota reached its goal in the federated campaign for funds for USO, United Seamen's Service and the allied relief agencies. This was the last of the federated campaigns for war-related agencies.

Harold E. Stassen, General Chairman of the Thirteenth Annual American Brotherhood Week Campaign sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, February 16-24 is supported by leaders of all phases of American Life. Shown with Mr. Stassen above are Clinton D. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture; Mr. Stassen; Dr. Ludd Spivey, President of Florida Southern College; Peter Bochstahler, AFL regional director of Labor's League for Human Rights; Commodore H. J. Grassie, USN, Commander of Great Lakes Naval Training Center; Paul Hoffman, President Studebaker Corporation; Colonel Peter C. Schroeder, head of Chaplains, Sixth Service Command. This year's theme "In Peace as in War, Teamwork" spearheads a drive to raise an extension fund of $4,000,000 to be used in every community of America to combat bigotry, hatred and prejudice, and to enlist the American people throughout the nation in a campaign for civic cooperation.

Extensionists Warn of Dry Cleaning in Home

Clothing specialists for the agricultural extension services advise homemakers to heed the warning of USDA safety and health advisers that many persons have been fatally burned or disfigured while cleaning garments at home. The best answer on how to dry clean is "don't" —unless you are very cautious. Garments may still be dry cleaned more efficiently and safely by dry cleaning establishments.

However, those who still feel they can do this work successfully at home should use only a non-flammable fluid. There are many good non-flammable cleaning fluids on the market — but remember that cleaning fluid may be marked "non-explosive" and still be flammable. Never, under any circumstances, use gasoline, naphtha, or kerosene for garment cleaning purposes. Keep the hands out of the fluid by using a suction washer especially if the skin is sensitive. Do the cleaning outside of the house where all toxic and other vapors will be carried off in the open air. Dry garments outdoors. Keep children and pets away.

Many homemakers have discovered that they can wash successfully many garments formerly sent out for dry cleaning. Use mild soapsuds and lukewarm water for both washing and rinsing. Squeeze instead of rubbing and wringing. Roll in a thick bath towel to remove excess moisture rapidly. Press with a warm but not hot iron when almost dry.

Lost Popularity

The entire Mediterranean, the Red sea, the Black sea, and all the great cities of these three seas had Italian as their "lingua franca" of culture and of commerce down to the middle of 1800, according to Carlo Sfora. What stupefied and alarmed people in Italy was that immediately after the political unification which ought to have afforded additional strength to Italian influence, the Italian language began to lose ground in Turkey, Greece, Rumania, Egypt — where French superseded it, despite France's defeat in 1870.

There were reasons for this fact, Sfora said. The construction of oriental railway lines that connected the Levant with Vienna and Paris, and thereby made the water route via Britain and Naples a longer distance to travel; the Austrian empire's sudden distrust of the language of a great new independent nation, whereas formerly Italian had been the official language of the Austrian bureaucracy throughout the Levant even in the documents of the Imperial and royal embassy at Constantinople; the Fascist invasion of the Levant by French Catholic monastic orders, which had begun to flee from Italy almosphere of the republic.

News of R. R. Valley Home for the Aged

The Union Prayer meeting held here Wednesday evening was very well attended in spite of the cold weather. Rev. E. P. Rabine was in charge and L. W. Lindholm gave the message of the evening, with several others taking part in prayer, testimony and song.

Mrs. Mollie Northome, who has her birthday on Feb. 1st, started out the month by treating all to birthday cake and ice cream. This was her 81st birthday. The last three she has celebrated here at the Home.

We were glad to have Frank Brodin of Hallock, join our family the first of the month. He is quite spry and healthy in spite of his 90 years and enjoys all the best things of life.

Oscar Williams of this city is at the Home now and under doctors care. His daughter, Mrs. E. C. Boland of Duluth came on Sunday to be with her father a few days, and also to visit friends while here.

Soren Moe had the pleasure of having his daughter, granddaughter visit him on Monday, Mrs. Larson and son Chester and Mrs. Myers and daughter Carrol are all from the vicinity of Holt.

Rev. J. O. Jacobson was the only pastor who called at the Home on Tuesday morning for prayer. Many of the local pastors are attending Founder's Week at Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Mrs. Mildred Regan of Plainview, Minn., came on Sunday to visit her father Emil Haugen, who hasn't been well for some time. We are glad he is able to be up and around every day, and hope he will soon fully recover.

Mrs. Ida Anderson called on Carrie Hoverstad and had lunch with our folks on Monday, so also did Mrs. Sevret Berg and visited with Mrs. Seyalson and Mrs. Sortland.

Mr. and Mrs. John Vraa from East of Goodridge called at the home on Monday and left a gift in memory of Ole E. Vraa who passed away recently and also in memory of little Robert Lorenz Vraa who passed away Feb. 7th, 1938.

We have also received the following memorials, and we wish to thank you one and all.

In memory of Mrs. Lettie Arneson, and sent in by Sivert Lavold, treasurer of the Zion Lutheran Church of Sholby, and given by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lund and family.

Also in memory of Mrs. Ellen Christianson of Fertile and given by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gunderson of Clearbrook. This was sent in by Theo Christianson, treasurer of Maple Bay Congregation of Fertile.

And in memory of Mrs. Hilda Sand and given by Mr. and Mrs. Art Rambeck, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ruane, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sexton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hunt, Margie and Jane Hunt and Violet and David Clough all of Thief River Falls.

We had a very enjoyable Sunday beginning with a part in the radio broadcast "Morning Meditations" in which Mrs Moe gave a short history and greeting from the home, followed by a duet sung by Lorrain Moe and Wilma Ulshafer. In the afternoon we had services at 3:30 in which Rudolph Johnson had charge of the service, with Albert Bergfolk of St. Paul as speaker. Rev. Bergfolk is general supervisor of Missions for the Swedish Baptist Conference. In the evening and at 8 o'clock we had another service in charge of our Supt. E. F. Rabine with G. J. Hanson, of Crookston leading the singing. Rev. Bergfolk again gave the message of the evening and at the close, showed pictures of the New Bible Camp site on Big Trout Lake near Pine River, Minn. The pictures were beautiful and we benefited much both by afternoon and evening services.

This coming Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock (Feb. 7th) Rev. G. R. Carlson of the Gospel Tabernacle will have a service at the home, to which you are all cordially invited. You will enjoy to worship with us I know.

Tunberg Motor Company Building Is Damaged by Fire Sunday Afternoon

The ceiling and roof of the shop of the Tunberg Motor Company was damaged by a blaze that broke out near the chimney Sunday afternoon. The fire developed when the furnace became overheated after a leak developed in the water system of the heating plant. The fire department, which was called to the scene, had to chop a hole thru the roof to get access to the flames. As a result of the fire it will be necessary to install a new furnace in the building.

1943 Income Payments Rise to New Highs

Income payments to individuals in the United States rose in 1943 to a new record high total of $162,200,000,000, according to the Alexander Hamilton Institute. Out of this total, the government took $18,300,000,000. This left consumers, with a disposable income of $124,000,000,000.

This disposable income was not offset by expenditures for goods and services since the supply of goods was restricted and since government price control measures prevented the full development of price inflation. Moreover, consumers economized in order to buy war bonds.

Expenditures in 1943 amounted to $91,000,000,000. Consumers thus saved $33,000,000,000 last year since this was the amount by which disposable income exceeded expenditures. This brought savings for the last five years up to a total of $58,300,000,000, with most of this amount, or $73,200,000,000, being saved during the last three years when the United States was engaged in war output.

Dahlquist Named on Poll Advisory Group

By virtue of his office as president of the Minnesota Editorial association, W. E. Dahlquist last week was appointed to the advisory board of the Minnesota Poll. The board, consisting of twenty members, suggests and approves questions asked by the poll, and helps to determine its activities and procedures. See Farther

As everyone who has climbed a hill or mountain knows, the higher up you go, the farther you can see. Standing on level land, or in a boat on water the limit of vision, the horizon, is about three miles away, says the Better Vision Institute. If you go up in an airplane, at 1,000 feet you can see (if your eyes are up to snuff) about 39 miles. At 2,000 feet the seeing distance is 55 miles, and at 5,000 feet, 87 miles. Range of vision is computed by multiplying the square root of the altitude by 1¼ miles.

New Soap Helps Army Wash in Cold Sea Water

To help the army keep clean, even when it has to wash in cold sea water, a new soap ingredient from petroleum has been developed.

Mixed with the other constituents of soap in a proportion of about one to two, the new material will remove dirt, oil and grease in any kind of water, salt or fresh, cold or hot, hard or soft. Soldiers aboard transports and on the atolls of the South Seas, where ocean water is used for bathing and laundering, have found the soap very efficient for these purposes. It also gives a good shave.

After the war, variations of this soap formula will be available for household use—some as toilet soaps and others for the kitchen and laundry. They will lighten the task of washing greasy pans, will make glassware sparkle, and will quickly erase road film from your car. This type of soap lathers well and leaves very little "ring" around the tub.

THYE REQUESTS COOPERATION TO HELP VETERANS

Governor Appeals for Increased Interest on Part of All Citizens

Announcing appointment of an inter-departmental council of state departments to co-ordinate and speed up administration of programs extending assistance to veterans, Governor J. Thye this week appealed to citizens here and in other communities for united local support to give veterans the best possible opportunities for readjustment to civilian life.

"Official agencies alone cannot do the job," Governor Thye said. "It requires co-operation and united effort all around."

Expressing belief that problems and needs of the veterans have not been appreciated fully in many communities, Governor Thye asked for action along a number of lines which he believes will help to smooth the way for veterans. He advocated:

"1. Revitalized public interest in the problems of veterans and their families and united support and co-operation behind agencies dealing with the problem of service men."

"2. First priority for returning war veterans in obtaining living quarters as vacancies develop."

"3. Co-operation of employers, labor and other agencies in finding good jobs for veterans."

"4. Vigilant action to prevent exploitation of the veteran in connection with apprenticeship and on the job training."

County service officers, working with the state department veterans' affairs, will serve as local focal points for citizens and community groups seeking to assist veterans, it is contemplated.

A. V. Brodin Speaks at Covenant Church Sunday

W. Lindholm, pastor. The night evangelistic meeting, 7:45 o'clock, is in charge of the Young People's society, Rodney L. Brodin, president, said Mr. Lindholm. He added that a missions offering toward the support of Ellin J. Lindberg, missionary in Texas is to be received next Sunday morning.

What United States Made For War on Axis Enemies

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The United States smothered its Axis enemies with 186 billion dollars worth of weapons, equipment and supplies, not counting the atomic bomb, War Production Board Chairman J. A. Krug has revealed. The output included:

A fleet of 297 thousand military airplanes, of which 97 thousand were bombers.

Seventy-six thousand, four hundred and eighty-five ships — including 64,500 landing craft, 6,500 other navy ships and 5,425 cargo vessels.

Navy fire power increased tenfold in the five years. The merchant fleet was quadrupled.

The total output of goods (war and civilian) and services rose by more than 50 per cent, while the output of raw materials increased 60 per cent.

Employment in manufacturing alone increased by 6,407,000 persons from 1939 to 1944.

Krug said that while America's spending for war materials was enormous, it represented only two-fifths of the industrial output. The balance, he said, provided civilians "more commodities and services" than in "such good prewar years" as 1937 and 1939.

Millions Being Moved to New Homes in Germany

FRANKFURT.—A huge migration involving the transplanting of some 10 million Germans to new homes and the restoration of several hundred thousand to their former homes is under way.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said that 500,000 Germans from Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland already have entered the American occupation zone.

Movement of 150,000 Germans from what now is the American zone in Austria back to their homes in other sections of the Reich also has started, officials said.

Sudeten Germans arriving in the American zone are being distributed as equitably as possible among German towns.

Rayon Manufacture

Rayon manufacture has certain advantages over cotton from a production standpoint. It is an easier and more pleasant fiber to work with since it contains no dust. Rayon workers are also better paid than cotton workers.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Safety First!

As I sat eating my breakfast in a corner restaurant this morning, I saw a street car pull up to the corner and stop, the gates opened and a little three-year-old girl popped out, ran full speed across the street, up the side-walk and on down the walk. She was still running when I caught glimpse of her brother, age five years, who was leaving the car after five or six other people. He came out in the same fashion and dashed down the walk after his sister without looking to either side. Their mother, who was the last person to leave the car, was very casual and deliberate as she followed them.

I was more impressed than usual by her apparent lack of concern for her children's safety as I had just been reading a pamphlet, "Children's Mortality from Accidents," recently issued by the U. S. Children's Bureau in Washington D. C. The facts and figures in this study are startling. Almost twenty thousand boys and girls die from accidents each year. This is a continuing peace-time toll that can and should be reduced.

There are two aspects of the problem: First, we adults must become more aware of the many situations in which we are actually responsible for children's safety. In many instances, we, and not the children, must do the thinking and the acting to avert catastrophes. Often there is no time for dictate or compromise.

Secondly, we need to learn how and when to teach children to take increasing responsibility for their own safety. If the child is too young to have learned the art of avoiding accidents, the adult must act with firmness and precision. Nevertheless, we must also know when to give the growing child an opportunity to learn to be watchful. At some times and at some less dangerous crisings the child might walk alongside the adult without actually holding her hand, thus gaining the feeling that he is actually learning to take care of himself.

Adults may well encourage the children's lively interest in traffic regulations. When they ask questions or make comments about the changing lights or the policeman's activity the golden moment has arrived for some good teaching regarding their safety. Young children are always impressed with the fact that we adults, too, "obey" certain regulations. The parent, then, needs to know when to protect children and when to give them freedom. In the immediately dangerous situations he protects; in the less dangerous he gives some degree of freedom. Gradually as the child gives evidence of a growing sense of responsibility, the area of freedom is increased.

Live in Burrows

As woodchucks always live in burrows which can be easily identified by the fresh soil at their entrances, they are easily killed by fumigation of their living quarters. Calcium cyanide, carbon bisulfide, or automobile exhaust fumes can be used. A tablespoon of calcium cyanide well down in each burrow will form gas to kill the woodchucks, if the entrances are immediately stopped tight with sod and dirt. Three tablespoons of carbon bisulfide on a wad of cloth or waste can be used in each burrow in place of the cyanide. As the carbon bisulfide is explosive, use no ammonia. It must be handled carefully, and the user should not smoke. Both materials are poisonous to humans.

Allies Seize Huge German Dye Trust

Confiscation Is Ordered by Control Council.

BERLIN.—Allied confiscation of the billion-dollar I. G. Farben organization, greatest of Germany's industrial combines, was ordered by the four-power control council recently. It directed that some 300 Farben plants and its vast financial assets be seized at once.

Properties and funds of I. G. Farben, which ranked with such international industrial giants as Du Pont and British Imperial Chemical, will be taken over as reparations or for such disposition as the Allies see fit.

The control council also formally proclaimed the abolition of the National Socialist party and the labyrinth of Nazi bureaus and subdivisions which directed every phase of German life. The order prohibited any attempt to reform Nazi groups and provided for confiscation of all party funds, records and real estate.

Lt. Gen. Lucius Clay, U. S. deputy representative on the control council, said the seizure of I. G. Farben was agreed upon by the coordinating committee made up of American, French, British and Soviet representatives. The decision was unanimous and does not require formal council approval, he said.

The owners and stockholders of I. G. Farben, which produced a large portion of Germany's war materials, will receive no future profits from those plants which are still operating and there will be no compensation for the seizure.

Approximately three-fourths of the Farben German factories are still intact despite Allied bombing.

Compost Pile

Every garden needs at least one compost pile. It is made with alternate layers of soil and organic material, such as old leaves, weeds, remains of old crops, and kitchen waste. An occasional layer of manure or commercial fertilizer helps decomposition.

The compost pile should be made neat and flat-topped, with vertical sides, and is kept moist to help decay. To mix the compost, a spade is used to slice downward through the pile, making a new pile of the slices as they fall from the spade.

After a year—during which it has been turned two or three times—the compost should be well rotted.

Canning Sugar

Five pounds of sugar are enough to sweeten 20 quarts of canned fruit, says the U. S. department of agriculture.

EMERGENCY CROP AND FEED LOANS NOW BEING MADE

O. T. Johnson, Field Supervisor, at Local AAA Office Tuesdays

O. T. Johnson, field supervisor for the emergency crop and feed loan division of the Department of Agriculture, has received an announcement from his St. Paul regional office that 1946 crop and feed loans are now available to eligible farmers in Pennington county, at the office of the AAA at Thief River Falls.

Mr. Johnson also reports he will be at this office Tuesday of each week between the hours of 1 and 3 P. M. to assist any applicants and to look after other business of his department.

Mr. Johnson reports that there has been no change in the law or regulations under which loans have been made during the past few years, but he stresses the fact that loans are not available to applicants who can obtain credit on reasonable terms from other sources, including local banks and Production Credit Association.

As in the past, farmers who obtain emergency crop and feed loans are required to give as security a first lien on the crops financed or a first lien on the livestock to be fed, if the money borrowed is to be used to produce or purchase feed for livestock. Loans draw interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum from date of disbursement, and the amount which may be loaned to any one farmer in 1946 may not exceed $400.00.

Take Your Choice.

The men's bowling league, the City and Business leagues, are having red-hot races, and its a flip of the coin to name the ultimate winner in each circuit Harts Office, with Johnny Jaranson "nursing" Goose Gulseth Harold Rasmussen, Curly Aines, and Cliff Myrin, has held the Business league lead for several months, but their margin has been peeled to a single game with the powerful Western Oil trailing by that margin. And within easy distance of the leaders are grouped the Soo Line, Redwood Inn, and the Poppler's Furniture teams.

Over in the City League, the Oen's team, the defending champions, had moved ahead of the Klewel's team but have a lead of only one game. That Klewel's team, with Walt. Beatty, Ed Karwand, Berdeen Nornes, Ham Berglund, Fred Lorentson, and Al Weber In the lineup, is able to provide the Oen's with some nervous moments before the championship is decided.

Fred Protz, bowling association secretary, announced that the City League matches will be bowled on Thursday evening, so that the bowlers will have a chance to attend the regional hockey games on Friday night.

ONLY SCRUB COW

The late president of a midwestern railroad had a life-sized painting of a cow framed and hung on the wall behind his desk at his office in Chicago.

The cow was just an ordinary-looking animal and friends who asked why he should want such a fine painting of an ordinary-looking cow in his office were told:

"Our trains through the dairy belt have killed hundreds of cows and that is the only 'scrub' cow they ever hit. The farmer who owned that cow said she was just a 'scrub' worth about $40. All the other cows that our trains have killed have been champions."

May Tear Down Fuehrer's Lair

Fear Retreat Might Become Symbol of Nazi Spirit That Ruined Reich.

By PAULINE FREDERICK
(WNU Staff Correspondent)

If you have been to Berchtesgaden since the war ended, you will understand why there is talk of destroying Hitler's eagle's nest perched atop the highest alp in that area, as his house and that of Goering and Bormann further down the mountainside were levelled. Only it will be a much harder job.

I have just been to the eagle's nest and I can tell you at first hand why there is some apprehension about it.

The eagle's nest is the retreat der fuehrer had built for himself on a point 5,000 feet high. It's made of the solid stone of the Bavarian mountain on which it is anchored. To reach it, you go up a precipitous winding road. Himmler's Mercedes, with its five speeds forward, in which I was traveling, gave out and spurted steam and water a third of the way up. A jeep that picked me up at that point stopped, too, a little later, but we finally arrived at the destination with the aid of a second jeep.

Tunnel Solid Rock.

You first reach a tunnel more than a hundred feet deep into the solid rock and guarded by huge bronze doors. It leads to a double-decker elevator that rises 500 feet through a shaft bored through the rock to the eagle's nest. The top cage of the elevator—a bronze section with a circular mirror on the back wall and leather-cushioned bench around the walls—was for Hitler. A trap door in the right hand corner as you enter was for the SS men to drop down into their cage below, which was white-washed like a cell. When the elevator reached its destination at the top of the mountain—the SS got out on the ground floor and Hitler entered his living quarters on the first floor. From the view you get at this height, despite the fact that the house itself and the furnishings—what have been left by the G.I. souvenir hunters—are unattractive—is enough to give anyone delusions of grandeur.

I stood on the narrow terrace looking out over the breath-taking scene talking with one of the American guards. It was what he told me that made me realize that some day the eagle's nest might have to be destroyed.

Hitlerism Not Dead.

The guard told me that two SS men had just been arrested up there. That surprised me very much, and I remarked that they might have known there was a good chance of being caught if they came around a place like that. "Why would they do it?" I asked the guard.

His answer startled me. "This is still a shrine to many Germans," he said very seriously.

Then he pointed down the hill to Hitler's guest house just back of his house that had been bombed, too. Germans were repairing it for a barracks for occupation forces.

"The Germans we put to work down there, work as they work no place else—they never lose a second," the guard said. "Why—because they can see the eagle's nest from there."

It is true that it is almost impossible to find a German in Germany who ever admits being a Nazi. From these two incidents, it would seem to be true also that the spirit of Hitlerism is not dead in Germany. That is why the things that remind the people of Hitlerism at the height of the fuehrer's glory may have to be destroyed so they will not become symbols of that spirit which has to be done away with if a new Germany is to come out of the war.

Fire Fighters Are Just That and Nothing More

ST. LOUIS. — Mrs. Ralph Crowder almost solved the problem of getting in the fruit crop.

A large and productive tree in her back yard was laden with apricots. Unable to cope with the harvest herself, she called the fire department.

"There's an apricot tree in my back yard—" she told the fireman who answered the telephone. But the connection was cut off and a few moments later Mrs. Crowder was startled by the arrival of a ladder truck, which roared to a stop in front of her home.

"Where is that tree?" one of the firemen asked breathlessly. When he was told that Mrs. Crowder was offering to let the firemen pick fruit, he shook his head.

"We have no time to pick apricots," he explained. "There might be a fire somewhere and it would not look well for the fire department to be up in a tree picking fruit."

Hasten Sprouting

Vine crop seeds can be sown in hills early in May and covered with hot-caps. The soil will warm quickly under the protectors, and hasten sprouting of the seeds. Weeds will also sprout, so the hills may need one or two weedings before the protectors are removed permanently. At weeding, the vine crop plants should be thinned to 3 to 5 in a hill.

When danger of frost is past, a small hole is cut or torn in the top of each protector to accustom the plants gradually to outside conditions. It is wise to apply a vine crop dust containing both an insecticide and a fungicide at this time, because cucumber beetles, which carry the bacterial wilt disease, will find their way through the small holes to the plants. Later as the weather is warmer and the plants grow large, the protectors are removed.

Increased market value of what formerly has been looked upon as weed trees emphasizes the need for a more adequate forestry program in Minnesota. Forest products are a bigger source of revenue to the people of our state now than they were a half a century ago when lumbering was one of our big industries. Paper mills and other wood products factories are now using wood that had no commercial value at that time. We criticize the generation that permitted our great pine forests to be destroyed, but we are doing little to conserve and develop what we have left. It would be unfair to say that we have not made some progress, but it is true that we still are neglecting one of the state's greatest resources, in an area that covers nearly two-fifths of the state. Several organizations are doing excellent work in awakening us to our possibilities in this field. These organizations deserve our thanks—and our support.

A somewhat heated argument is now under way as to whether or not co-operatives pay taxes as other businesses do. In this argument the co-ops are doing a good job of defending themselves. The facts are pretty much in their favor and that is quite an advantage in any controversy. It is true however that owners of private corporation stock are at a disadvantage under present tax schedules. The Times, for instance, is incorporated, and because it is a corporation the owners are subjected to double taxation. In the first place a heavy tax is imposed on all corporation profits, without any exemption. Then the stockholders pay their individual taxes on these same profits when they are distributed in the form of dividends. If the Times were operated as a partnership, as many small newspapers are, then the only tax on profits would be that imposed upon the partners as individuals. If the co-operatives have any advantage in this matter of income taxes it is that distributed profits are taxed as would be the profits of a partnership. The profits that are not distributed, however, are taxed as are the profits of other corporations. The recipient of a hundred dollar dividend on private stock has already paid a heavy tax on that dividend and must pay again in making the individual return. The recipient of a dividend from a co-operative pays only the individual tax. But co-operatives are among the biggest taxpayers in our community and to infer that they do not pay taxes is obviously unfair.

Fortunately our community was not in the main path of the storm that swept over the northwest Tuesday but the sample we had was sufficiently severe. The intensity of this storm in the Fargo area is considered nearly equal to that of the March storm of several years ago when many lives were lost. The big difference probably was the fact that the March storm struck suddenly, and at night. This week's storm was anticipated. Storm warnings were broadcast frequently thruout the day, which greatly reduced the hazard. Weather bureaus and radio stations performed an excellent service in this emergency.

Tuesday's storm brought us another snow removal problem in Thief River Falls, but that isn't too serious. Snow removal in the business section is a necessary part of municipal winter housekeeping in this territory. Sure it costs money but it is a service we must have and a service for which better equipment must be obtained as soon as it is available. We have not done a good job this winter in keeping sidewalks open. Individually and collectively we have little to be proud of in this respect. Not much can be done to correct this condition now but some another year and, individually or collectively, we should do better. Either the city should enforce sidewalk cleaning or take the chore over as a community problem.

Boy Scouts will take over in the city Saturday, getting first-hand information on the problems of municipal government by actual experience. They will set up an administration of their own, filling all of the various offices, and working along with the regular officials and employees. This experience will be a good lesson in citizenship for the youngsters who in a very few years will have the responsibility in fact as well as in form.

The various strikes which now are paralyzing business are not so much a controversy between employers and employees as they are between departments of our government. The President has decreed a general wage increase thruout the country. Employer groups are willing to go along with the higher schedules providing the increased costs can be passed along in selling prices, to which another department of the administration vigorously objects. Now, seemingly, either the President must back up on his proposed wage increases or the officials who have ordered not to give ground on prices must make concessions. You really can't blame the workers for striking when that in effect is what the President has told them to do. The present difficulty with which Mr. Truman is confronted is of his own making. Unfortunately it is not his problem alone and we are all going to be effected by the results.

Sea School Stays At Sheepshead Bay

Maritime Service Will Give Training Courses.

WASHINGTON: —The maritime service training station at Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn, largest merchant marine training school in the world, will become a permanent installation, Capt. H. H. Dreamy, assistant commandant of the United States Maritime service, said here.

The station will provide one-month refresher and upgrading courses for unlicensed merchant marine personnel.

Established in 1942 to train civilians in merchant marine entry ratings, Sheepshead Bay is to be one of five permanent installations which will maintain "a trained and efficient citizen personnel" for the post war merchant fleet, according to Captain Dreamy.

Fleet Will Need 100,000 Men.

Vice Adm. Emory S. Land, head of the Maritime Service, has anticipated a postwar merchant fleet of 17,500,000 tons, and Captain Dreamy said such a fleet would require 100,000 unlicensed personnel.

Men entering the merchant marine probably will be trained at the St. Petersburg, Fla., maritime school, he said. The merchant marine academy at Kings Point, L. I., planned as a four-year "Annapolis" for merchant marine officers, will supply about one-fourth of the officer personnel. Other officer candidates coming up through the non-licensed ratings will take their training at Fort Trumbull, New London, Conn., and Pass Christian, Miss.

During the war, 10,000 men were trained at one time at the 75-acre Sheepshead Bay station. There are seven barracks, each housing 1,500 men, and six ships company barracks housing 634. At present, about 4,000 men are in training there. Captain Dreamy said the maritime service will continue the present program for the duration of the shipping emergency.

Find Common Cold Is Shortened by Penicillin

CHICAGO.— Highly concentrated solutions of penicillin inhaled as a mist have brought complete relief to persons suffering from several respiratory infections, a medical investigator reported in the current journal of the American Medical association.

Dr. Herbert N. Vermilye of Forest Hills, N. Y., said in the publication that he had used the treatment successfully on more than 200 persons afflicted with inflammation of the lungs, tonsilitis, sinus trouble, sore throat, and bacterial asthma.

A form of the drug known as aerosol penicillin, he said, inhaled through a mouthpiece or oxygen mask, has lessened the severity of colds by halting secondary infections.

Screams Rout Prowler At Rifle and Dog Fail

VINCENNES, IND.—Mrs. George Wilson felt secure at night when her husband was away from home, because she had a quick-action automatic rifle and a fierce watch-dog.

But when a man entered her home one evening, both dog and gun failed. The dog, she discovered, was sound asleep. And when she pulled the trigger of the gun as the intruder advanced toward her, the hammer stuck on empty barrel.

Mrs. Wilson relied on a couple of blood-curdling screams to arouse her father-next-door, and the intruder fled.

Deciding to be extra cautious, a thrifty Chinese removed a brick from the hollow wall of his house and carefully deposited his hard earned savings in the opening. Still haunted by a feeling of insecurity, he wrote across the homemade safe:

"No money in this wall."

His astute neighbor, Wong, saw the telltale writing, rifled the cache and took the hoarding. Fearing detection, he wrote on the replaced brick:

"The money was not stolen by Wong."

THIEVES DEFEAT WINNIPEG SEXTET HERE SUNDAY 5-3

Local Six Overcomes "Flying Frenchmen" 2nd Period Advantage

A large crowd was on hand at the Arena Sunday afternoon and witnessed one of the fastest and cleanest games of the senior hockey season, with the locals defeating the S. Boniface College alumni of Winnipeg, 5 to 3.

Freddy Gustafson's first period goal, after taking a pass from Bill Gray and pumping a hard shot at goalie Eddie Poitras, who made the save only to have the puck bounce off his elbow and into the net, gave the Thieves a 1 to 0 lead.

Midway in the second period the "Flying Frenchmen" connected for three quick goals, and appeared to have the game in control. Defenseman Armand LaRiviere collected the first goal on a shot from the red line; Bob Gagnon, lifting a rebound into the south goal, after Guilbault had tried an angle shot notched the second goal; and center Maurice Leveque, on a pass from Eddy Gallant, canted the net for the third tally.

The local's "Pug" Lund was responsible for the tying goals. Pug, following a face-off in the St. Boniface zone, received a long pass from Lloyd Johnson and whipped a shot past goalie Poitras and into the south goal, and a moment later after a solo rush, "Pug" drilled a hard shot, from close in, that beat the Canadian goalie to knot the score at 3-all.

The Thieves veteran line—Gustafson, Stanbridge, and Gray—produced the game-winning counters in the third period. With St. Boniface short-handed, the Thieves played "power" hockey and Connie Stanbridge, on a pass from Gray, fired a back-handed shot from the red line that eluded Poitras and moved the locals into the lead. On a breakaway, Gustafson and Gray bombined for the final score, with Gray taking a pass from Fred near the St. Boniface goal, drawing Poitras out of net and sinking the rubber into the net for the fifth tally.

For the Canadians, center Maurice LeVeque and right wing Louis Deniset, were standouts; while the line of Gustafson, Gray and Stanbridge were the offensive stars for the locals. Young Kermit Maldment, in the nets for the Thieves, turned in another top-flight performance, turning aside a number of Canadian scoring rushes; and "Pug" Lund, in addition to scoring two vitals goals, played a strong checking game.

The summary:

T. R. Falls (5)vs.	St. Boniface (3)
Maldment goal	H. Poitras
Lund defense	LaRiviere
Frois defense	Gaudette
Gustafson wing	G. Deniset
Gray wing	Gallant

Scores: Thief River Falls—Johnson, Langavin, Aaranson, Orn, Wanzy, Wilson, Perrier; St. Boniface—L. Deniset, (Guilbault), H. Poitras, Gaudette, G. Deniset, L. Deniset, Pelletier.

First period scoring—Gustafson (Gray). Penalties—Gaudette (2).

Second period scoring—LaRiviere (Unassisted); Gagnon (Guilbault); LeVeque (Gallant); Lund (Johnson); Lund (unassisted). Penalty—Gray.

Referee: Homer Gilbertson.

Prowler Six to Enter Regional Event Friday

The Prowlers concluded their pre-tournament hockey schedule this week, absorbing a solid 4 to 2 defeat at the hand of a veteran Warroad team here saturday night but rebounding to trounce the Warriors in a return game played at Warroad on Monday night, winning by a 7 to 3 score.

Tomorrow night the defending champion Prowlers will meet the winner of tonight's game between Hallock and Williams in a regional semi-finals game. Warroad and Roseau are the two other semi-finalists who will play Friday night.

Bud Brosolit's first period goal gave the Prowlers an early lead over Warroad in the game played here Saturday night, and the locals held that advantage until midway in the second period. Warroad with its veteran line of Ohlie, Christian, and Gibbons doing some neat passing, then connected for a pair of goals to move into a 2 to 1 lead. Ohlie tallied the first goal, with Christian getting the "feeder" pass from Ohlie, coming in for a set-up shot, to score the second counter.

Continuing to out-pass and out maneuver the Prowlers, the Warriors added to their margin in the third period, with Christian and Ohlie getting a goal apiece, and giving Coach Green's team a 4 to 1 lead. Brosolit, on a pass from Hovie, lifted a shot from the Warroad red-line and beat goalie Jim Green, to tally the locals second goal in the second goal in the final minute of play.

Playing at Warroad on Monday evening, the game appeared to be repetition of Saturday's encounter, for the Warriors, on goals by Christian and Oshi, pulled away to a 2 to 0 first period lead.

Wes Hovie, stick-handling like Freddy Gustafson, carried the Prowlers back into the game in the second period, scoring a pair of solo goals. And in the final period it was all Bud Brosolit, for the black-haired Prowler knifed through the Warroad defense for five goals, giving the locals a well-earned 7 to 3 win.

PROWLERS BREAK EVEN IN PAIR OF WEEK-END TILTS

Defeat Warren Friday 48-33; Lose to Grafton 44 to 37 Saturday

It was a win and a loss for the Prowlers during the week-end, with the locals defeating the Warren Ponies here on Friday night, 48 to 33, and losing to a basketbreaking team at Grafton, 44 to 37, on Saturday. On Saturday Feb. 9 the Prowlers will play the Bemidji Lumberjacks on the B. S. T. C. floor at Bemidji.

Two swishing long shots, by Roy Tunberg and Kenny Borsheim, in the opening minute of play Friday night, set the tempo for the Prowlers in their game with the Warren Ponies. Warren, appearing jittery, missed several set-up shots but three free throws by Mickey Nichols and a gift toss by Bob Meigaard, tied the score at 4-all. And after Hanna had connived a Prowler point, Phil Lindberg's left-handed shot gave the Ponies the lead. Tunberg's one-handed try from the side of the court erased the Pony lead and moved the locals into a lead they never relinquished, with the Prowlers having a 11 to 6 period advantage.

Field goals by Johnny Powell, Chuck Troland, and Glen Magnuson, increased the Prowler lead to 33 to 17 in the early part of the third period. Meigaard, Lindberg, and Bakke, with Bakke directing the offense and setting up the plays, pared some points off the Prowlers lead, to trail by at 39 to 23 score going into the final quarter.

The Prowlers, on field goals by Troland, Carlson, and Davidson, and free throws by Magnuson, and Carlson, outscored Coach Ernst's Ponies, 9 to 5, in the fourth period, to win by a 48 to 33 score.

Playing at Grafton on Saturday night, the hard-driving Grafton quint, with forward Givens and guard Hank Newgaard doing the scoring, piled up a 15 to 6 lead over the Prowlers in the first period. A free throw by Tunberg, and a free throw and field goal by Kenny Borsheim, were the only points tallied by the locals.

The Dakotans continued their effective play in the second period, outscoring the Prowlers 12 to 8, to hold a comfortable 27 to 12 lead at the half. Given, for the Grafton, was particularly elusive in getting loose for set-up shots under the local goal.

In the second half the Prowlers, with Tunberg, Hanna, and Carlson, each getting a pair of field goals, and Magnuson and Powell getting a two-pointer apiece, played their best ball, although the Prowlers notched 9 of their second half points in the final period of play when Grafton had a number of reserves in the lineup.

Keeping Score

... WITH BUCK OLSON

Don't Miss.

The eighth regional hockey tournament getting under way here this evening, with a playoff between Hallock and Williams, and with the semi-finals on Friday and the finals on Saturday night, is a "must" for all the hockey fans in this vicinity. It's a fact that the high school hockey on exhibit here this week-end will compare favorably with the games that will be played in the state meet in St. Paul next week.

There's not much argument but that the Prowlers, Roseau, and Warroad are capable of winning regional championships in seven of the state's eight regions, with only the seventh, or Eveleth region, being able to produce as fine prep hockey.

Tonight's game between Hallock and Williams, to determine the team that will face the Prowlers in tomorrow night's second semi-finals game, should be an evenly waged contest; but if Bob Blair, the Hallock goalie, is having another of his "on" nights, Williams will have difficulty in marking up scores, with the result that Hallock will come up with the long end of the tally. But the game that is causing considerable sensation is the semi-final match between Roseau and Warroad, with the face-off slated for 7:30 P. M. Friday night.

In the two games to date, Roseau and Warroad have each scored a win, so tomorrow night's tussle will be the "rubber" match, and it should be a gruelling affair with the Warroad line of Max Ohlie, Sam Gibbons, and Gordy Christian playing on even terms with Roseau's Rube Bjorkman, Roy Baumgartner, and Bob Harris. The fact that Roseau's Oscar Almquist has more reserves at hand, with such players as Tom Burran, Tom Overson, and George Peterson available, will perhaps decide the game and give the Cloverleafs a slight edge.

Tourney Worth The Money

Yes, the tournament is worth the admission price, with Roseau showing us such boys as Harris, Bjorkman, Baumgartner, Ulvin, and Schille; Warroad flashing their Indian stars in Ohlie and Gibbons, with Christian directing the play; and Hallock showing off their goalie Bob Blair and their big defenseman, Earl Glideon.

And of course the Prowlers, with Wes Hovie, Bud Brossolt, Les Vigness, Swede Lund, Don Hage, Ralph Engelstad, Al Thompson, Bob Amundson, Elroy Skjerping, and Jimmy Welch, have more than its share of stars to put on the ice. And if the locals play as they did at Warroad on Monday, Coach Stanbridge will have an opportunity to show off these stars of his at St. Paul next week, for they performed like regional champs against the Warriors.

That's Settled.

It was quite a struggle, but the high school boys finally asserted their supremacy over the G. A. A. in a series of bowling matches, winning the deciding match on Sunday afternoon, having a 5541 total—to the girls 4829. Bud Brossolt, with games of 180-121-156-184, for a 641 total, and Ralph Foster, with scores of 193-140-134-140, led the boys. For the girls, Dot Snelling's 510 total, on games of 133-116-121-141, was the high total. Merchandise prizes, and hrey were appreciated plenty by the boys and girls, were awarded to the winners and high average bowlers.

MINNESOTA STILL LEADS AS BUTTER PRODUCING STATE

Trend Away from Butter Production Continues in State, However

Though its production of creamery butter has been cut 28 per cent from the peak reached in 1941, Minnesota still is the Number One butter state of the nation, figures compiled by the state-federal crop reporting service this week disclosed.

Preliminary figures for creamery butter in Minnesota for the 1945 calendar year show a production of approximately 238,000,000 pounds, compared to 215,000,000 for Iowa, nearest rival of Minnesota in butter production, Roy A. Bodin, agricultural statistician for the crop reporting service, disclosed.

Mr. Bodin's figures disclosed, however, a continuance of the trend away from butter production that has been pronounced in Minnesota since war-time restrictions were established. The 1945 production is some 6 per cent below the 1944 production, which was 251,613,000 pounds, and 28 per cent of the peak of 320,478,000 pounds reached in 1941.

Policies of the federal government in maintaining a ceiling on butter while allowing sale of cream without a ceiling have made it much more profitable for creameries to sell their product as cream and so brought about a big reduction in butter manufacture at a time when demand for butter is tremendous. Many creameries have quit making butter.

Expressing the fear that continuance of such policies may prove permanently injurious to Minnesota farmers and their butter market, Governor Edward J. Thye two months ago appealed to federal officials to modify the regulations so as to correct the disparity between cream and butter and so make it possible for creameries to turn greater quantities of their butter fat into butter. What course the government is to take still is in controversy.

COAL PARLEY HELD IN MINNEAPOLIS

Report No Cause for Alarm in Situation

More equitable distribution of coal supplies to prevent any section of the Northwest from being hit by a shortage was agreed upon Thursday at a meeting of representatives of approximately 1,000 solid fuel dealers at Dyckman hotel in Minneapolis.

T. G. Dolliff presided at the meeting sponsored by the Northwest Retail Coal Dealers association.

Reports on the coal supply situation were made by Richard Relf, representing Maher Coal bureau, statistical agency serving the Head of the Lakes dock operators, and Milton Almer, representative of Solid Fuel administration.

Finding no cause for consumer alarm in the supply situation, the speakers pointed out that the the heating season on degree-day basis is more than one-half over.

Dealers, however, were advised to augment their supplies by rail carriers to relieve pressure on dock facilities and try to get consumers to limit their purchases to current needs.

The meeting was called at the suggestion of Gov. Edward J. Thye who Wednesday asked Chester Bowles, OPA administrator, to adjust price ceilings of North Dakota lignite stoker coal to permit its shipment to northern Minnesota and South Dakota.

Central Co-op to Meet in St. Paul Feb. 12-13

Wheeler McMillen, editor-in-chief of the Farm Journal and Farmers Wife, will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet on the evening of February 12. Mr. McMillen has chosen for his subject, "Shall Agriculture Lean or Lead?"

BRANDT REFUTES ATTACK ON CO-OPS

Declares Co-ops Pay Millions in Taxes

A new attempt by foes of cooperatives to attack the co-ops as non-taxpayers was countered today by John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., with a series of facts which he declared "will turn the light of truth on this situation."

An advertisement attacking the co-ops appeared in newspapers in all sections of the state sponsored by "so-called 'Minnesota Small Business Men Employees' Committee," Brandt said, "but after we look at all the facts, you can decide for yourself whether the sponsors are really small businessmen.

"We believe in a postive rather than a negative name-calling approach to this or any other question," Brandt continued, "and we have the positive facts which anyone who likes can check and double-check.

"Cooperatives of the Northwest and the nation pay millions in taxes every year. They pay personal property taxes, real estate taxes, licenses fees, and many other taxes under the same laws at the same rates as other businesses.

"Everyone agrees that all profits should be subject to income tax. But where there is no profit, there can be no tax. The only reason that cooperatives do not pay income tax is that they must pay all earnings back to patrons in proportion to the amount of their patronage, regardless of whether these patrons are members of the co-op or not.

"Thus cooperatives make no profit. In all cases the patron who receives dividends from his cooperative pays a federal income tax on these dividends. What could be fairer than that?

"Any business which turns earnings over to its customers instead of to stockholders can enjoy the same so-called privilege as a cooperative.

Brazilian Industry Makes Big Growth Since 1938

Over the five-year period from 1938 through 1943, the value of Brazil's industrial output increased more than 50 per cent, according to Lester J. Kelly, writing in Brazilian Business.

Brazil's industrial output rose to an estimated total of $1,565,000,000 in 1943 from $1,000,000,000 in 1938, he reports.

Rising prices partly accounted for the increase in dollar value of Brazilian industrial production during the war years. Nevertheless, Mr. Kelly reports, substantial expansion has taken place in many industrial lines, notably in construction industries, paper-making, rubber goods, chemicals, mineral processing and manufacture of miscellaneous consumer goods. The 1943 output, he notes, was more than three times the 1929 total of $450,000,000.

Industrial workers, he reports, have increased from around 1,000,000 in 1938 to an estimated 1,200,000 in the end of 1943, while the number of factories has increased from 36,902 to around 80,000.

12 Million Gallons of Bituminous Material Used on Roads in 1945

The Minnesota highway department used 1,200 carloads or 12,000,000 gallons of bituminous material in maintaining the 4,800 miles of bituminous surfaced trunk highways in 1945, according to figures released today. All of this material was used for repairs, resurfacing and sealcoating. No new bituminous surfacing was applied in 1945.

Previous to the war an average of 18,000,000 gallons of road oil, tar and asphalt were used annually in maintenance operations. During the war this dropped to a low of 6,000,000 gallons in 1943, then increased to 9,000,000 in 1945. Some types of bituminous materials were no available during the war.

A total of 1,709,000 cubic yards of mineral aggregate were produced in 1945 and used either in bituminous surface maintenance or in repairing and resurfacing untreated gravel roads.

STATE INCOME PROVISIONS CITED

Spaeth Comments on Deductions Allowed

Taxes paid on purchases of jewelry, cosmetics, furs, etc., are classified as nondeductible items.

Amounts withheld from the salaries of individuals for the payment of social security taxes and amounts withheld from the salaries of individuals under retirement funds are not deductible from gross income.

The state income tax law permits the entire expense of sickness and accident as a deduction from gross income if paid on or in behalf of the taxpayer or his dependent with the following limitations:

Job Seekers Asked to Renew Applications with USES Each Month

U. S. employment service offices in Minnesota have reestablished the pre-war practice of maintaining their file of job applicants on a 30-day basis.

The names of persons who do not renew their applications for work at least once a month will be carried in an inactive file, Drena Bjornaraa, state director of the USES says. This reestablishment of the 30-day validity period means Bjornaraa explained that the first selection for job referrals will go to workers who maintain a contact with their nearest USES office and indicate they are currently seeking work. Applications for work may be kept active by a personal visit or written notice to the office. A simple postcard will do.

"With our active file growing and with workers moving about a great deal, it is now more important than ever for us to have a file of job applicants that is up to date," Bjornaraa said, "In order that the USES may give the best possible service to employers who are calling for workers and to workers who are seeking jobs."

Hard Water

The reason ordinary soaps do not work well in hard water arises from the fact that they contain sodium or potassium and the hard water contains calcium and magnesium. When the soap is mixed with the water the sodium or potassium is pushed out of the soap molecule and is replaced by calcium and magnesium. The reaction creates an insoluble calcium or magnesium compound, which is precipitated as a sticky curd—the ring around the tub or washbasin. Not until all the calcium and magnesium is precipitated and the water thereby softened will ordinary soap lather up and do a good cleansing job.

Modern laboratory work has produced many kinds of water mixed paint with different pigments and binders; affording varying degrees of cleansability, one-coat hiding, high coverage over many sorts of surfaces and a durability never imagined of a water paint, even a few years ago. Convenience in packaging, fire resistant factors, and ease of application are among the factors cited to the credit of these new types of paint.

Modern laboratory work has produced many kinds of water mixed paint with different pigments and binders; affording varying degrees of cleansability, one-coat hiding, high coverage over many sorts of surfaces and a durability never imagined of a water paint, even a few years ago. More Headaches for the Farmer

Once more the farmer is being asked to break all food production records. To plow more acres, feed more livtstock and harvest more crops than ever before. He is being asked to do this so that America may continue to feed and clothe the needy throughout the world, as well as our own folks at home.

To carry out this job the farmer must have tools of production. Most of those he owns have taken a terrific beating. They can't be tied together much longer with rusty fence wire.

In the teeth of this situation, the farmer ran into a strike in the steel industry—a strike which hit at the heart of food production.

All this means more headaches for the farmer—loss of vital food production, and a bad dent in his pocketbook.

Facts Too Frequently Omitted

The steel strike was called by the United Steelworkers of America—CIO, which insists on a wage increase totaling $166,000,000. The U. S. Steel Corporation has offered a wage rise which if applied throughout the industry would amount to $135,000,000.

Steel workers are already among the highest paid wage-earners in America. Before the strike their average earnings were approximately $1.16 an hour, 9.26 a day and $46.32 a week—on a forty-hour week. The U. S. Steel offer would have given them about $1.31 an hour, $10.46 a day and $52.32 a week. But they refused it, and accused the steel industry of conspiring to ruin the union with an offered wage increase of $25 a month, the highest increase in the industry's history.

The strike is a direct violation of the contract between the union and the steel companies. The union wanted a long-term contract and got it. The union agreed not to strike during the life of the contract. Yet, the union struck on January 21.

Fighting for a Way of Life

Farmers have a big stake in continuous steel production. They have an opportunity to say what they think about unchecked labor monopolies which bring to a stop the nation's recovery efforts, through excessive wage demands which could only add to inflation and cause soaring prices.

Not until enough of them protest unfair, dictatorial actions and urge proper safeguards against arrogant, heedless union leadership and one-sided labor laws will the country get back to sane, profitable production where everyone works together toward a better standard of living.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Competition—Good or Bad

"I can't stay, fellows—Dad told me to clean up the basement and I better do it."

Twelve year old Joe walked slowly away from his classmates in the gym. Actually he could clean up the basement another time for Dad was considerate about when Joe did his chores. He tried not to make them interfere with school work and especially with athletics. Joe used his chores as an excuse to avoid competition with the others. In his particular big basketball was the chief sport and Joe was a poor player. Joe's father had been a star in college and hoped Joe would be too, but despite practice and good coaching Joe wasn't star calibre. Hence, Joe made excuses not to play.

This is a case of over-emphasis on a particular sport and severe competition resulting in a kind of frustration. Joe felt frustrated because he couldn't live up to his father's performance. It is true that we live in a competitive society and children should learn to compete with their contemporaries. Too often children are forced to compete with those who are markedly superior. The result is failure and social disapproval. It upsets the child emotionally and he feels frustrated. The feeling of personal glory and success may be overstressed. The few who achieve first place do so frequently at the expense of many others. Competition between equals has definite advantages. We need to emphasize the thrill of participaton and the satisfaction of doing one's best, instead of self-satisfaction in overcoming others.

Social objectives rather than personal success should be the goal of sports training. Besides a few players competing before huge crowds of spectators, we should have many other teams each competing with others of approximately the same skill. Prolonged exposure to severe competition may result in personality maladjustment and emotional disturbances.

In the case of Joe, if his father could put less emphasis on his son following in his father's footsteps and realize that Joe could gain satisfaction in playing with those of his own ability, and that teamwork rather than personal glory is the real value, Joe could be helped into developing attitudes of fairness and good sportsmanship which would be valuable throughout his life. We all need to realize that along with the advantages of competitive sports there are disadvantages such as frustration and personality maladjustment when the competition is too great.

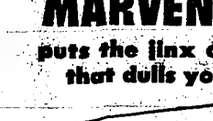
Soap Measurement Results In Good Laundering

Measuring soap for laundering pays in good results just as measuring does in cooking. In addition, it may help to save soap, say home economists of the department of agriculture. A suds about two inches thick has been found to give the best results in removing soil. Too much soap is not only wasteful, it does not do the best washing job.

A little experience will show just how much soap is needed to give a two-inch suds. Try a half cup first, then add more until exactly the right measure is found. Just how much is needed depends on the size of the machine, the water, and the kind of soap used — whether flakes, chips, powder or jelly.



Measuring the water and the load of clothes is also important. Fill the tub with just enough water to reach the water line indicated inside the tub after the clothes are in. Put in only the weight of clothes or number of pieces advised in the directions that came with the machine. Too heavy a load will not wash well and may over-burden it.

Stock Exchange

New York's commercial importance was established by the 18th century and as early as 1792 there was a general meeting place for merchants, known as the "Exchange." Prior to and during the Revolutionary war no security market existed there simply because practically no securities existed in America. Conditions of the new Republican post - Revolution days necessitated new financial machinery. The earliest records of security marketing in New York are meager but traditionally stockbrokers met under an old buttonwood tree before what is now 68 Wall street. Later they gravitated into nearby coffee houses but there was 'no formal organization nor permanent headquarters. The first brokers' agreement was signed May 17, 1792. Increased governmental debt after the War of 1812 produced such expansion of the purchase and sale of securities that the "New York Stock Exchange board" was formed in 1817.

Food Economy

Prepare only as much food as is needed, and use economical methods. When the skins are tender, serve summer squash, cucumbers, carrots, tomatoes with skins on. Save vegetable water to use in stews, gravies or vegetable cocktail.

Seven times sudsier than soap in hardest water — its concentrated cleansing power gets dishes really clean in a jiffy — saving you time and work! Just swish — rinse — and your dishes dry sparkling clean — without wiping — without rubbing! Even greasy pans and kettles "come clean" with hardly any effort!

SPRING HIGHWAY RESTRICTIONS ON ROADS SOON DUE

Department Requests Truckers to Prepare for Coming Season

The season for spring load restrictions is little more than a month away, according to C. L. Moll, maintenance engineer of the Minnesota highway department. He urged truckers and others engaged in highway transport to adapt their hauling to the seasonal restrictions by doing two things:

1. Get as much of their heavy hauling as possible done while the ground is frozen and the 9-ton maximum axle load is still in effect.

2. Make plans to adapt their spring hauling to the load limits which must be posted for several weeks on nearly all gravel roads and bituminous highways.

"Last year restrictions were posted on 6,924 of the 7,035 miles of gravel and bituminous surfaces in the trunk highway system during the spring break-up", said Mr. Moll. "The posted limits ranged from 3 to 7 tons maximum axle load. The first restrictions were posted March 12. The need for restrictions may arise any time after March 1, and on most routes the posted axle loads will be approximately the same as last year. Truckers should make plans in advance to meet these conditions.

"Primary purpose of load restrictions is to protect road surfaces and to keep the highways open to all except the very heavy vehicles. Operators of heavy vehicles should understand that while these restrictions may cause them temporary inconvenience, they are for the long run by rigid observance. If the load limits are not observed, it often happens that the road becomes impassable to all traffic. Violation of the load restrictions also postpones the date when the restrictions can be lifted."

WHEN IT RAINED IT POURED BRIDGE FREAKS

Mankato—The chance of a perfect bridge hand is once in seven million—not anywhere near once in an ordinary lifetime. Yet the ladies in a local foursome recently marvelled over two perfect hands in the same round. One held 13 hearts and was out bid at the seven level by an opponent holding 13 spades. Of the other two one held 11 clubs and two diamonds, the other vice versa. Paging Mr. Culbertson and Mr. Ripley.

15 MILLION WILL EARN OVER $2,500

Insurance Co. Report Studies Family Income

Over 15 million families will enjoy incomes of $2,500 or above in 1946; this is about twice as many American families as ever had equivalent buying power in any preceding peacetime year.

The incomes of over 12 million of these families will be $3000 or more; $2,500 is now the "acceleration point" above which a rapidly increasing proportion of income is spent on "prosperity goods," i. e. nonnecessities, according to a study by Northwestern National Life Insurance Company.

Thus nearly half of all U. S. families—the half who own the bulk of the nation's 150 billion dollars in war bonds and other savings—will not need to dip into those savings to be a market for the flood of luxries, semi-luxuries and items for good living which will pour out of U. S. factories in 1946, the study says.

It points out further that high wartime incomes were financed largely out of government-borrowed money, whereas probably by midyear the high 1946 income levels will be entirely financed by industrial activity, as the government budget is expected to come into approximate balance in the new fiscal year.

Prepare Surface

A modern method of preparing a badly corroded metal surface for painting is described by Canadian Paint and Varnish magazine. The intense, quick heat of oxy-acetylene flames from a blow pipe with a row of outlets was used to expand rust and loose scale on the inside of a recently drained penstock, which besides much rust and scale had large cauliflower-like growths resulting from pitting and the building-up of rust deposits, with large pits underneath which would have to be cleaned out to the sound metal before painting. The flame priming treatment was reported to have left the surface clean, dry and warm, enabling the paint to be put on faster, bond tighter and last longer. Furthermore, it was stated to have the effect of giving the paint that was applied a low temperature bake, increasing its resistance to corrosion and prolonging its life considerably.

Cleaning Egg Beater

To clean an egg-beater quickly, give it a few turns in cold water, then in hot water, and finally a few turns in the air. Keep the eggs and wheels out of the water.

Corn Silage

Cooperative tests involving the dairy and agronomy departments of the Illinois agricultural experiment station show that corn hybrids which produce a high yield of mature grain are better for silage than rank-growing, extremely late-maturing corns that yield a higher total tonnage per acre. Early-maturing hybrids are not as high yielding as full-season ones.

Another requirement of a good silage corn is capacity to resist lodging. In this respect the hybrids in general excel the old open pollinated varieties. Hybrids differ somewhat in this respect.

Corn to be used for silage should be drilled rather than checked. Drilled corn can be harvested with a corn binder much easier than checked corn. The plants feed into the harvester slightly rather than in bunches, as would be the case in checked corn. Drilled corn is likely to be a little leafier and have slightly larger stalks than checked corn.

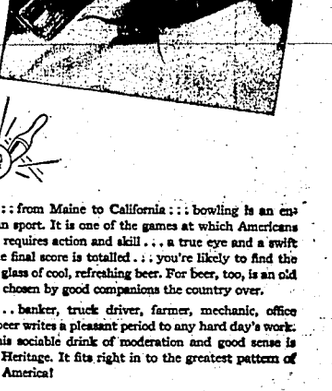
"U" ATTENDANCE REACHES NEW TOP

Collegiate Enrollment Totals More than 16,000

Final registration figures for the University of Minnesota's winter quarter, announced by Dr. William S. Carlson, dean of admissions, show that two enrollment records were established. One was an increase of 77 percent in enrollment of regular full-time students over the corresponding period of the year before. This record probably will never be beaten, as the higher base established by the greater number of students will decrease the percentage gain in subsequent statistics.

The other record occurred when the university, for the first time, recorded more than 16,000 students in residence at a given time.

Overall collegiate enrollment was 16,079 of whom 15,440 were regular college students and 359 were in "contract courses" being taught for the army and navy. Examples of these students are V-12 men in engineering courses under the navy's program and army men in the Japanese language and area courses.



With 5625 students the college of Science, Literature and the Arts fell only a little short of being twice as large as it was a year ago while the Institute of Technology, with 2368 students, came within a few of having four times as many enrolled in its courses in January 1945. Business administration, with 453 students, had slightly over three times as many as it had the year before.

AS AMERICAN as Bowling

In cities and towns . . . from Maine to California . . . bowling is an enthusiastically American sport. It is one of the games at which Americans excel . . . a game that requires action and skill . . . a true eye and a swift arm. And . . . after the final score is totalled . . . you're likely to find the game discussed over a glass of cool, refreshing beer. For beer, too, is an old American favorite . . . chosen by good companions the country over.

To every American . . . banker, truck driver, farmer, mechanic, office worker . . . a glass of beer writes a pleasant period to any hard day's work. The right to enjoy this sociable drink of moderation and good sense is part of our American Heritage. It fits right in to the greatest pattern of living in the world . . . America!

Prowlers Eliminated from State Tournament in Finals Saturday

In a dramatic finals game played here Saturday night, Roseau upset the defending champion Prowlers, 6 to 4, to win the eighth regional high school hockey championship, and earn a berth in the state tournament, which begins play this afternoon. Roseau, in a first-round game, will face the White Bear Lake team in the St. Paul Auditorium this evening. In a game for the consolation honors, and played following the championship contest, Warroad outscored Williams, 9 to 3. In the semi-final games on Friday night Roseau defeated Warroad, 8 to 2; while the Prowlers were eliminating a young Williams sextet, 7 to 2.

Coach Connie Stanbridge revised the Prowler lineup for the game against Roseau, moving Les Vigness to a defense position where he paired with Wes Hovie, while the front line had Bud Brossoit at center and Swede Lund and Elroy Skjerping at the wings. And this lineup did apply the "power" during the first period, controlling the play and poking a number of shots at the Roseau goal, but Morris Schille, who turned in a bang-up game in the Roseau nets, warded off all the shots. The game's first tally was recorded at the 12:10 mark in the period when be-goggled Rube Bjorkman, after carrying the puck across the Prowler blue-line, lifted a long shot from near the west side boards that eluded goalie Engelstad and caught the corner of the north goal.

AUDIENCE ENJOYS 4 ONE-ACT PLAYS

High School Actors Provide Enjoyment

The group of four one-act plays, expertly presented in Lincoln high school auditorium Tuesday evening by students in the dramatics department under the direction of Miss Helen Movius, instructor, provided a pleasurable evening's entertainment for the large audience in attendance.

A cast of eight characters did full justice to the creepy situations in "The White Phantom", evoking shrill screams from the juvenile members of the audience. Action in the second play, "Alice's Blue Gown", centered about a missing dress, the all-girl cast giving an excellent presentation.

"Winter Sunset," the only serious play of the group, skillfully told the story of a domestic tragedy, while the final one, "Tin Lie That Jack Built", depicted an entertaining fashion the penalty of duplicity.

ing the installation of warming houses at outdoor rinks.

Fire Chief Roy Langevin was authorized to arrange at no cost to the city for a test of an electric fire siren designed to replace the present compressed air equipment.

A hearing was set for March 12 on the application of S. Salveson for the vacation of a dead-end alley on his property adjoining the city tourist park property. The Times was designated as the official city paper, and the Union State and Northern State banks were approved as city depositories.

Following a discussion of the performance of the snow-bucker equipment powered by an industrial tractor, which was given a tryout in the city this week with a reported marked saving in operating costs as well as increased efficiency, the council voted to call for bids to be opened Friday evening, March 1, on a similar outfit. It was pointed out that the tractor would be available for many other purposes throut the year.

In setting the salary scale for city employees, numerous increases averaging in the neighborhood of $10 a month were made.

Among building permits approved were those of Russell E. Olsen for remodeling a residence to be moved from the Griebstein farm to a new location on State av. near Fifth st. at an estimated cost of $1,500; Stanley Ranum, three more cottages on Merriam av. S. to cost $2,100 each; and N. P. Martinson, residence on Crocker av. S. to cost $2,100.

Due to the lateness of the hour the proposed revision of the city zoning ordinance as prepared by the Lions club in cooperation with other service organizations was laid over for more detailed study.

ROSEAU ELIMINATES PROWLER SEXTET IN REGIONAL TOURNEY

...er goalie with a hard shot from the red-line, and, a minute later, in a scramble in front of the locals' goal, Vern Johnson punched in a goal on a double pass play with Jim Oveson, taking the return pass in front of the Prowler nets to score.

The third period was crammed with excitement for the Prowlers, in the first five minutes of play, were able to tie the score at 4-all. Hovie, after Brossoit had circled the Roseau net and passed out in front of the goal, slapped in the first tally past Schille. And with Harris in the Roseau penalty box, Vigness rushed down the ice and rifled a hard shot into the south goal and thirty seconds later, following a faceoff, Hovie, on a pass from Brossoit, rapped in the tying goal.

The two teams played on even terms until the 10:13 mark when chunky Roy Baumgartner with a long, high shot from the Prowler blue line, hit the upper left hand corner o fthe net for the game-winning score. And with Swede Lund serving a penalty, Roseau's Bob Harris, on a solo, tallied the sixth goal for the green-clad sextet, giving Couch Almquist's team a 6 to 4 win for the regional title.

In the semi-final games Friday night, Roseau, on a pair of unassisted goals by Bob Harris and Tom Ruran, moved into an early lead over the Warroad Warriors. And Harris' two goals in the second period gave Roseau a 4 to 0 lead before Warroad, on Gordy Christian's goal, tallied a counter. Bjorkman's rebound shot, on Oveson's try, brought the roseau lead to 5 to 1.

With twenty seconds of play in the final period, Hans Lightning, on a pass from Sam Gibbons, flipped in Warroad's second goal.

The Prowlers, playing against Williams, were sluggish in the first two periods, with the result that the young Williams sextet was trailing by only a 3 to 1 score as the two teams entered the third period. Wes Hovie was responsible for all of the Prowler goals in the two periods, with Glen McLeod marking up the Williams goal.

Elroy Skjerping's shot, which glanced off Dick Wilson's stick and into the Williams goal, gave the locals a tallying the first thirty seconds of the final period. A pair of goals by Bud Brossoit and a single counter by Les Vigness boosted the Prowler score to 7 to 1. Paul McKinnon, one of the tournament's stand-out defensemen, accounted for Williams second goal, scoring after a solo rush.

Harold Ickes' resignation as secretary of interior is a serious blow to the Truman administration. His statement, "I do not care to stay in an administration where I am expected to commit perjury", is a personal reflection on the integrity of the President himself. Considering the prominence of Mr. Ickes in the Roosevelt administration his charge cannot be easily laughed off and it is especially damaging in view of Mr. Truman's Missouri Pendergast machine background. Apparently the President walked into this break with his eyes open. He must have realized that Mr. Ickes would not take kindly to his insistence that Edwin Pauley be confirmed as undersecretary of the Navy after Ickes had testified Pauley had made him "the rawest offer he had ever heard" in regard to the country's oil holdings. Maybe the President anticipated that would happen and is prepared to battle it out. But maybe he isn't, and if he isn't he is going to be a lonesome man during the remainder of his term.

Speaking on the post war crime problem, J. Edgar Hoover says the crime wave is not a possibility but a reality. It is here already, he reports, and attributes it not so much to returning veterans as to juvenile delinquency during the war years. The crime cycle is just getting nicely under way and the problem of checking it is before us.

New York City's ten day tag boat strike came to an end yesterday. During this ten day period the entire city was put on an emergency basis and important services had been either stopped or curtailed. There is something wrong with our social order when a comparatively small number of men can disrupt a city of eight million people. We must find ways to settle labor disputes in an orderly manner, without violence or threats of violence and without loss of time either to employees or to our machinery of production. If we can settle our civil differences in courts of law then we can also settle disputes over wages and working conditions by peaceable methods. Until we are able to do this our social order will be that of the old West when law and order or lawlessness and disorder were matters to be decided by individuals and determined by the ability of one group to dominate the other by the power of force. It is a primitive form of justice for which there is no justification in a country that calls itself civilized.

The regional hockey tournament held here last week had a bigger gate than did the regional basketball tournament held at Bemidji last year. The net returns after expenses was also greater. That is substantial proof that high school hockey has definitely established itself with the fans of this corner of the state. Here in this community we are confronted with a need for more adequate facilities to handle the crowds. Sardines are not packed closer than were the fans who stood through three periods of thrills at the Arena Saturday night.

A round of cheers to Oscar Almquist's regional champion hockey team and best wishes to the team for success in the state tournament. The Rosser team will give a good accomt of itself at St. Paul and has a good chance to go all the way. It would be nice to have that championship brought back to this corner of the state.

BEMIDJI SCORES DECISIVE VICTORY OVER PROWLERS

Locals to Meet Roseau In Lincoln High School Gym Friday Evening

Hitting the basket with a remarkable percentage of their shots, and outscoring the Prowlers in every period, the Bemidji Lumberjacks rolled up a 50 to 21 win over the locals in a basketball game played on the B. S. T. C. floor in Bemidji Saturday night.

Friday evening Coach Lindenmeyer's team will face another regional threat, meeting Coach Ambrose Kramer's Roseau quint on the high school floor. In a preliminary game, Coach Don Nelson's 'B' squad will tangle with the senior class Kelly Greens, and attempt to reserve a loss suffered earlier in the season.

Vern Gary's two field goals, and two-pointers by Don Seivek, Chet Pawlicki, and Bill Clark boosted the Lumberjacks to an early lead in the game played at Bemidji on Saturday night, with Coach Barnum's regional champions having a 12 to 5 first period advantage. A field goal and a free throw by Ninak Carlson and a field goal by Rog Tunberg, accounted for the Prowler points.

Bemidji continued its red-hot basket shooting in the second period, with Seivek popping in three field goals and Gary adding a pair of goals from the floor, with the result that the Lumberjacks left the floor at the half time intermission holding a 29 to 12 lead. Carlson's two field goals and a one-handed shot by Glen Magnuson, and a gift toss by Magnuson, were the locals point-getters in the period.

Bemidji, with reserves in the lineup, added to their margin in the third and fourth periods, outscoring the locals 12 to 5 in the third period, and 9 to 4 in the fourth period. Jack Andrews, with three field goals, and Bill Clark, with a pair of goals, were the chief Lumberjack scorers in the second half. The Prowlers, though, with Carlson directing the play, continued to scrap for the ball and refused to wilt under the big Bemidji lead. Ninak Carlson, with four field goals and a pair of free throws, was the game's high scorer with 10 points. Vern Gary and Don Seivek, with 8 points each, were high scorers for Coach Barnum's squad.

CROOKSTON MEETS SR. HOCKEY TEAM IN ARENA TONIGHT

Local Sextet to Meet Emerson at Hallock Sunday Afternoon

The senior hockey Thieves, flushed as a result of a six-game winning streak, will endeavor to add a pair of games to their victory skein this week, meeting the Crookston Pirates this evening and meeting a fast-skating Emerson, Manitoba, sextet on Sunday afternoon. The game with the Pirates will be played on the Arena rink, while the contest with Emerson will be played at Hallock.

In a slam-bang game played at Crookston on Sunday, the Thieves, re-inforced by the the presence of such erstwhile Prowlers as Bud Brossolt and Wes Hovie, edged out the Pirates, 7 to 6, in an overtime contest. The two former Prowler co-captains were instrumental in the locals' win, with Brossolt scoring a goal and assisting on another, while Hovie was credited with a pair of assists.

The absence of goalie Kermit Maidment from the Thieves lineup forced Coach Bill Gray to send lanky Lloyd Johnson into the nets. And Lloyd, formerly a center-ice player with the old Flornets, turned in a first-rate game, although there were occasions when he strolled out of his nets nearly to the blue-line.

TOWSEND CLUB TO MEET NEXT SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Best Team Won

The majority of the fans seem to be agreed that Roseau, the winner was the best team in the regional hockey tournament here last week end that they deserved to win the title and represent that region in the state meet. But it is agreed, too, that while Roseau had the better team, the Prowlers were perhaps possessing the better individual players. And the fact that the locals were more capable and polished individually probably was one reason that caused the prowlers to lose the final game to a team that they had twice beaten during the season, for the boys appeared to be too individual-play minded. Coaches Connie Stanbridge and Bernie Broderick, and especially these past few weeks, had endeavored to get the boys to concentrate on team play and passing plays, but it was to no avail for the Prowlers continued in their solo-rush style.

It's too bad that the Prowlers were upset for they would have looked fine on that large St. Paul Auditorium ice, but they haven't anyone to blame for the loss but themselves, and it may be a lesson to the young fellows who are to return for more years of high school hockey. Roseau's Oscar Almquist must have realized a month ago when his team lost a 5 to 0 decision to the Prowlers, that his club wasn't able to match the locals in individual play and that the only chance he'd have would be to drill the Roseau sextet in combination play and streaking team play. Oscar had the right idea and it paid off Saturday night.

Well, we'll wish Roseau lots of luck in the state tourney and hope that Oscar reaches the finals, and against Eveleth, for then it will be a case of pupil meeting tutor, for Oscar learned his high school hockey under Eveleth's Cliff Thompson.

The All-Regional

The consensus of the "experts" in attendance at the games on Friday and Saturday is that the all-regional hockey squad would line up something like this: goalie, Morris Schille of Roseau; at defense, Paul McKinnon of Williams, Wes Hovie of the Prowlers, and Lowell Ulvin of Roseau; at the wings, Bud Brossolt of the Prowlers, Bob Harris of Roseau, and Gordy Christian and Max Oslie of Warroad; and at center, Rube Bjorkman of Roseau and Les Vignese of the Prowlers.

And of these players, the most outstanding, and the boy that caused most of the tournament comment, was big Paul McKinnon of Williams. Paul, a junior in school, is a younger brother of last year's all-regional Dan McKinnon. And Paul's kid brother, Johnny, played center-ice on the all-freshman line that Williams put on the ice. Paul was tremendously effective on defense, possessing wonderful balance, as the boys who tried to bump him over learned. And Paul develops plenty of power when he rushes down the ice, too, being able to crash through the defense when necessary. He'll be a problem for the rest of the region to solve next year.

And pressing McKinnon closely for tournament starring honors was Roseau's good-natured Rube Bjorkman, the center ice player who looked like a man from Mars with those goggles he wears. Rube played his position perfectly, always being in the right spot to receive a pass from his wings or from the defense, and when the boys would check him solidly, Rube would get up with a grin and bounce back into the play.

Some More Roseau

—And the Prowler basketball team on Friday night, will be up against some Roseau competition, meeting Coach Ambrose Kramer's well-rated team. Local fans, in witnessing the Roseau five in action, will be seeing the team that is causing the Bemidji Lumberjacks some uneasy moments. Several weeks ago, in a game at Bemidji, the Lumberjacks were barely able to stave off a last period rally by Roseau and win a 36 to 35 decision over Coach Kramer's team.

Coach in an exponent of the "firewagon" style of basketball, and in Luther Siegland, Mike Delmore, and Bill Benson, he has the boys that can play that type of ball. The Prowlers are due for a strenous evening on Friday night.

ANNOUNCE CATTLE SLAUGHTER RULES

New OPA Regulations Effective This Month

Of interest to 700 slaughters and from 50 to 100 cattle buyers in the Fargo-Moorhead OPA district is an amendment to the maximum price regulation covering slaughtering operations, according to Walter T. Kack, district meat price specialist.

"Anyone slaughtering five or more animals in a monthly reporting period and more or less than 50,000 pounds, live weight, must execute the drove-ceiling-costs-on-live-cattle form and file two copies with district office," Kack stated.

Drove ceiling cost is the average cost of all cattle purchased during any reporting period.

"Drove ceilings have been reduced approximately $1.40 on the live weight, when reported on a percentage dress-out (not weight) basis," the price specialist said, "thus bringing ceilings more in line with the maximum and minimum ceiling prices established on graded beef.

"Anyone selling cattle for any purpose which exempts the animals from the provisions of the maximum price regulation—such as breeding, feeding or exhibition—must obtain a statement from the buyer showing the cattle will be used only for those purposes.

"In order to make violations even more difficult," Kack concludes, "a slaughterer must tag each of the four quarters of every carcass with the serial number of the carcass, date of slaughter, and the hot dressed weight (or if not available, the chilled dressed weight)."

A series of educational meetings throughout the district are being scheduled for Kack in order that the provisions of the regulation, especially the new amendment which became effective Feb. 4, can be explained in detail.

He resumed his local employment as a butcher, cut his hand, and was laidup with an infection. Then a knife slipped and six stitches were taken above his knee. Back on the job, an overhead rope caught an axe the veteran was swinging, and a badly wounded head required another period of recuperation.

TRAFFIC KILLS 33 DURING JANUARY

32 Deaths Occurred in January Last Year

Thirty-three persons were killed in motor vehicle traffic accidents in Minnesota in January, the state highway department reports. This was one more than in January, 1945, in view of the large increase in fatalities in other post-war months, the small increase in January is considered encouraging.

Eighteen of the 33 deaths resulted from accidents occuring within municipal limits and 15 from accidents on rural roads. Only 11 of the 33 deaths resulted from daytime accidents.

Seventeen of the 33 victims were pedestrians, 12 of them persons from 45 to 89 years old, three between 25 and 40 years old and two aged ten or under.

Reports on the fatal pedestrian accidents recited such circumstances as "walking in middle of the road," "ran in front of bus," "walked into car," "ran in front of car," "lying in street," "walked around rear of street car," "pushing stalled car," "hit while crossing road after a collision," and "trying to hitch ride on a truck." Windshields obscured by frost or snow, glaring lights or approaching cars, inability of drivers to see dark clad pedestrians, and "overdriving headlights," were also contributing causes.

State Highway Funds Earn $592,000 Interest in Three-year Period

Minnesota has collected $592,148 interest on state trunk highway funds invested in U. S. government securities in the three-year period ending December 31, 1945, according to figures released by M. J. Hoffman, commissioner of highways. This amount will be added to funds being held for post-war trunk highway construction.

The post-war reserve fund was largely accumulated in the early part of the war, when curtailment of construction came more suddenly than the drop in revenue from the motor vehicle and gas taxes. The 1943 legislature authorized investment of the reserve funds in interest bearing government securities.

It was expected that the post-war reserve fund would all be used in the first two post-war years to match federal aid allotments for highway construction. Uncertainty as to labor, material and equipment has delayed start of post-war construction. This delay will prolong the time the funds are invested and increase the final interest total.

A total of $74,100 interest had accrued to the end of 1945 on investments from the state road and bridge fund. This will be added to current receipts for future allotment to the counties.
